Beginning on January 1, 2021, as permitted by regulations adopted by the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission, the Funds intend to no longer mail paper copies of the Funds' annual and semi-annual shareholder reports, unless you specifically request paper copies of the reports from the Funds or from your financial intermediary, such as a broker-dealer or bank. Instead, the reports will be made available on a website (<https://funds.aqr.com>), and you will be notified by mail each time a report is posted and provided with a website link to access the report.

If you already elected to receive shareholder reports electronically, you will not be affected by this change and you need not take any action. You may elect to receive shareholder reports and other communications from the Funds electronically by contacting your financial intermediary or, if you purchased your Fund shares through the Funds' transfer agent ALPS Fund Services, Inc., by calling (866) 290-2688.

You may elect to receive all future reports in paper free of charge. You can inform your financial intermediary or the Funds that you wish to continue receiving paper copies of your shareholder reports by contacting your financial intermediary or, if you purchased your Fund shares through the Funds' transfer agent ALPS Fund Services, Inc., by calling (866) 290-2688. Your election to receive reports in paper will apply to all AQR Funds held with the fund complex if you purchased your Fund shares through the Funds' transfer agent ALPS Fund Services, Inc., or all AQR Funds held in your account if you invest through a financial intermediary.

Dear Shareholder:

The AQR Large Cap Multi-Style Fund (the “Fund”) invests in stocks of attractively valued U.S. large and mid-cap companies that have positive momentum and strong quality. The Fund is not actively managed to outperform a growth, value or core benchmark. Rather, it seeks to provide systematic exposure to stocks that rank high on a combined score of Value, Momentum and Quality styles.

For the one-year period ended September 30, 2020, the Fund returned 10.30% while the Russell 1000® Total Return Index (the “Benchmark”) returned 16.01%. The Fund’s underperformance was driven primarily by stock selection within the financials (-1.8%) and industrials (-1.6%) sectors and was partially offset by positive performance within information technology (0.9%).

Over the course of the period, the Fund’s largest active positions included sector overweights to information technology (5.8%) and consumer discretionary (3.9%), while the portfolio was underweight energy (-3.5%) and industrials (-3.5%).

The global COVID-19 crisis had a material impact on global equity markets during the first quarter of 2020 and continues to do so in many respects to date. In February and March, the MSCI ACWI Index (net total return, USD) lost as much as 31.1%, while the S&P 500 Index lost as much as -30.4%<sup>1</sup>. The VIX index which measures expected volatility of the S&P 500 index reached a 10-year high of more than 82 (from a prior level of approximately 18 on January 31). From February through April, a series of global market interventions occurred, which included government stimulus programs, restrictions on stock shorting, delays of some financial reporting, and others. As of September 30, 2020, many countries in both developed and emerging markets have continued to maintain travel and business restrictions, as the COVID-19 pandemic continues to impact the global economy.

At AQR, we employ a variety of means to monitor markets and assess portfolio risk on a continual basis. The equity portfolios that form our investment strategies maintain extensive levels of diversification (at the security, industry, and where applicable country level), strict risk controls, and independent risk monitoring. We maintain a systematic equity portfolio management process that considers moderate position-level exposures, and portfolio liquidity. Our portfolio management and research teams, in coordination with our implementation team and independent risk team, have long employed measures to assess portfolio performance during uncertain and volatile periods, and to monitor the higher levels of market and active portfolio volatility to determine if intervention is necessary. Our experience during the recent COVID-19 environment, as with other past volatile and uncertain periods, is that we have been able to successfully maintain portfolio liquidity, and to execute our strategies effectively, while making adjustments where necessary to limit active portfolio risk. We will continue to remain vigilant as the COVID-19 pandemic remains a potential factor within the global equity market environment.

Dear Shareholder:

The AQR TM Small Cap Multi-Style Fund (the “Fund”) invests in stocks of attractively valued U.S. small cap companies that have positive momentum and strong quality. The Fund is not actively managed to outperform a growth, value or core benchmark. Rather, it seeks to provide systematic exposure to stocks that rank high on a combined score of Value, Momentum and Quality styles. The Fund employs a tax management strategy which considers the potential impact of taxes on investment return.

For the one-year period ended September 30, 2020, the Fund returned -1.34% while the Russell 2000® Total Return Index (the “Benchmark”) returned 0.39%. The Fund's underperformance was driven primarily by stock selection within the healthcare (-2.1%) and industrials (-1.3%) sectors and was partially offset by positive performance within financials (0.9%).

Over the course of the period, the Fund's largest active positions included sector overweights to industrials (4.7%) and information technology (2.6%); the portfolio was underweight real estate (-3.6%) and utilities (-2.0%).

The global COVID-19 crisis had a material impact on global equity markets during the first quarter of 2020 and continues to do so in many respects to date. In February and March, the MSCI ACWI Index (net total return, USD) lost as much as 31.1%, while the S&P 500 Index lost as much as -30.4%<sup>1</sup>. The VIX index which measures expected volatility of the S&P 500 index reached a 10-year high of more than 82 (from a prior level of approximately 18 on January 31). From February through April, a series of global market interventions occurred, which included government stimulus programs, restrictions on stock shorting, delays of some financial reporting, and others. As of September 30, 2020, many countries in both developed and emerging markets have continued to maintain travel and business restrictions, as the COVID-19 pandemic continues to impact the global economy.

At AQR, we employ a variety of means to monitor markets and assess portfolio risk on a continual basis. The equity portfolios that form our investment strategies maintain extensive levels of diversification (at the security, industry, and where applicable country level), strict risk controls, and independent risk monitoring. We maintain a systematic equity portfolio management process that considers moderate position-level exposures, and portfolio liquidity. Our portfolio management and research teams, in coordination with our implementation team and independent risk team, have long employed measures to assess portfolio performance during uncertain and volatile periods, and to monitor the higher levels of market and active portfolio volatility to determine if intervention is necessary. Our experience during the recent COVID-19 environment, as with other past volatile and uncertain periods, is that we have been able to successfully maintain portfolio liquidity, and to execute our strategies effectively, while making adjustments where necessary to limit active portfolio risk. We will continue to remain vigilant as the COVID-19 pandemic remains a potential factor within the global equity market environment.

Dear Shareholder:

The AQR TM Large Cap Momentum Style Fund (the “Fund”) invests in stocks of large and mid-cap U.S. companies with positive momentum. The Fund is not actively managed to outperform a growth, value or core benchmark. The Fund employs a tax management strategy which considers the potential impact of taxes on investment return.

For the period ended September 30, 2020, the Fund returned 21.37% while the Russell 1000® Total Return Index (the “Benchmark”) returned 16.01%. The Fund’s outperformance was driven primarily by sector selection. An overweight to information technology (2.6%) and underweight to energy (2.1%) sectors were the largest contributors. Stock Selection also aided outperformance, within communication services (0.6%) and health care (0.6%) sectors.

Over the course of the period, the Fund’s largest active positions included sector overweights to information technology (9.3%) and real estate (1.3%); the portfolio was underweight financials (-5.5%) and energy (-3.0%).

The global COVID-19 crisis had a material impact on global equity markets during the first quarter of 2020 and continues to do so in many respects to date. In February and March, the MSCI ACWI Index (net total return, USD) lost as much as 31.1%, while the S&P 500 Index lost as much as -30.4%<sup>1</sup>. The VIX index which measures expected volatility of the S&P 500 index reached a 10-year high of more than 82 (from a prior level of approximately 18 on January 31). From February through April, a series of global market interventions occurred, which included government stimulus programs, restrictions on stock shorting, delays of some financial reporting, and others. As of September 30, 2020, many countries in both developed and emerging markets have continued to maintain travel and business restrictions, as the COVID-19 pandemic continues to impact the global economy.

At AQR, we employ a variety of means to monitor markets and assess portfolio risk on a continual basis. The equity portfolios that form our investment strategies maintain extensive levels of diversification (at the security, industry, and where applicable country level), strict risk controls, and independent risk monitoring. We maintain a systematic equity portfolio management process that considers moderate position-level exposures, and portfolio liquidity. Our portfolio management and research teams, in coordination with our implementation team and independent risk team, have long employed measures to assess portfolio performance during uncertain and volatile periods, and to monitor the higher levels of market and active portfolio volatility to determine if intervention is necessary. Our experience during the recent COVID-19 environment, as with other past volatile and uncertain periods, is that we have been able to successfully maintain portfolio liquidity, and to execute our strategies effectively, while making adjustments where necessary to limit active portfolio risk. We will continue to remain vigilant as the COVID-19 pandemic remains a potential factor within the global equity market environment.

AQR LARGE CAP DEFENSIVE STYLE FUND

Michele Aghassi
Principal

Dear Shareholder:

The AQR Large Cap Defensive Style Fund (the “Fund”) pursues a defensive strategy in the U.S. market, meaning it seeks to participate in rising equity markets while mitigating downside risk in declining markets. To achieve this objective, the Fund invests in a broadly diversified set of large/mid-cap companies that we believe to be profitable, stable, low-risk businesses. The Fund also favors lower beta stocks, which tend to be less sensitive to fluctuations in the overall economy and the stock market. We expect lower beta stocks to produce higher risk-adjusted returns than higher beta stocks over the long term.

Andrea Frazzini
Principal

For the one-year period ended September 30, 2020, the Fund returned 10.21% while the Russell 1000® Total Return Index (the “Benchmark”) returned 16.01%. The Fund’s underperformance was driven primarily by sector selection. An underweight to information technology (-2.3%) and overweight to financials (-1.2%) sectors were the largest detractors.

Over the course of the period, the Fund’s largest active positions included sector overweights to consumer staples (8.5%) and utilities (6.8%); the portfolio was underweight information technology (-9.2%) and communication services (-4.4%).

The global COVID-19 crisis had a material impact on global equity markets during the first quarter of 2020 and continues to do so in many respects to date. In February and March, the MSCI ACWI Index (net total return, USD) lost as much as 31.1%, while the S&P 500 Index lost as much as -30.4%<sup>1</sup>. The VIX index which measures expected volatility of the S&P 500 index reached a 10-year high of more than 82 (from a prior level of approximately 18 on January 31). From February through April, a series of global market interventions occurred, which included government stimulus programs, restrictions on stock shorting, delays of some financial reporting, and others. As of September 30, 2020, many countries in both developed and emerging markets have continued to maintain travel and business restrictions, as the COVID-19 pandemic continues to impact the global economy.

At AQR, we employ a variety of means to monitor markets and assess portfolio risk on a continual basis. The equity portfolios that form our investment strategies maintain extensive levels of diversification (at the security, industry, and where applicable country level), strict risk controls, and independent risk monitoring. We maintain a systematic equity portfolio management process that considers moderate position-level exposures, and portfolio liquidity. Our portfolio management and research teams, in coordination with our implementation team and independent risk team, have long employed measures to assess portfolio performance during uncertain and volatile periods, and to monitor the higher levels of market and active portfolio volatility to determine if intervention is necessary. Our experience during the recent COVID-19 environment, as with other past volatile and uncertain periods, is that we have been able to successfully maintain portfolio liquidity, and to execute our strategies effectively, while making adjustments where necessary to limit active portfolio risk. We will continue to remain vigilant as the COVID-19 pandemic remains a potential factor within the global equity market environment.

Dear Shareholder:

The AQR Global Equity Fund (the “Fund”) is actively managed, and it seeks to outperform its benchmark in three ways: by selecting stocks within each country and by using futures and forwards contracts to over-and under-weight countries and currencies relative to the benchmark.

For the one-year period ended September 30, 2020, the Fund returned 6.48% while the MSCI Daily TR Net World Index (the “Benchmark”) returned 10.41%. The portfolio's underperformance was driven primarily by stock selection (-1.6%), country selection (-1.4%), and currency selection (-0.1%).

Specifically, within the stock selection strategy, stock selection within industries (-5.3%) contributed most to negative performance, with the main drivers being within the financials (-2.0%) and industrials (-1.5%) sectors.

Over the course of the period, the Fund's largest active positions within the stock selection strategy included overweights to the information technology (5.3%) and health care (3.4%) sectors; the portfolio was underweight energy (-3.1%) and communication services (-2.7%).

Utilization of derivative instruments is inherent to the Fund's principal investment strategies. During the fiscal year ended September 30, 2020, the Fund's use of derivative instruments in accordance with its principal investment strategies did not cause the Fund's performance to materially deviate from AQR's performance expectations for the Fund under the market conditions experienced over this period.

The global COVID-19 crisis had a material impact on global equity markets during the first quarter of 2020 and continues to do so in many respects to date. In February and March, the MSCI ACWI Index (net total return, USD) lost as much as 31.1%, while the S&P 500 Index lost as much as -30.4%<sup>1</sup>. - * Annualized for periods less than one year.
- <sup>1</sup> Per share net investment income (loss) and net realized and unrealized gain (loss) are based on average shares outstanding.
- <sup>2</sup> Includes adjustments in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America and as such, the net asset value for financial reporting purposes and the returns based upon those net asset values may differ from the net asset value and returns for shareholder transactions.
- <sup>3</sup> Total investment return is calculated assuming an initial investment made at the net asset value at the beginning of the period, reinvestment of all dividends and distributions at net asset value during the period and redemption on the last day of the period and is not annualized.
- <sup>4</sup> Ratios do not include the impact of the expenses of the underlying funds in which the Funds invests.
- <sup>5</sup> Portfolio turnover is not annualized.
- <sup>6</sup> For the period ended September 30, 2019 certain Funds received special dividends. Had these special dividends not been received the Net Investment Income Per Share and Net Investment Income Ratio would have been as follows:

2. Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Preparation: The Funds are investment companies and apply specialized accounting and reporting guidance of the Financial Accounting Standards Board Accounting Standard Codification Topic 946 Financial Services—Investment Companies. The accounting policies are in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (“GAAP”).

Use of Estimates: The preparation of the financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires the Adviser to make estimates and assumptions that affect the fair value of investments, the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities, if any, at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of increases and decreases in net assets from operations during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates and such differences could be material.

Valuation of Investments: All securities and other investments are recorded at their estimated fair value, as described in Note 4.

Cash: Cash comprises U.S. Dollar and foreign currency deposits held at a custodian bank(s) which may exceed insured limits. The Funds are subject to risk to the extent that the institutions may be unable to fulfill their obligations.

Due to/from Brokers: Due to/from brokers represents cash balances on deposit with, or cash balances owed to, the Funds' prime brokers and counterparties. The Funds are subject to credit risk should the prime brokers and counterparties be unable to meet their obligations to the Funds.

Foreign Currency Translation: The books and records of the Funds are maintained in U.S. Dollars. Foreign denominated assets and liabilities are translated into U.S. Dollars at the prevailing exchange rate at the valuation date. Transactions denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. Dollars at the prevailing exchange rate on the date of the transaction. The Funds' income earned and expense incurred in foreign denominated currencies are translated into U.S. Dollars at the prevailing exchange rate on the date of such activity.

The Funds do not separately disclose that portion of the results of operations arising from changes in the foreign exchange rates on investments and derivatives from the fluctuations that result from changes in the market prices of investments and derivatives held or sold during the period. Accordingly, such foreign currency gains (losses) are included in the reported net realized gain (loss) from transactions in investment securities and derivatives and net change in unrealized appreciation (depreciation) on investment securities and derivatives on the Statements of Operations.

Realized gains (losses) from settlement of foreign currency and foreign currency transactions reported on the Statements of Operations arise from the disposition of foreign currency and a change between the amounts of dividends, interest and foreign withholding taxes recorded on the Funds' books on the transaction date and the U.S. Dollar equivalent of the amounts actually received or paid. Changes in unrealized appreciation (depreciation) on foreign currency and foreign currency translations reported on the Statements of Operations arise from changes (due to the changes in the exchange rate) in the value of foreign currency and assets and liabilities (other than investments) denominated in foreign currencies, which are held at period end.

Investment Transactions and Related Income: Investment transactions are accounted for on trade date (the date the order to buy or sell is executed). Realized gains and losses on investment transactions are calculated on a specifically identified cost basis. Interest income is recorded on an accrual basis using the effective interest method, which results in coupon interest being adjusted for amortization of premiums and accretion of discounts, when applicable. Dividend income (expense) net of foreign taxes withheld, if any, is recorded on the ex-dividend date or when the Fund first learns of the ex-date dividend notification. The Funds may file withholding tax reclaims in certain jurisdictions to recover a portion of amounts previously withheld. As a result of rulings from European courts, the Funds filed for additional reclaims related to prior years. Income recognized, if any, for European Union ("EU") reclaims is reflected as dividend income in the Statements of Operations. These reclaims are recorded when the amount is known and there are no significant uncertainties on collectability. Upon notification from issuers, some of the dividend income received from a real estate investment trust may be redesignated as a reduction of cost of the related investment and/or realized gain.

Multi-class Operations: Each class of shares offered by the Trust has equal rights as to earnings, assets and voting privileges, except that each class may bear different sub-transfer agency and distribution fees and shareholders of a class have exclusive voting rights regarding any matter relating solely to that class of shares. Income, non-class specific expenses, realized and unrealized gains and losses are allocated daily to each class of shares based upon the proportion of relative net assets at the beginning of each day. The Funds are charged for those expenses that are directly attributable to each Fund. Trust level expenses are allocated among the Funds based on the ratio of average net assets or other reasonable methodology.

Certain Funds may invest in other investment companies, including affiliated funds, and, as a result, indirectly bear a portion of the advisory and operating expenses incurred by these entities. Such expenses are not reflected in the expenses shown on the Statements of Operations and are not included in the ratios to average net assets shown on the Financial Highlights.

The Funds record distributions received in excess of income from underlying investments as a reduction of cost of investments and/or realized gain. Such amounts are based on estimates (if actual amounts are not available) and actual amounts of income, realized gain and return of capital may differ from the estimated amounts. The Funds adjust the estimated amounts of components of distributions (and consequently net investment income) as necessary once the issuers provide information about the actual composition of the distributions.

The Funds may be subject to foreign taxes on income, capital gains on investments or currency repatriation, a portion of which may be recoverable. The Funds will accrue such taxes and recoveries as applicable, based upon their current interpretation of tax rules and regulations that exist in the markets in which they invest.

Federal Income Taxes: Each Fund is treated as a separate taxable entity for federal income tax purposes. Each Fund intends to qualify as a "regulated investment company" under Subchapter M of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"). If so qualified, each Fund will not be subject to federal income tax to the extent it distributes substantially all of its net investment income and capital gains to shareholders. Accordingly no provision for Federal income tax is necessary.

The Adviser evaluates tax positions taken or expected to be taken in the course of preparing the Funds' tax returns to determine whether the tax positions are "more-likely-than-not" to be sustained if challenged by the applicable tax authority. Tax positions deemed to meet more-likely-than-not threshold would be recorded as a tax benefit or expense in the current year. The Funds are required to analyze all open tax years. Open tax years are those years that are open for examination by the relevant income taxing authority. The Funds have determined that there is no tax liability/benefit resulting from uncertain income tax positions taken or expected to be taken for any of the Funds' open tax years. The Funds are not aware of any tax positions for which it is reasonably possible that the total amounts of unrecognized tax expense/benefit will materially change in the next twelve months. The returns of the Funds for the prior three fiscal years as well as current year, or since inception if shorter, are open for examination. As of September 30, 2020, the Funds had no examinations in progress.

Distributions to Shareholders: Distributions to shareholders are recorded on the ex-dividend date. The Funds intend to declare and distribute substantially all of their net investment income and net realized capital gains, if any, at least annually. Income and capital gain distributions will be determined in accordance with federal income tax regulations which may differ from GAAP. Differences may be permanent or temporary. Permanent differences are reclassified among capital accounts in the financial statements to reflect their tax character. Temporary differences arise when certain items of income, expense, gain, or loss are recognized in different periods for financial statement and tax purposes. These differences will reverse at some time in the future. Differences in classification may also result from the treatment of short-term gains as ordinary income for tax purposes. As a result, income dividends and capital gain distributions declared during a fiscal period may differ significantly from the net investment income (loss) and realized gain (loss) reported on the Funds' financial statements presented under GAAP.

Distributions classified as a tax basis return of capital, if any, are reflected on the Statements of Changes in Net Assets and have been recorded to paid in capital.

Indemnification: In the normal course of business, the Funds may enter into various agreements that provide for general indemnifications. The Funds' maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown as any potential exposure involves future claims that may be made against the Funds. However, based on experience, the Funds expect the risk of loss to be remote.

3. Securities and Other Investments

Affiliate Investments: Certain investments may be classified as an affiliate or a controlled affiliate of the Funds on the Schedule of Investments. Section 2a-3 of the 1940 Act defines an affiliate as, among other things, a company in which a Fund owns at least 5% of the outstanding voting securities. Further, pursuant to the 1940 Act, control is presumed to exist when, among other things, a Fund owns more than 25% of the outstanding voting securities of portfolio company.

Additionally, certain Funds may invest in the Limited Purpose Cash Investment Fund (the "LPCI Fund"), which is managed by UBS Asset Management (Americas) Inc. The LPCI Fund is a registered investment company under the 1940 Act and is subject to the money market regulations as prescribed in Rule 2a-7 of the 1940 Act. Pursuant to the LPCI Fund's eligibility requirements, shares of the LPCI Fund are only available for sale to the Adviser and funds advised by the Adviser. The LPCI Fund may be considered an affiliated issuer of some of the Funds in the Trust. However, the Funds do not invest in the LPCI Fund for the purpose of exercising significant influence over its management, board or policies. A summary of transactions with each affiliated issuer is included in the Schedules of Investments, if applicable.

Futures Contracts: Certain Funds invest in futures contracts as part of their primary investment strategy and to equitize its cash flows. Investments in futures may increase or decrease exposure to a particular market. In the event of a bankruptcy or insolvency of a futures commission merchant that holds margin on behalf of the Funds, the Funds may not receive the return of the entire margin owed to the Funds, potentially resulting in a loss. A change in market value of an open futures contract is recorded in the Statements of Operations as net change in unrealized appreciation (depreciation) on futures contracts. A realized gain (loss) represents the difference between the value of the contract at the time it was opened and the value at the time it was closed or expired, and is reported in the Statements of Operations. The use of long futures contracts subjects the Funds to risk of loss in excess of the variation margin on the Statements of Assets and Liabilities. The use of short futures contracts subjects the Funds to unlimited risk of loss. Futures contracts outstanding at period end, if any, are listed after each Fund's Schedule of Investments.

Forward Foreign Currency Exchange Contracts: Certain Funds buy and sell forward foreign currency exchange contracts, which are agreements between two parties to buy and sell currencies at a set price on a future date. These contracts are used to protect against a decline in value relative to the U.S. Dollar of the currencies in which portfolio securities are denominated or quoted (or an increase in the value of a currency in which securities that a Fund intends to buy are denominated, when a Fund holds cash reserves and short term investments), or for other investment purposes. The market value of the contract will fluctuate with changes in currency exchange rates. The contract is marked to market daily and the change in market value is recorded as unrealized appreciation or depreciation. When the contract is closed, the Funds record a realized gain or loss equal to the difference between the value of the contract at the time it was opened and the value at the time it was closed. The Funds could be exposed to risk if the value of the currency changes unfavorably, if the counterparties to the contracts are unable to meet the terms of their contracts or if the Funds are unable to enter into a closing position. Risks may exceed amounts recognized on the Statements of Assets and Liabilities. Non-deliverable forward foreign currency exchange contracts are settled with the counterparty in U.S. Dollars without the delivery of foreign currency. Forward foreign currency exchange contracts outstanding at period end, if any, are listed after each Fund's Schedule of Investments.

Swap Contracts: Certain Funds engage in various swap transactions to manage risks within their portfolios or as alternatives to direct investments. Swap transactions may be privately negotiated in the over-the-counter ("OTC") market where payments are settled through direct payments between a Fund and the counterparty. By contrast, certain swap transactions are subject to mandatory central clearing ("centrally cleared swaps"). These swaps are executed through a derivatives clearing member ("DCM"), acting in an agency capacity, and submitted to a central counterparty ("CCP"), in which case all payments are settled through the CCP through the DCM. For centrally cleared swaps, the Schedules of Investments include the cumulative appreciation (depreciation), while only the current day's variation margin is reported within the Statements of Assets and Liabilities. For credit default and interest rate contracts, an upfront payment received by a Fund is recorded as a liability and an upfront payment made by a Fund is recorded as an asset on the Fund's Statement of Assets and Liabilities. Upfront payments are amortized over the term of the contract. If there is no upfront payment or receipt, market value will equal unrealized appreciation (depreciation). Payments received (paid) by a Fund are recorded as realized gains (losses) from the expiration at a periodic reset date or closing of swap contracts in the Statements of Operations. The Funds' use of swap contracts create additional risks beyond those that would exist if the Funds invested in the underlying positions directly.

Total Return Swap Contracts: Certain Funds invest in total return swaps to obtain exposure to the underlying referenced instruments, obtain leverage or attain the returns from ownership without actually owning the underlying position. Total return swaps are two-party contracts that generally obligate one party to pay the positive return and the other party to pay the negative return on a specified reference security, security index or index component during the period of the swap. Total return swap contracts are marked to market daily and the change, if any, is recorded as net change in appreciation (depreciation) on swap contracts in the Statements of Operations. Total return swaps normally do not involve the delivery of securities or other underlying assets. If the counterparty to a total return swap contract defaults, a Fund's risk of loss consists of the net amount of payments the Fund is contractually entitled to receive, if any. The use of long total return swap contracts subject the Funds to risk of loss in excess of the amounts shown on the Statements of Assets and Liabilities. The use of short total return swaps subject the Funds to potential unlimited loss. Periodic payments received (paid) by the Funds are recorded as realized gains (losses) from the expiration or closing of swap contracts in the Statements of Operations. Total return swap contracts outstanding at period end, if any, are listed after each Fund's Schedule of Investments.

Securities Lending: Certain Funds may lend securities to qualified borrowers approved by the Adviser in order to generate additional income. Securities loaned are collateralized by cash or securities issued by the U.S. Treasury valued at 102% to 105% of the market value of the securities on loan. The Funds may invest cash collateral in money market funds as indicated on the Schedule of Investments. The Funds bear the risk of loss associated with the collateral investments and are not entitled to additional collateral from the borrower to cover any such losses.

Daily market fluctuations could cause the value of loaned securities to be more or less than the value of the collateral received. When this occurs, the collateral is adjusted and settled on the next business day. Securities lending also involves counterparty risks, including the risk that the loaned securities may not be returned in a timely manner or at all. In the event of a default by a borrower with respect to any loan, the lending agent will exercise any and all remedies provided under the applicable borrower agreement to make the Funds whole. If, despite such efforts by the lending agent to exercise these remedies, the Funds sustain losses as a result of a borrower's default, the lending agent indemnifies the Funds by purchasing replacement securities at its expense, or paying the Funds an amount equal to the market value of the replacement securities, subject to certain limitations which are set forth in the Securities Lending Agency Agreement between the Funds and the lending agent. Non-cash collateral received, if any, is disclosed in a footnote to the Schedules of Investments for each Fund. Securities lending income, net on the Statements of Operations represents fees charged to borrowers plus income earned on invested cash collateral, less expenses associated with the loan. Certain of the securities on loan may have been sold prior to the close of the reporting period and are included in Receivables for Securities Sold on the Statements of Assets and Liabilities.

Security loans can be terminated at the discretion of either the lending agent or the Fund and the related securities must be returned within the earlier of the standard trade settlement period for such securities or within three business days. At period end, Funds with investments securities on loan disclose the balance of such securities on loan in the footnotes to the Schedule of Investments. The fair value of the Funds' investment securities on loan and a related liability for collateral received on securities loaned are both presented gross on the Statements of Assets and Liabilities.

Master Agreements: Certain Funds are parties to master netting arrangements with counterparties ("Master Agreements"). Master Agreements govern the terms of certain like transactions and reduce the counterparty risk associated with relevant transactions by specifying payment netting mechanisms across multiple transactions and providing standardization that improves legal certainty. Since different types of transactions have different mechanics and are sometimes traded by different legal entities of a particular counterparty organization, each type of transaction may be covered by a different Master Agreement, resulting in the need for multiple Master Agreements with a counterparty and its affiliates.

As the Master Agreements are specific to unique operations of different asset types, they allow the Funds to i.) close out and net their total exposure to a counterparty in the event of a default with respect to all the transactions governed under a single Master Agreement with a counterparty, ii.) exit transactions through means other than sale, such as through a negotiated agreement with the Funds' counterparty, a transfer to another party, or close out of the position through execution of an offsetting transaction.

Prime Broker Arrangements may be entered into to facilitate execution and/or clearing of equities, bonds, equity options or short sales of securities between certain Funds and selected counterparties. These arrangements provide financing terms for such transactions and include guidelines surrounding the rights, obligations, and other events, including, but not limited to, margin, execution, and settlement. These agreements maintain provisions for payments, maintenance of collateral, events of default, and termination. Margin and other assets delivered as collateral are typically held by the prime broker and offset any obligations due to the prime broker.

Customer Account Agreements govern cleared derivatives transactions and exchange-traded futures and options transactions. Upon entering into an exchange-traded or centrally cleared derivative contract, the Funds are required to deposit with the relevant clearing organization cash or securities, which are referred to as the initial margin. Securities deposited as initial margin are designated on the Schedules of Investments and cash deposited is recorded as Deposits with brokers for centrally cleared swaps and Deposits with brokers for futures contracts on the Statements of Assets and Liabilities. For exchange-traded futures or centrally cleared swaps, initial margin is posted, and daily changes in fair value are recorded as a payable or receivable on the Statements of Assets and Liabilities as Variation margin on centrally cleared swaps and Variation margin on futures contracts. Variation margin is determined separately for exchange-traded futures and centrally cleared swaps and cannot be netted.

International Swaps and Derivatives Association, Inc. Master Agreements and Credit Support Annexes ("ISDA Master Agreements") govern OTC derivative transactions entered into between certain Funds and a counterparty. ISDA Master Agreements maintain provisions for general obligations, representations, netting of settlement payments, agreements to deliver supporting documents, collateral transfer and events of default or termination. Events of termination include a decline in the Fund's net assets below a specified threshold over a certain period of time or a decline in the counterparty's long-term and short-term credit ratings below a specified level. In each case, upon occurrence, the other party may elect to terminate early and cause settlement of all OTC contracts outstanding, including the payment of any losses and costs resulting from such early termination, as reasonably determined by the terminating party. Any decision by a party to elect early termination could be material to the financial statements and impact a Fund's future derivative activity.

Collateral pledged by a Fund for OTC derivatives pursuant to a Master Agreement is segregated by the Fund's custodian and identified as an asset in the Statements of Assets and Liabilities either as a component of Investments in securities, at value (securities) or in Due from brokers (cash).

Collateral and margin requirements differ according to the terms of each type of Master Agreement. Collateral is routinely transferred if the total net exposure net of existing collateral already in place governed under the relevant Master Agreement with a counterparty in a given account exceeds a specified threshold. Collateral can be in the form of cash, debt securities issued by the U.S. government, money market funds and other securities as agreed to by the Fund and the applicable counterparty, or as permitted by the clearing house or exchange.

Collateral posted for the benefit of a Fund pursuant to a Master Agreement is held by a custodian of the Fund. Amounts which can be invested or repledged, are presented in the Fund's Schedule of Investments. Segregation of a fund's collateral in the custodian account helps mitigate counterparty risk. Collateral received is reflected as a liability within Due to brokers in the Statements of Assets and Liabilities. As governed by the relevant Master Agreements, interest expense may be incurred if a counterparty charges the Fund interest on collateral posted directly to a Fund's custodian account.

For financial reporting purposes, the Funds do not offset derivative assets and derivative liabilities subject to master netting agreements on the Statements of Assets and Liabilities.

4. Investment Valuation and Fair Value Measurements

Investment Valuation Policies: The Net Asset Value ("NAV") of the Funds' shares are valued as of the close of regular trading on the New York Stock Exchange ("NYSE") (normally 4:00 p.m. Eastern time) on each day that the NYSE is open (each a "Business Day"). The NAV per share of each class within each Fund is computed by dividing the total current value of the assets of such Fund attributable to a class, less class liabilities, by the total number of shares of that class of the Fund outstanding at the time the computation is made. GAAP defines fair value as the price the Funds would receive to sell an asset or pay to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. For purposes of calculating the NAV, portfolio securities and other financial derivative instruments are valued on each Business Day using valuation methods as adopted by the Funds' Board of Trustees (the "Board").

The Adviser has established a Valuation Committee (the "VC") to assist the Board with oversight and monitoring of the valuation of the Funds' investments. This includes administering, implementing and overseeing the continual appropriateness of valuation approaches applied and the determination of adjustments to the fair valuation of portfolio securities and other financial derivative instruments in good faith after consideration of market factor changes and events affecting issuers. The Adviser performs a series of activities to provide reasonable assurance of the accuracy of prices including: (i) periodic vendor due diligence meetings, review of approaches and techniques, new developments and processes at vendors, (ii) review of daily comparison of security valuation versus prior day for all securities that exceeded established thresholds, (iii) review of third party model prices against internal model prices, and (iv) review the results of back testing and reports for the Board on the results of fair value determinations.

Where market quotes are readily available, fair market value is generally determined on the basis of official closing prices or the last reported sales prices, or if no sales are reported, based on quotes obtained from pricing services or established market makers. Where market quotations are not readily available, or if an available market quotation is determined not to reflect fair value, securities or financial derivatives are valued at fair value, as determined in good faith by the VC in accordance with the valuation procedures approved by the Funds' Board. Using fair value to price a security may require subjective determinations about the value of a security that could result in a value that is different from a security's most recent closing price and from the prices used by other mutual funds to calculate their net assets. It is possible the estimated values may differ significantly from the values which would have been used had an active ready market for the investments existed. These differences could be material.

Fair Value Hierarchy: Various inputs are utilized in determining the value of each Fund's investments. GAAP establishes a hierarchy for inputs used in measuring fair value that maximizes the use of observable inputs and minimizes the use of unobservable inputs by requiring the most observable inputs be used when available. These inputs are summarized in the three broad levels as follows:

Level 1 — Inputs using unadjusted quoted prices in active markets or exchanges for identical assets and liabilities.

Level 2 — Other significant observable inputs, which may include, but are not limited to, quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in markets that are active, quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities in markets that are not active, inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the assets or liabilities (such as interest rates, yield curves, volatilities, prepayment speeds, credit risks and default rates) or other market corroborated inputs.

Level 3 — Significant unobservable inputs based on the best information available in the circumstances, to the extent observable inputs are not available, which may include assumptions made by the Board or persons acting at their direction that are used in determining the fair value of investments.

An investment asset's or liability's level within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lowest level input, individually or in aggregate, that is significant to fair value measurement. The objective of fair value measurement remains the same even when there is a significant decrease in the volume and level of activity for an asset or liability and regardless of the valuation technique used. The valuation techniques used by the Funds to measure fair value maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs. Changes in valuation techniques may result in transfers into or out of an assigned level within the hierarchy.

The inputs or methodology used for valuing securities are not necessarily an indication of the risk associated with investing in those securities.

Valuation Techniques: The following inputs and techniques may be used by the Funds to evaluate how to classify each major category of assets and liabilities into the appropriate fair value hierarchy in accordance with GAAP.

Equity securities, including securities sold short, rights, exchange options, warrants, Exchange-Traded Funds ("ETFs") and closed-end investment companies, are valued at the last quoted sales prices or official closing prices taken from the primary market, or composite in which each security trades and are therefore classified Level 1. Investments in mutual funds are valued daily at their NAVs which are also classified as Level 1.

An equity for which no sales are reported, as in the case of a security that is traded in the over-the-counter market or a less liquid listed equity, is valued at its last bid price (in the case of short sales, at the ask price) and is therefore classified Level 2. In addition, equities traded outside of the Western Hemisphere are classified Level 2 because they are fair valued daily based on the application of a fair value factor (unless the Adviser determines that use of another valuation methodology is appropriate). The Funds apply daily fair value factors, furnished by an independent pricing service, to account for the market movement between the close of the foreign market and the close of the NYSE. The pricing service uses statistical analysis and quantitative models to adjust local market prices using factors such as subsequent movement and changes in the prices of indices, American Depositary Receipts, futures contracts and exchange rates in other markets in determining fair value as of the time a Fund calculates its net asset value.

Fixed income securities (other than certain short-term investments maturing in 60 days or less) and other investments that trade in markets that are not considered to be active, are valued based on quoted market prices, dealer quotations or alternative pricing sources supported by observable inputs and are also classified within Level 2. These include certain U.S. government and sovereign obligations, most government agency securities, investment-grade corporate bonds, and less liquid listed equities. Corporate and sovereign bonds and other fixed-income instruments are valued at estimated fair value using the latest bid prices or evaluated quotes furnished by independent pricing services, as well as quotations from counterparties and other market participants. Evaluated quotes are generally based on a matrix system, which may consider such factors as quoted prices for identical or similar assets, yields, maturities and ratings and are not necessarily reliant on quoted prices. Short-term debt investments of sufficient credit quality maturing in 60 days or less are generally valued at amortized cost, which approximates fair value. These investments are categorized as Level 2 within the fair value hierarchy.

Investments classified within Level 3 have significant unobservable inputs, as they trade infrequently or not at all. Level 3 instruments include illiquid securities. When observable prices are not available for these securities, the Funds may use one or more valuation approaches (e.g., the market approach, the income approach, or the cost approach), including proprietary models for which sufficient and reliable data is available. Within Level 3, the market approach generally is based on the technique of using comparable market transactions, while the use of the income approach includes the estimation of future cash flows discounted to calculate fair value. Discounts may also be applied due to the nature or durations of any restrictions on the disposition of the investment or adjusted as appropriate for credit, market and/or other risk factors.

The inputs used by the Funds in estimating the value of Level 3 investments include the original transaction price, recent transactions in the same or similar instruments, completed or pending third-party transactions in the underlying investment or comparable issuers, subsequent rounds of financing, recapitalizations and other transactions across the capital structure, offerings in the equity or debt capital markets, changes in financial ratios or cash flows, benchmark yield curves, credit spreads, estimated default rates, underlying collateral, and other unique security features. Level 3 investments may also be adjusted to reflect illiquidity and/or non-transferability, with the amount of such discount estimated by the Adviser in the absence of market information. Assumptions used by the Funds due to the lack of observable inputs may significantly impact the fair value of the investment.

Exchange-traded derivatives, such as futures contracts and exchange-traded option contracts, are typically classified within Level 1 or Level 2 of the fair value hierarchy depending on whether or not they are deemed to be actively traded. Futures and option contracts that are listed on national exchanges and are freely transferable are valued at fair value based on their last sales price on the date of determination on the exchange their constitutes the principal market. For option contracts, if no sales occurred on such date, the contracts will be valued at the mid price on such exchange at the close of business on such date. Centrally cleared swaps listed or traded on a multilateral trade facility platform, such as a registered exchange, are valued on daily basis using quotations provided by an independent pricing service.

OTC derivatives, including forward contracts and swap contracts, are valued by the Funds on a daily basis using observable inputs, such as quotations provided by an independent pricing service, the counterparty, dealers or brokers, whenever available and considered reliable.

The value of each total return swap contract and total return basket swap contract is derived from a combination of (i) the net value of the underlying positions, which are valued daily using the last sale or closing price on the principal exchange on which the securities are traded; (ii) financing costs; (iii) the value of dividends or accrued interest; (iv) cash balances within the swap; and (v) other factors, as applicable.

The U.S. Dollar value of forward foreign currency exchange contracts is determined using current forward currency exchange rates supplied by an independent pricing service.

Generally, a valuation model is used consistently for similar derivative types. In instances where models are used, the value of an OTC derivative depends upon the contractual terms of, and specific risks inherent in, the instrument as well as the availability and reliability of observable inputs. Such inputs typically may include market prices for reference securities, yield curves, credit spreads, measures of volatility, prepayment rates and implied correlations of such inputs which are obtained from outside brokers and/or pricing services when available. Certain OTC derivatives, such as generic forwards, swaps and options, have inputs which can generally be corroborated by market data and are therefore classified within Level 2. Those OTC derivatives that have less liquidity or for which inputs are unobservable are classified within Level 3. While the valuations of less liquid OTC derivatives may utilize some Level 1 and/or Level 2 inputs, they also may include other unobservable inputs which may be considered significant to the fair value determination.

* Derivative instruments, including futures, forward foreign currency exchange and total return swap contracts, are reported at the cumulative unrealized appreciation/(depreciation) of the instrument within the Funds' Schedule of Investments. Only current day's variation margin is reported within the Statements of Assets and Liabilities for exchange-traded and cleared derivatives.

† Please refer to the Schedule of Investments to view securities segregated by country.

(a) Security has zero value.

Transfers to Level 3 or from Level 3 are generally due to a decline or an increase in market activity (e.g., frequency of trades), which resulted in a lack of or increase in available market inputs to determine price.

There were no other Level 3 securities held at period end, except those securities classified as Level 3 in the Schedules of Investments that are considered quantitatively insignificant in the aggregate for the AQR Small Cap Momentum Style Fund, AQR International Momentum Style Fund, AQR Global Equity Fund and AQR International Equity Fund.

The fair values of Level 3 investments are based on significant unobservable inputs that reflect the Adviser's determination of assumptions that market participants might reasonably use in valuing the securities. Changes in significant unobservable inputs could cause significant changes in valuation to individual securities and in aggregate. Fair value determinations and valuation of investments that are not actively trading involve judgment and may differ materially from valuations that would have been used had greater market activity occurred.

The significant unobservable inputs used in the fair value measurement of a Fund's investments in common stocks, corporate bonds, convertible bonds, convertible preferred stocks and warrants potentially include credit spread, liquidity discount, earnings multiples and volatility. Significant increases in the credit spread or liquidity discount inputs in isolation would potentially result in a significantly lower fair value measurement, whereas an increase in volatility generally results in a higher fair value measurement. Generally, a change in the assumption used for the credit spread would be accompanied by a directionally-similar change in the assumptions used for the volatility and liquidity discount. Investments in common stocks potentially include liquidity discounts, theoretical values, book to value analysis and/or broker quotes. Significant changes in any of these inputs would significantly change the fair value measurement of the position.

5. Federal Income Tax Matters

At September 30, 2020, the cost and aggregate gross unrealized appreciation (depreciation) of long security positions, short security positions and derivative instruments for federal income tax purposes were as follows:

FUND	COST OF INVESTMENTS	GROSS UNREALIZED APPRECIATION	GROSS UNREALIZED DEPRECIATION	NET UNREALIZED APPRECIATION (DEPRECIATION)

The differences between book basis and tax basis appreciation (depreciation) on investments is primarily attributable to wash sale loss deferrals, mark to market on passive foreign investment companies ("PFIC"), non-taxable dividends from fund investments including Real Estate Investment Trusts ("REITs") and corporate actions.

As of September 30, 2020, the components of distributable earnings on a tax basis were as follows:

FUND	CURRENT DISTRIBUTABLE ORDINARY INCOME	CURRENT DISTRIBUTABLE LONG TERM CAPITAL GAIN OR TAX BASIS CAPITAL LOSS CARRYFORWARDS	NET UNREALIZED APPRECIATION (DEPRECIATION)	POST OCTOBER CAPITAL OR LATE YEAR ORDINARY LOSS DEFERRALS	OTHER TEMPORARY DIFFERENCES	TOTAL ACCUMULATED EARNINGS

AQR International Equity Fund	3,694,378	(24,367,591)	7,347,472	—	—	(13,325,741)

The differences between book basis and tax basis components of distributable earnings are primarily attributable to wash sales loss deferrals, mark to market on forward foreign currency exchange contracts, mark to market on regulated futures contracts, mark to market on PFIC investments, mark to market on equity swaps, non-taxable dividends from fund investments including REITs, loss deferrals from tax straddles, capital loss carry forwards, and corporate actions.

As of September 30, 2020, the effect of permanent book/tax reclassifications resulted in increase (decrease) to the components of net assets as follows:

FUND	TOTAL DISTRIBUTABLE EARNINGS (LOSS)	PAID-IN CAPITAL
AQR Large Cap Multi-Style Fund	$ (14,805,595)	$ 14,805,595
AQR Large Cap Momentum Style Fund	(16,202,961)	16,202,961
AQR Small Cap Momentum Style Fund	143	(143)
AQR Emerging Defensive Style Fund	18,954,405	(18,954,405)

For financial reporting purposes, capital accounts are adjusted to reflect the tax character of permanent book/tax differences. Reclassifications are primarily due to the difference in tax treatment of certain capital losses permanently lost due to limitation and redemptions utilized as distributions. The result of operations and net assets were not affected by the reclassifications.

The tax character of distributions paid during the fiscal year-ends September 30, 2020 and September 30, 2019 were as follows:

7. Derivative Instruments and Activities

The Funds use derivative instruments as part of their principal investment strategy to achieve their investment objectives. The Funds' derivative contracts, are not accounted for as hedging instruments under GAAP. For financial reporting purposes, the Funds do not offset financial assets and financial liabilities that are subject to master netting arrangements or similar agreements on the Statements of Assets and Liabilities. All derivative instruments held by the Funds were subject to a master netting agreement or similar arrangement.

The following table lists the fair value of derivatives instruments held by the Funds, by primary underlying risk and contract type, as included in the Statements of Assets and Liabilities at September 30, 2020.

8. Investment Advisory and Other Agreements

The Adviser serves as the investment adviser to each of the Funds, pursuant to the Third Amended and Restated Investment Management Agreement, dated January 29, 2017, as amended, entered into by the Trust, on behalf of the Funds (the "Advisory Agreement"). Under the Advisory Agreement, the Adviser furnishes a continuous investment program for each Fund's portfolio, makes day-to-day investment decisions for each Fund, and manages each Fund's investments in accordance with the stated policies of each Fund. The Adviser is also responsible for selecting brokers and dealers to execute purchase and sale orders for the portfolio transactions of each Fund, subject to its obligation to seek best execution, and also provides certain other administrative services to each Fund. The Adviser provides persons satisfactory to the Funds' Board to serve as officers of the Funds.

Pursuant to the Investment Management Agreement, the Funds currently pay the Investment Advisory fee calculated on the average daily net assets for each Fund, in the annual ratios below:

The Trust, in turn, agreed that the Funds will repay the fee expense reimbursement to the Adviser. A repayment shall be payable only to the extent it can be made during the thirty-six months following the applicable month during which the Adviser waived fees or reimbursed the applicable Fund for its operating expenses under the Expense Limitation Agreement. Such repayment shall be made only out of the class of the Fund for which the applicable fee waiver and/or expense reimbursement was made. Repayments with respect to a Fund must be limited to amounts that do not cause the total annual operating expenses or the other operating expenses, as applicable, attributable to a share class of the Fund during a year in which such repayment is made to exceed either of (i) the applicable limits in effect at the time of the waiver and/or reimbursement and (ii) the applicable limits in effect at the time of recapture.

(a) On November 16, 2020, the AQR Funds' Board of Trustees approved an extension of the Expense Limitation Agreement between the Trust and the Advisor through at least January 28, 2022.

For the year ended September 30, 2020, the amounts reimbursed by the Adviser, as well as the amounts available for potential future recoupment by the Adviser and the expiration schedule at September 30, 2020 are as follows:

9. Distribution Plan

The Trust has adopted a Plan of Distribution (the "Plan") pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the 1940 Act with respect to the Class N shares of the Funds. The Plan allows for the payment of services related to the distribution and servicing of these shares at a rate of up to 0.25% per annum of the average daily net asset value of the Class N shares of the Funds.

10. Principal Risks and Concentrations

The investment techniques and strategies utilized by the Funds, including investments made on a shorter-term basis or in derivative instruments or instruments with a maturity of one year or less at the time of acquisition, may result in frequent portfolio trading and high portfolio turnover. High portfolio turnover will cause the Funds to incur higher levels of brokerage fees and commissions, which may reduce performance, and may cause higher levels of current tax liability to shareholders in the Funds.

In the normal course of business the Funds trade financial instruments and enter into financial transactions where risk of potential loss exists due to changes in the market (market risk). A Fund's investments in financial derivatives and other financial instruments may expose the Fund to various elements of market risks which include interest rate, foreign currency, equity and commodity risks.

Interest rate risk is the risk that fixed income securities will decline in value because of changes in interest rates. The Funds may lose money if short-term or long-term interest rates rise sharply or otherwise change in a manner not anticipated. Convertible securities and non-convertible income producing securities are subject to certain risks, including (i) if interest rates go up, the value of convertible securities and non-convertible income producing securities in the Funds' portfolio generally will decline; (ii) during periods of declining interest rates, the issuer of a security may exercise its option to prepay principal earlier than scheduled, forcing the Funds to reinvest in lower yielding securities (call or prepayment risk); and (iii) during periods of rising interest rates, the average life of certain types of securities may be extended because of slower than expected principal payments (extension risk).

Many financial instruments may be tied to the London Interbank Offered Rate, or "LIBOR," to determine payment obligations, financing terms, hedging strategies, or investment value. LIBOR is the offered rate for short-term Eurodollar deposits between major international banks. On July 27, 2017, the head of the UK Financial Conduct Authority announced a desire to phase out the use of LIBOR by the end of 2021. Regulators and industry working groups have suggested alternative reference rates, but global consensus is lacking and the process for amending existing contracts or instruments to transition away from LIBOR remains unclear. There also remains uncertainty and risk regarding the willingness and ability of issuers to include enhanced provisions in new and existing contracts or instruments. As such, the transition away from LIBOR may lead to increased volatility and illiquidity in markets that are tied to LIBOR, reduced values of LIBOR-related investments, and reduced effectiveness of hedging strategies, adversely affecting the Fund's performance or NAV. In addition, the alternative reference rate may be an ineffective substitute resulting in prolonged adverse market conditions for the Fund.

Investment in securities of foreign issuers may involve certain risks that are greater than those associated with investments in securities of U.S. issuers. These include risks of adverse changes in foreign economic, political, regulatory and other conditions; changes in currency exchange rates or exchange control regulations (including limitations on currency movements and exchanges); the imposition of economic sanctions or other government restrictions; differing accounting, auditing, financial reporting and legal standards and practices; differing securities market structures; and higher transaction costs. To the extent a fund's investments in a single country or a limited number of countries represent a higher percentage of the Fund's assets, the Fund assumes the risk that economic, political and social conditions in those countries will have a significant impact on its investment performance and it may be subject to increased price volatility.

Emerging markets are riskier than more developed markets because they tend to develop unevenly and may never fully develop. Investments in emerging markets may be considered speculative. Emerging markets are more likely to experience hyperinflation and currency devaluations, which adversely affect returns to U.S. investors. In addition, many emerging securities markets have far lower trading volumes and less liquidity than developed markets.

Currency risk arises from the possibility that fluctuations in foreign exchange rates will affect the value of cash balances held in foreign currencies and non-U.S. denominated financial instruments. The liquidity and trading value of foreign currencies could be affected by global economic factors, such as inflation, interest rate levels, and trade balances among countries, as well as the actions of sovereign governments and central banks. Currency rates in foreign countries may fluctuate significantly over short periods of time for a number of reasons.

The market values of equities, such as common stocks and preferred securities or equity related investments such as futures and options, may decline due to general market conditions which are not specifically related to a particular company. They may also decline due to factors which affect a particular industry or industries. The Funds may invest in illiquid investments and may experience difficulty in selling those investments in a timely manner at the price that it believes the investments are worth. Prices may fluctuate widely over short or extended periods in response to company, market or economic news. Geopolitical and other events, including war, terrorism, economic uncertainty, trade disputes, public health crises and related geopolitical events have led, and in the future may lead, to increased market volatility, which may disrupt the U.S. and world economies and markets and may have significant adverse direct or indirect effects on the Funds and their investments. Although multiple asset classes may be affected by a market disruption, the duration and effects may not be the same for all types of assets. Such events include the recent pandemic spread of the novel coronavirus known as COVID-19, the duration and full effects of which are still uncertain. Markets also tend to move in cycles, with periods of rising and falling prices. This volatility may cause the Fund's net asset value to experience significant increases or decreases over short periods of time. If there is a general decline in the securities and other markets, the net asset value of a Fund may lose value, regardless of the individual results of the securities and other instruments in which the Fund invests.

In addition to market risk, the Funds may be exposed to the risk that one or more securities in the Funds' portfolios will decline in price, or fail to pay interest or principal when due, because the issuer of the security experiences a decline in its financial status (credit risk). Credit risk is measured by the loss a Fund would record if the major financial institution or other counterparties failed to perform pursuant to terms of their obligations. Certain Funds may primarily maintain cash balances at one or several major financial institutions that may exceed federally insured limits and as such each of the Funds have credit risk associated with such financial institutions. In general, lower rated securities carry a greater degree of risk that the issuer will lose its ability to make interest and principal payments, which could have a negative impact on the Funds' net asset value or dividends. The Funds minimize credit risk by monitoring credit exposure and collateral values, and by requiring additional collateral to be deposited with or returned to the Funds when deemed necessary.

Similar to credit risk, a Fund may be exposed to counterparty risk, or the risk that an institution or other entity with which the Fund has unsettled or open transactions will default. Financial assets, which potentially expose a Fund to counterparty risk, consist principally of cash due from counterparties and investments. By using derivative instruments, the Funds may be exposed to the risk that derivative counterparties may not perform in accordance with the contractual provisions offset by the value of any collateral received. The Funds' exposure to credit risk associated with counterparty non-performance is limited to the unrealized gains inherent in such transactions that are recognized in the Statements of Assets and Liabilities. The counterparties to the Funds' derivative investments may include affiliates of the Funds' clearing brokers and other major financial institutions. While the Funds use multiple clearing brokers and counterparties, a concentration of credit risk may exist because of balances held and transactions with a limited number of clearing brokers and counterparties. The Funds minimize counterparty credit risk through credit limits and approvals, credit monitoring procedures, executing master netting arrangements and managing margin and collateral requirements, as appropriate.

The Funds may invest in securities with positive momentum. This entails investing in securities that have had above-average recent returns. These securities may be more volatile than a broad cross-section of securities. In addition, there may be periods during which the investment performance of the Fund while using a momentum strategy may suffer.

Investing in or having exposure to "value" securities presents the risk that the securities may never reach what the Adviser believes are their full market values, either because the market fails to recognize what the Adviser considers to be the security's true value or because the Adviser misjudged that value. In addition, there may be periods during which the investment performance of the Fund while using a value strategy may suffer.

The Funds may have investments that appreciate or decrease significantly in value over short periods of time. This may cause the Funds' net asset value per share to experience significant increases or declines in value over short periods of time, however, all investments long-term or short-term are subject to risk of loss.

In the normal course of business, the Funds may enter into agreements with certain counterparties for derivative transactions. A number of each Fund's Master Agreements contain provisions that require each Fund to maintain a predetermined level of net assets, and/or provide limits regarding the decline of a Fund's net asset value over specified time periods. If a Fund was to violate such provisions, the counterparties to the derivative instruments could request immediate payment or demand immediate collateralization on derivative instruments in net liability positions. If such events are not cured by the Fund or waived by the counterparties, they may decide to curtail or limit extension of credit, and the Fund may be forced to unwind its derivative positions which may result in material losses.

The Funds, at times, utilize substantial leverage in their investment program. Such leverage may take the form of trading on margin, investing in derivative instruments that are inherently leveraged, entering into reverse repurchase transactions and entering into other forms of direct and indirect borrowings. There is no guarantee that the Funds' borrowing arrangement or other arrangements for obtaining leverage will continue to be available, or if available, will be available on terms and conditions acceptable to the Funds. Unfavorable economic conditions also could increase funding costs, limit access to the capital markets or result in a decision by lenders not to extend credit to the Funds. In addition, a decline in market value of the Funds' assets may have particular adverse consequences in instances where they have borrowed money based on the market value of those assets. A decrease in market value of those assets may result in the lender (including derivative counterparties) requiring the Funds to post additional collateral or otherwise sell assets at a time when it may not be in the Funds' best interest to do so.

Given the complexity of the investments and strategies of the Fund, the Adviser relies heavily on quantitative models and information and data supplied by third parties ("Models and Data"). Models and Data are used to construct sets of transactions and investments, to provide risk management insights, and to assist in hedging the Fund's investments. When Models and Data prove to be incorrect or incomplete, any decisions made in reliance thereon expose the Fund to potential risks. Similarly, any hedging based on faulty Models and Data may prove to be unsuccessful. Some of the models used by the Adviser for the Fund are predictive in nature. The use of predictive models has inherent risks. Because predictive models are usually constructed based on historical data supplied by third parties, the success of relying on such models may depend heavily on the accuracy and reliability of the supplied historical data. The Fund bears the risk that the quantitative models used by the Adviser will not be successful in selecting investments or in determining the weighting of investment positions that will enable the Fund to achieve its investment objective.

Periodically, the Funds may be a party to legal actions arising in the ordinary course of business. The Funds are currently not subject to any actions that either individually or in the aggregate are expected to have a material impact on their results of operations, cash flows or financial condition.

Please refer to the Funds' prospectuses for a more complete description of the principal risks of investing in the Funds.

11. Interfund Lending

Pursuant to an exemptive order issued by the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC"), the Funds may participate in a joint lending and borrowing program (the "Interfund Lending Program") to the extent such participation is consistent with each Fund's investment objective and investment policies. This program allows the Funds to borrow and lend to other AQR Funds that permit such transactions. All loans under the Interfund Lending Program are for temporary cash management or emergency purposes. Interest earned or paid on an interfund lending transaction will be based on the average of certain current market rates, as calculated according to a formula established by the Board. No Fund may borrow or lend money through the program unless it receives a more favorable rate than is typically available for comparable borrowings from a bank or investments in U.S. Treasury bills, respectively.

A lending Fund may lend in aggregate up to 15% of its net assets but may not lend more than 5% of its net assets to any one borrowing Fund through the Interfund Lending Program. A borrowing Fund may not borrow through the Interfund Lending Program or from any other source more than 33 1/3% of its total assets. If a borrowing Fund's total outstanding borrowings exceed 10% of its total assets, the Fund must secure each of its outstanding borrowings through the Interfund Lending Program with collateral equal to 102% of the outstanding principal value of the loan.

The Funds are not required to borrow money under the Interfund Lending Program and may borrow under other arrangements, including their existing bank line of credit. This could result in a Fund borrowing money at a higher interest rate than it would have received under the Interfund Lending Program. Interest expense paid, as a result of borrowing under this agreement is included in Interfund lending expense in the Statements of Operations.

During the reporting period, average borrowings under the Interfund Lending Program were as follows:

There were no open borrowings as of September 30, 2020 by any of the Funds in the Trust.

12. Line of Credit

Effective March 20, 2020 and terminating on March 19, 2021, all funds within the Trust, with the exception of the AQR Diversifying Strategies Fund, renewed a $350,000,000 committed syndicated line of credit (the "Agreement") with Bank of America, N.A., as the Administrative Agent. Borrowing, if any, under this arrangement bears, as incurred, interest at the sum of (a) 1.0% per annum plus (b) the higher of (i) the Federal Funds Rate or (ii) the Eurodollar Rate, which is paid monthly. The maximum loan amount available to a Fund is the lesser of an amount which will not exceed the borrowing limits set forth in the Fund's Prospectus and/or Registration Statement and will not cause the asset coverage ratio for any borrowings by a Fund to drop below the required amount under the Agreement (between 300-500% per Fund). The Agreement is subject to an annual commitment fee which is payable in arrears on a quarterly basis. In the event of a draw upon the line of credit, liquid assets of the borrowing Fund may be designated as collateral until its loan is repaid in full. Interest expense paid, as a result of borrowing under this agreement is included in Interest expense in the Statements of Operations.

There were no open borrowings as of September 30, 2020 by any of the Funds in the Trust.

14. New Accounting Pronouncements and Regulations

In March 2020, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued Accounting Standards Update No. 2020-04 ("ASU 2020-04"), "Reference Rate Reform (Topic 848) – Facilitation of the Effects of Reference Rate Reform on Financial Reporting" in response to concerns about structural risks of interbank offered rates, such as LIBOR. ASU 2020-04 provides optional temporary guidance to ease the potential burden in accounting for (or recognizing the effects of) reference rate reform on financial reporting for certain types of contract modifications, hedging relationships and other transactions that contain LIBOR and/or any other reference rate that is expected to be discontinued. ASU 2020-04 is elective and is effective for certain reference rate-related contract modifications that occur during the period March 12, 2020 through December 31, 2022. Management is currently evaluating the impact, if any, of applying ASU 2020-04.

15. Subsequent Events

At a meeting held on November 16, 2020, the Board of Trustees of the AQR Funds approved a proposal to liquidate the AQR Emerging Defensive Style Fund. If applicable, the Fund will declare a dividend to all holders of record on December 15, 2020 consisting of any undistributed income and capital gains (net of available capital loss carryovers). On or about December 18, 2020 (the "Liquidation Date"), the Fund will make a liquidating distribution of its remaining assets proportionately to any shareholders holding shares on the Liquidation Date.

Subsequent to September 30, 2020 the AQR Small Cap Multi-Style Fund experienced net redemptions of $176,953,719 which represented approximately 69% of the Fund's net assets. AQR does not anticipate these redemptions to have a material impact on the operations of the Fund.

The Funds have evaluated subsequent events through the date of issuance of this report and have determined that there are no material events other than those disclosed in Note 8 and noted above.

Opinions on the Financial Statements

We have audited the accompanying statements of assets and liabilities, including the schedules of investments, of AQR Large Cap Multi-Style Fund, AQR Small Cap Multi-Style Fund, AQR International Multi-Style Fund, AQR Emerging Multi-Style Fund, AQR TM Large Cap Multi-Style Fund, AQR TM Small Cap Multi-Style Fund, AQR TM International Multi-Style Fund, AQR TM Emerging Multi-Style Fund, AQR Large Cap Momentum Style Fund, AQR Small Cap Momentum Style Fund, AQR International Momentum Style Fund, AQR TM Large Cap Momentum Style Fund, AQR TM Small Cap Momentum Style Fund, AQR TM International Momentum Style Fund, AQR Large Cap Defensive Style Fund, AQR International Defensive Style Fund, AQR Emerging Defensive Style Fund, AQR Global Equity Fund and AQR International Equity Fund (nineteen of the funds constituting AQR Funds, hereafter collectively referred to as the "Funds") as of September 30, 2020, the related statements of operations for the year ended September 30, 2020, the statements of changes in net assets for each of the two years in the period ended September 30, 2020, including the related notes, and the financial highlights for each of the five years in the period ended September 30, 2020 (collectively referred to as the "financial statements"). In our opinion, the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of each of the Funds as of September 30, 2020, the results of each of their operations for the year then ended, the changes in each of their net assets for each of the two years in the period ended September 30, 2020 and each of the financial highlights for each of the five years in the period ended September 30, 2020 in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for Opinions

These financial statements are the responsibility of the Funds' management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Funds' financial statements based on our audits. We are a public accounting firm registered with the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) (PCAOB) and are required to be independent with respect to the Funds in accordance with the U.S. federal securities laws and the applicable rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission and the PCAOB.

We conducted our audits of these financial statements in accordance with the standards of the PCAOB. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement, whether due to error or fraud.

Our audits included performing procedures to assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to error or fraud, and performing procedures that respond to those risks. Such procedures included examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Our audits also included evaluating the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements. Our procedures included confirmation of securities owned as of September 30, 2020 by correspondence with the custodian, transfer agent and brokers; when replies were not received from brokers, we performed other auditing procedures. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinions.

Subsequent Event

As discussed in Note 15 to the financial statements, on November 16, 2020, the Board of Trustees of the AQR Funds approved a proposal to liquidate the Emerging Defensive Style Fund, which will occur on or about December 18, 2020.

Fund Expense Examples (Unaudited)

As a shareholder of the Trust, you incur two types of costs: (1) transaction costs and (2) ongoing costs, including management fees; and other Fund expenses. This example is intended to help you understand your ongoing costs (in dollars) of investing in the Fund and to compare these costs with the ongoing costs of investing in other mutual funds. The Example is based on an investment of $1,000 invested at the beginning of the period and held for the entire period as indicated below.

Actual Expenses

The table below provides information about actual account values and actual expenses. You may use the information together with the amount you invested, to estimate the expenses that you paid over the period. Simply divide your account value by $1,000 (for example, an $8,600 account value divided by $1,000 = 8.6), then multiply the result by the number under the heading entitled "Expenses Paid for the Period Ending 9/30/2020" to estimate the expenses you paid on your account during this period. Each Fund will indirectly bear its pro rata share of the expenses incurred by the underlying investments in which the Fund invests. These expenses are not included in the table.

Hypothetical Example for Comparison Purposes

The table below also provides information about hypothetical account values and hypothetical expenses based on each Fund's actual expense ratio and an assumed annual rate of return of 5% before expenses, which is not the Fund's actual return. The hypothetical account values and expenses may not be used to estimate the actual ending account balance or expenses you paid for the period. You may use this information to compare the ongoing costs of investing in a Fund and other funds by comparing this 5% hypothetical example with the 5% hypothetical examples that appear in the shareholder reports of other funds. The Fund will indirectly bear its pro rata share of the expenses incurred by the underlying investments in which the Fund invests. These expenses are not included in the table.

Please note that the expenses shown in the table are meant to highlight your ongoing costs only and do not reflect any transactional costs. Therefore, the hypothetical example is useful in comparing ongoing costs only, and will not help you determine the relative total costs of owning different funds. In addition, if these transactional costs were included, your costs would have been higher.

Board Approval of Investment Advisory Agreements (Unaudited)

The Board of Trustees (the “Board,” and the members of which are referred to as “Board Members”) of the AQR Funds (the “Trust”) held a telephonic meeting on May 18, 20 and 21, 2020 (the “Meeting”) to consider the continuation of the Third Amended and Restated Investment Management Agreement between AQR Capital Management, LLC (“AQR”) and the Trust, on behalf of the AQR Emerging Defensive Style Fund, AQR Emerging Multi-Style Fund, AQR Global Equity Fund, AQR International Defensive Style Fund, AQR International Equity Fund, AQR International Momentum Style Fund, AQR International Multi-Style Fund, AQR Large Cap Defensive Style Fund, AQR Large Cap Momentum Style Fund, AQR Large Cap Multi-Style Fund, AQR Small Cap Momentum Style Fund, AQR Small Cap Multi-Style Fund, AQR TM Emerging Multi-Style Fund, AQR TM International Momentum Style Fund, AQR TM International Multi-Style Fund, AQR TM Large Cap Momentum Style Fund, AQR TM Large Cap Multi-Style Fund, AQR TM Small Cap Momentum Style Fund, AQR TM Small Cap Multi-Style Fund, and certain other series of the Trust (as amended, the “Management Agreement”), including approval of the Third Amendment to the Management Agreement (the “Amendment”). Each of the aforementioned series of the Trust may be referred to herein as a “Fund” and collectively, the “Funds.”

During the Meeting, the Board Members who are not “interested persons” as defined in the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the “1940 Act”) (the “Independent Board Members”), met with independent legal counsel and representatives of AQR to review the materials provided and the relevant legal considerations. In accordance with Section 15(c) of the 1940 Act, the Board requested and considered materials furnished by AQR relevant to the Board’s consideration of whether to approve the continuation of the Management Agreement (inclusive of the Amendment). These materials included: (i) memoranda and materials provided by AQR describing the personnel and services provided to the Funds; (ii) performance information for the Funds relevant to the consideration of the Management Agreement; (iii) information independently compiled and prepared by Broadridge relating to the Funds’ fees and expenses and performance relative to peers within Morningstar fund categories, as well as proposed contractual management fee reductions for certain Funds, as reflected in the Amendment; (iv) financial information for AQR and a profitability analysis showing AQR’s profitability from providing services to the Funds; and (v) a discussion of the compliance program of AQR and the regulatory exam history of AQR.

At the Meeting the Board, including the Independent Board Members, unanimously approved the continuation of the Management Agreement for an additional one-year period for each Fund. In approving the continuation of the Management Agreement for a Fund, the Board considered all factors it believed to be relevant with respect to the Fund, including, among other factors: (a) the nature, extent and quality of the services provided by AQR; (b) the investment performance of the Fund and AQR’s portfolio management; (c) the management fee and the cost of the services provided and profits realized by AQR from the relationship with the Funds and the fund complex; (d) economies of scale; (e) fall-out benefits; and (f) other factors.

The Board also considered other matters it deemed important to the approval process, such as AQR’s services related to the valuation and pricing of the Funds’ portfolio holdings, direct and indirect benefits to AQR and its affiliates from their relationship with the Funds and advice from independent legal counsel with respect to the review process and materials submitted for the Board’s consideration. The Board did not identify any particular information as controlling, and each Board Member may have attributed different weightings to the various items considered.

In considering the renewal of the Management Agreement for each Fund, the Board did not view the Management Agreement as creating third-party beneficiary rights in shareholders to enforce the terms of the Management Agreement against AQR.

The following is a summary of the Board’s discussion and views regarding the factors it considered in evaluating the Management Agreement:

The Nature, Extent and Quality of the Services Provided by AQR. The Board Members reviewed the services that AQR provided to the Funds under the Management Agreement, including certain administrative services. The Board considered the size and experience of AQR’s staff, its use of technology, and the Funds’ stated investment objectives, strategies and processes. In connection with the investment advisory services provided to the Funds, the Board Members took into account discussions they had regularly as part of quarterly Board meetings with representatives of AQR regarding the management of each Fund’s investments in accordance with the Funds’ stated investment objectives and policies and the types of transactions that are entered into on behalf of the Funds. During these discussions, the Board Members asked questions of, and received answers from, representatives of AQR regarding the formulation and implementation of the Funds’ investment strategies, their efficacy and potential risks.

In addition to the investment advisory services provided to the Funds, the Board Members considered that AQR also provides shareholder and administrative services, provides oversight of Fund accounting, provides risk management, provides compliance oversight, administers the Funds’ liquidity risk management program, oversees third party service providers and provides assistance in meeting legal and regulatory requirements and other services necessary for the operation of the Funds. In particular, the Board Members considered the compliance, shareholder and administrative services provided to the Funds by AQR under the Management Agreement. The Board Members recognized the enterprise risk involved in providing services to the Funds over time.

Finally, the Independent Board Members had several opportunities to meet outside the presence of Fund management in executive session separately with independent legal counsel to discuss and consider the Management Agreement. Based on the presentations and materials at the Meeting and their familiarity gained through regular Board presentations over time, the Board concluded that the services provided to the Funds by AQR pursuant to the Management Agreement were of a high quality and benefit the Funds.

Investment Performance of the Funds and AQR’s Portfolio Management. The Board considered the investment performance of each Fund. In particular, the Independent Board Members considered the investment performance of the Funds relative to their stated objectives and AQR’s efforts to achieve such goals as well as the performance of the Funds relative to funds identified by Broadridge as their peers (the “Performance Peers”). The Board was cognizant of the fact that in some cases Fund performance was challenged in comparison to a Fund’s Performance Peers, and considered AQR’s views regarding the factors contributing to such underperformance on a Fund by Fund basis.

The Board considered that Broadridge comparisons may be of limited use in some cases due to the differences between the ways in which a Fund is managed from other Performance Peers. In other cases, underperformance in relation to Performance Peers may be due to differences in a Fund’s investment parameters compared to its Performance Peers, including risk limits, volatility targets, model limits on exposure to a particular country, and the Fund’s investment universe. Finally, the use of drawdown control and internal risk protections may affect a Fund’s performance in relation to its Performance Peers or benchmark.

Board Approval of Investment Advisory Agreements (Unaudited)

The Board discussed the performance of the Funds with AQR at Board meetings throughout the year. AQR's presentations to the Board at such Board meetings, which addressed in detail the drivers of underperformance or outperformance, as applicable, supported a conclusion that the Funds were being managed consistent with their stated policies and strategies. The Board considered other performance drivers and other relevant factors contributing to longer-term underperformance. The Board also noted significant redemptions from certain Funds over the prior year due to underperformance of those Funds. The Board considered AQR's performance in managing other registered investment companies and private funds, noting that other funds AQR manages might have investment objectives, policies or restrictions different from those of the Funds. Based on these factors, the Board Members determined that the performance of each Fund is consistent with its stated objectives and strategies and AQR's investment process.

The Management Fee and the Cost of the Services and Profits Realized by AQR from the Relationship with the Funds. The Board, including the Independent Board Members, received information regarding the management fees paid by the Funds to AQR pursuant to the Management Agreement. The Board examined this information in order to determine the reasonableness of the fees in light of the nature and quality of services provided to the Funds and the costs incurred by and benefits to AQR in providing those services, and other relevant factors.

To assist in this analysis, the Board reviewed comparative fee and expense information for each Fund relative to funds identified by Broadridge as their peers (the "Expense Peers"), including comparisons of contractual management fees and actual net expenses. AQR also provided a supplemental report prepared by Broadridge comparing the fee components of the Multi-Style, Momentum Style and Defensive Style Funds to the fee components of exchange-traded funds with comparable investment strategies.

The Board noted that, as of December 31, 2019, net expenses for the Funds were below the median compared to their Expense Peers. The Board also reviewed the contractual management fee reductions proposed by AQR and reflected in the Amendment. Specifically, the Board approved the following contractual management fee reductions, effective July 1, 2020: AQR Emerging Multi-Style Fund – reduction from 0.60% to 0.55%; AQR International Multi-Style Fund – reduction from 0.45% to 0.40%; AQR Large Cap Multi-Style Fund – reduction from 0.30% to 0.25%; and AQR Small Cap Multi-Style Fund – reduction from 0.50% to 0.45%. The Expense Peer information did not reflect these new contractual management fee rates; however, AQR provided supplemental information to the Board regarding the proposed reductions in the contractual management fee rates and net expenses for the applicable Funds that was prepared by Broadridge.

The Board reviewed information regarding the fees AQR charges for other funds and accounts managed by AQR, including sub-advised mutual funds, with similar investment strategies to certain of the Funds. The Board noted the greater services provided by AQR to the Funds in contrast to the limited role of AQR when it sub-advises third party mutual funds or advises separate accounts or hedge funds.

The Board also received and reviewed information regarding the profitability of AQR with respect to Fund-related activities. AQR provided the Board Members with a detailed description of the methodology and inputs used to determine profitability. The Board recognized that profitability may be affected by numerous factors including, among other things, fee waivers and expense reimbursements by AQR, the types of funds managed, costs of recruiting and retaining personnel, taxes, expense allocations and business mix.

The Board reviewed AQR's unaudited financial information. The purpose of the review was to help the Independent Board Members determine whether the firm has the necessary resources to continue to provide high quality services to the Funds and attract and retain high quality employees.

Based on their review of the materials presented at the Meeting and discussions of these materials, the Board concluded that the management fees under the Management Agreement are reasonable and AQR's profitability was not excessive.

Economies of Scale AQR provided the Board with information concerning the extent to which economies of scale were realized as the Funds grew and whether fee levels were reflective of such economies of scale. To show that economies are being shared, AQR presented information regarding each Fund's management fees relative to comparable funds of similar and/or larger sizes, showing that management fees were set at a competitive level. It also provided Morningstar data for the purpose of showing the hypothetical effective management fee for each Fund at higher asset levels compared to its peers, some of which have breakpoints. The Board considered this information in determining the reasonableness of continuing to operate each Fund without management fee breakpoints at the Fund's current asset level. The Board recognized that economies were also being shared through the expense limitation agreements for the Funds. The Board noted that, under the Management Agreement, none of the Funds have breakpoints in their management fees that would allow investors to benefit directly in the form of lower fees as fund assets grew. The Board considered that the funds in the AQR fund complex share some common resources and, as a result, an increase in the overall size of the complex could permit each Fund to incur lower expenses than it would otherwise as a stand-alone entity. The Board also considered AQR's overall operations and its efforts to expand the scale of, and further enhance the quality of, its operations. In particular, the Board noted the continuing enhancements to AQR's services to the Funds in areas such as compliance, portfolio management, technology and administration. AQR advised that its size as a firm has resulted in additional benefits to the AQR Funds, such as the ability to negotiate better terms with service providers, to undertake securities lending activities and to establish a dedicated money market fund for the AQR Funds. The principals of AQR have also provided seed capital in excess of regulatory minimums for extended periods. AQR also discussed that it had undertaken to rely on Rule 30e-3 under the 1940 Act to potentially reduce charges related to printing and mailing costs for shareholder reports.

Other Factors. The Board also took into account other ancillary or "fall-out" benefits that AQR or its affiliates may derive from its relationship with the Funds, both tangible and intangible, noting that no payments are received by AQR from the Funds beyond the fees under the Management Agreement. The Board was advised by AQR that AQR may obtain greater exposure to the public as a result of managing the AQR Funds, which could lead to additional business opportunities, such as unregistered fund investments, separately managed account opportunities or sub-advisory mandates. AQR may also obtain reputational benefits. AQR may also obtain economic benefit from its sponsorship/management of both the Funds and other funds or accounts with respect to the potential economic leverage of its service provider relationships. The Board also received information regarding AQR's brokerage and soft dollar practices, noting that AQR does not presently intend to make use of soft dollars to acquire third-party research. The Board considered that AQR is responsible for decisions to buy and sell securities for the Funds, selection of broker-dealers and best execution, and aggregation and allocation of trade orders among the firm's various advisory clients.

Board Approval of Investment Advisory Agreements (Unaudited)

Conclusion. Counsel advised the Board concerning the statutory and regulatory requirements for approval and disclosure of investment management agreements. No single factor was determinative to the decision of the Board. Based on the foregoing and such other matters as were deemed relevant, all of the Board Members, including all of the Independent Board Members, concluded that the management fee rates under the Management Agreement are reasonable in relation to the services provided by AQR to the Funds, as well as the costs incurred and benefits to be gained by AQR in providing such services, including the investment advisory and administrative components. The Board also found the investment management fees to be reasonable in comparison to the fees charged by advisers to other comparable funds of similar size. As a result, all of the Board Members, including the Independent Board Members voting separately, approved the continuation of the Management Agreement with respect to each Fund. The Independent Board Members were represented by independent legal counsel who assisted them in their deliberations.

Liquidity Risk Management Program (Unaudited)

The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission adopted Rule 22e-4 under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (the “Liquidity Rule”), which requires the AQR Funds (the “Trust”) to adopt and implement a program reasonably designed to assess and manage the “liquidity risk” of each series of the Trust (the “Funds”). Pursuant to the Liquidity Rule, “liquidity risk” is defined as the risk that a Fund could not meet requests to redeem shares issued by the Fund without significant dilution of remaining investors’ interests in the Fund.

The Trust, on behalf of each Fund, has adopted and implemented a liquidity risk management program in accordance with the Liquidity Rule (the “Program”). The Trust’s Board of Trustees (the “Board”) has designated AQR Capital Management, LLC, investment adviser to each Fund (“AQR”), as the administrator of the Program (“Program Administrator”) for each Fund. The Program Administrator is responsible for overseeing the day-to-day operations of the Program. As part of the Program, the Program Administrator identifies illiquid investments, categorizes the relative liquidity of the Funds’ investments in accordance with the Liquidity Rule and assesses, manages, and periodically reviews the Funds’ liquidity risk. Among other things, the Liquidity Rule requires that a written report be provided by the Program Administrator to the Board on an annual basis that addresses the operation of the Program and assesses the adequacy and effectiveness of its implementation, including the operation of any Highly Liquid Investment Minimum (“HLIM”) established for a Fund, if any, and any material changes to the Program.

At a meeting of the Board held on May 20, 2020, the Board reviewed AQR’s written report (the “Report”) concerning the operation, adequacy and effectiveness of the Program for the period from April 1, 2019 through March 31, 2020 (the “Reporting Period”). The Report summarized the operation of the Program and the practices implemented, and the information and factors considered by AQR in assessing whether the Program has been adequately and effectively implemented with respect to each Fund. Such practices, information and factors included, among other things:

- 1) An overview of AQR’s practices with respect to the assessment, management and periodic review of each Fund’s liquidity risk;
- 2) A summary of material changes or findings with respect to the Program, if any, during the Reporting Period;
- 3) A review of the inputs and outputs utilized in connection with the Program, particularly the methodologies used and metrics analyzed;
- 4) A summary of the Funds’ compliance with the requirements under the Liquidity Rule and the Program, including, among other things, the 15% limit on investments in illiquid investments and monitoring of highly liquid investments to determine whether the Fund is required to set a highly liquid investment minimum;
- 5) An overview of the Funds’ other sources of liquidity (e.g., credit facility and inter-fund borrowing); and
- 6) An overall assessment of the effectiveness of the Program with respect to managing each Fund’s liquidity risk, including, among other things assessing whether the Fund’s strategy remains appropriate for an open-end fund structure.

Based on the above information and factors, among others, the Program Administrator has concluded, and reported to the Board, that the Program is reasonably designed to assess and manage the Funds’ liquidity risk and has been implemented and is operating effectively.
