A MESSAGE TO OUR SHAREHOLDERS (Unaudited)

JUNE 30, 2020

Dear Fellow Shareholders,

We are pleased to report that each of the three DF Dent Funds has outperformed its respective benchmark for the past 1, 3, and 5 year periods, as well as since each Fund's inception date. The DF Dent Premier Growth Fund (the Fund), which is covered in this website's recent Annual Report, has been our top performing fund of the past 1, 3, and 5 year periods. It was mentioned in the July 8, 2019 edition of Barron's in an article titled "The Best Mutual Funds You've Never Heard of." In addition, the DF Dent Midcap Growth Fund has been included in the Kiplinger 25 since May 2019. This unsolicited media attention has resulted in some positive cash flows into the Funds.

The most common question recently posed to investment managers has been, "How have you changed your strategy to address the Coronavirus pandemic?" The DF Dent Premier Growth Fund was fortunate in filling the portfolio with companies that are resilient in the face of disruption. These companies were fairly well positioned to deal with the pandemic when it arrived. There have been two underlying themes that have benefitted your portfolio companies during the pandemic.

First, your Fund has a large position in the field of life sciences. These companies supply instruments, proteins, antibodies, reagents and numerous other tools used in scientific research for the discovery and development of drugs and vaccines. These companies would include Danaher, Thermo Fisher Scientific, and Bio-Techne, a long term Fund holding. Illumina, the leading supplier of genomic sequencing instruments and consumable supplies, and Veeva Systems, a supplier of cloud-based software services to the life sciences industry, could also be included in this group of companies. Danaher took a major step forward in life sciences on April 1, 2020 with its $21 billion acquisition of the $3 billion revenue BioPharma life sciences business of the GE Healthcare Division. Together, the companies mentioned above represented 14.46% of the Fund on June 30, 2020 and 3.64% of the fiscal year's 16.82% return.

Second, your Fund's investments in cloud-based software-as-a-service ("SaaS") and internet infrastructure companies were well positioned to address the remote work (work-from-home) environment and online consumer markets. Atlassian Corp. delivers online collaboration software enabling groups and teams of workers to work jointly from remote settings. Twilio facilitates B-to-B and B-to-C interactive communications through its cloud-based applications. Twilio recently received an award for contact tracing from New York City. Cable One's rural footprint brings online commerce to businesses outside major metropolitan areas with its high speed fiber network. BlackLine's SaaS accounting offerings allow remote book close and allow accounting firms to prepare reports online and offsite. Qualys offers cloud-based vulnerability management applications to enterprises for the numerous remote devices employees use in a remote work environment. The stocks of these five companies have performed extremely well over the past year and in some cases becoming fully valued so that D.F. Dent and Company (the "Adviser") has trimmed back some of these holdings on a selective basis. These five companies represented 5.91% of the Fund on June 30, 2020 and 3.36% of the fiscal year's 16.82% return. Additional companies such as Amazon, your Fund's top individual contributor, could be included in this group, but it is not as singularly focused on niche markets as the five above.

Taken together, these two themes constituted 20.4% of the Fund and 41.6% of your Fund's fiscal year return of 16.82%.

Since your Fund's inception (07/16/2001), we have experienced three recessions, two were as a result of the Great Financial Crisis, your Fund's Presidential elections, 2001, Federal Reserve Chairman (one was as a result of the Great Financial pandemic). Through this period your Fund's annual net return has been +10.16%. Four years ago we reported our worst fiscal year results of -6.05% versus the Index. At that time, Index Funds were experiencing massive inflows owing to their widespread popularity. The theory was that a manager could not beat the market so just invest in the market and avoid management fees. It was temporarily a self-fulfilling strategy as capital flowed in record numbers into index funds driving up the price of the Indices. We wrote in our 06/30/2016 Annual Report that "the Index has become a very 'crowded trade'," meaning that capital flows had become concentrated in the Index. In the following year's Annual Report when your Fund beat its Index we wrote that "we continue to believe that investing in a carefully selected portfolio of great companies led by talented management teams is a more intelligent strategy than investing in indices which are weighted based of the size of market capitalization." Your Fund has handily outperformed its Index in each of the four years since 2016's underperformance when large cash flows into the Index drove its performance.

So, why bring this up now? We believe we are presently witnessing a similar phenomenon which is the concentration of investor interest in a small group of mega-capitalization stocks, namely the FANGs, an acronym for Facebook, Amazon, Netflix, and Google. Observe the chart below of the four FANG stocks versus the S&P 500 and the S&P 500 less the four FANG stocks.

S&P 500 Leaders

As of May 18, 2020

The super 6 explain most of the return gap

Source: MSCI, DataStream, Bloomberg; Minack Advisors

S&P 500 Index is a market capitalization weighted index of the 500 largest U.S. publicly traded companies. You cannot invest directly in an index. MSCI AC Ex US - is a stock market index comprising of non-U.S. stocks from 23 developed markets and 29 emerging markets. DoubleLine Total Return owns 0% of Facebook, Apple, Alphabet, Amazon, Netflix or Microsoft as of 6-9-2020. You cannot invest directly in an index.

The Index excluding these stocks has been fairly flat for the past five years. As of June 30, 2020, the FAAANM stocks represented 22.73% of the Index. In the past, such concentration has served as a warning sign. In recent years the Fund has owned only Amazon and Google which contributed 45.45% and 30.64% returns respectively in this past fiscal year. However, as of June 30, 2020 your Fund was considerably underweighted in the FAAANM stocks after their hyperbolic rise. In last year's Annual Report we mentioned that passive investment vehicles could be tested in the next bear market when so many elephants head for the exit door at the same time. The same could be said for the FAAANM stocks. We have seen this movie before, notably in 1974 with the "Nifty Fifty" and in 1999 with the dotcom internet stocks, and both shows had bad endings. The difference this time is that the FAAANM companies are for real with strong cash flows from real earnings. However, the concentration of ownership and outperformance are warning signs which justify investor caution. Your Funds Adviser is exercising such caution with its underweighting in the FAAANM stocks.

Expense Ratio Management

Effective with the Nov. 1, 2019 Prospectus the Fund's Adviser agreed to reimburse expenses and waive management fees so that the annual net expense ratio does not exceed 0.99%. Prior to this agreement the expense ratio was capped at 1.0% on the first $150 million of Fund assets and 0.90% on assets exceeding $150 million. ² Percentage calculated based on total value of long term investments.

³ The Fund commenced operations on July 16, 2001.

We believe these low portfolio turnover rates are consistent with our investment strategy of holding positions for long periods and minimizing transaction expenses for shareholders. Brokerage expenses for this fiscal year's trading again amounted to less than 1 cent per share of your Fund based upon the 8.8 million shares outstanding as of June 30, 2020. Thus, trading expense remained very low owing to low portfolio turnover and brokerage commissions. Both of these are well below industry norms.

⁴ Percentage calculated based on total value of investments.

The Fund's Adviser has periodically trimmed back the allocation to Large Capitalization equities during the past fiscal year in response to the relative outperformance of that group as demonstrated by the preceding charts. Proceeds were allocated to the Mid Capitalization sector. The "graduation" of Small Cap stocks from good performance also contributed to the Mid Capitalization sector's increase from 11.3% to 28.0% this past year.

Concentration

The trimming of large cap positions in highly appreciated stocks to recycle funds into newer investments has also reduced the portfolio's concentration in the past year as demonstrated below:

Top 10 Holdings	06/30/12	06/30/13	06/30/14	06/30/15	06/30/16	06/30/17	06/30/18	06/30/19	06/30/20

	4.9%	4.5%	4.2%	4.3%	4.4%	4.4%	4.1%	3.8%	4.0%

Our thought process is that if we invest 3% in a stock at a price of $40, should we maintain a 4.5% position in the same company when its valuation is 50% higher and the stock reaches $60? Do we want a 50% larger position at a 50% higher valuation? When the answer is "No," such stocks become trim candidates, and the gain is recycled into companies with more attractive valuations.

By industry standards, your Fund's holdings of 40 stocks on June 30, 2020 is considered reasonably concentrated or "focused" even though the SEC considers a mutual fund diversified if no holding represents more than 5% of the portfolio. Your Fund's 5.70% position in Visa on June 30, 2020 was the only holding over 5%.

Market Factors and Strategy

Without doubt the stimulative fiscal and monetary policies have provided immense support for the financial markets during the past year. The dispersion of potential outcomes is wide. There is a downside case where COVID-19 will be a disruptive force for years. There is also an upside case where a vaccine will be found and people can get back to their daily routines. These two scenarios would result in starkly different outcomes for individual stocks and for the markets. We don't know enough to predict confidently which case is more likely, so we are taking a balanced approach in managing the Fund. We want to have a portfolio of best-in-class* companies run by talented and ethical people. Some of these companies are COVID-19 beneficiaries that stand to lose investor attention if we return to normalcy - certain software and healthcare stocks, which have been your Fund's strong performers this past year. Other holdings are COVID-19 victims that stand to perform well if we return to normalcy - real estate and travel-related stocks, for example.

We always strive to do well for shareholders. In our opinion, however, now is not the time to make aggressive moves in the portfolio. We do not think it would be prudent to make a one-sided gamble that, to use a speed-skating analogy, could earn the gold medal but could also result in tripping and falling down. We shy away from binary bets and prefer having multiple ways to outperform.

When COVID-19 appeared, the first thing we did was to evaluate how the pandemic would impact the companies in the portfolio.

Is anything permanently impaired?

Are the sales lost or deferred?

How does our thesis change when the business is stress-tested with a new set of assumptions?

What happens when we stress test the balance sheet?

We focus on owning strong, high quality companies that will attract investor capital and offer high returns to our clients. When markets retrenched, we sought to be opportunistic and to take advantage of irregularities and dislocations we saw, making some portfolio changes based on the criteria above. Our incremental actions have fallen into two buckets.

First, we have trimmed positions in companies that have held up well such as those listed in the prior section and where, in our estimation, future returns have diminished. Proceeds were redeployed into what we believe are great companies where we believed the expected return going forward had increased.

Second, we have bought positions in extraordinary companies with strong long-term appreciation potential where we wanted to establish initial positions, knowing that it will be difficult to time entry points perfectly. The market pullback in March and April offered what we saw as compelling initial entry points.

DF DENT PREMIER GROWTH FUND

JUNE 30, 2020

Our strategy has been to take incremental actions rather than to make huge bets one way or the other. “To make contact with the ball rather than swinging for the fences” to stay with sports metaphors. Simply put, given the high degree of uncertainty, we do not feel like we are smart enough to make big bets and eventually unwind the big bets at just the right time. We prefer to continue our time-tested approach of having a balanced portfolio of quality best-in-class long-term holdings. We will continue to stay on top of the situation and adjust our positions accordingly.

We welcome all new shareholders and as we have often written to shareholders in the past promise to work diligently to earn the trust you have demonstrated in DF Dent and Co. with your investment.

Respectfully Submitted,

Daniel F. Dent

Bruce L. Kennedy

Matthew F. Dent

⁵ The determination of “best-in-class” is solely the opinion of the Fund’s Adviser, and such opinion is subject to change. Those companies that hold leading market share positions, strong growth potential, historically good profitability, and management teams known for integrity and good corporate governance are generally considered to be “best-in-class”.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION:

Investing involves risks, including the possible loss of principal. The DF Dent Premier Growth Fund may invest in small and medium size companies. Investments in these companies, especially smaller companies, carry greater risk than is customarily associated with larger companies for various reasons such as increased volatility of earnings and prospects, narrower markets, limited financial resources and less liquid stock. The Fund will typically invest in the securities of fewer issuers. If the Fund’s portfolio is over weighted in a sector, any negative development affecting that sector will have a greater impact on the Fund than a fund that is not over weighted in that sector.

The DF Dent Midcap Growth Fund (“Midcap Fund”) also invests in small and medium size companies. With non-diversification risk, the Midcap Fund will typically invest in securities of a small group of issuers, which exposes the Midcap Fund to greater market risk. Investing in American Depositary Receipts (ADRs) carries risks of political and financial instability, less liquidity and greater volatility, as well as risks associated with the lack of reliable accounting and financial information. The Midcap Fund is also subject to other risks, such as Real Estate Investment Trusts (REIT) risk with possible real estate market declines, which are detailed in the Midcap Fund’s prospectus.

Period Ending 6/30/2020	DF Dent Premier Growth Fund		S&P 500 Index		Outperformance (Underperformance)

Since Inception (7/16/2001) (cumulative)	+	526.55%	+	277.00%	+ 249.55%

Past performance is not indicative of future performance.

The Fund's net return of +16.82% for the fiscal year ending on June 30, 2020 was composed of:
+8.56% for the six months ending December 31, 2019 and

The first six months were relatively uneventful, while the second six months included one of the worst quarters (Q1) and one of the best quarters (Q2) in recent history. Through it all we are pleased that your Fund's annual return since inception increased from 9.81% one year ago to 10.16% currently.

The first six months were an extension of the record market and 10 year economic expansion. After peaking in mid-February, the market and your Fund declined severely when faced with the uncertainty of the health and economic impact of COVID-19. From the mid-March lows the market and your Fund then rallied strongly largely in response to massive unprecedented monetary and fiscal stimulus.

Given this volatility, how do you evaluate your Fund's performance? The answer is given in two calculations known as "Upside Capture" and "Downside Capture". How did your Fund perform versus the Index during the year? In the last semi-annual report as of 12/31/2019 the Index peaked on 02/18/2020, troughed on 03/20/2020, and rallied for the remainder of the Fund's fiscal year. The following table shows how your Fund performed during each leg:

Date	Index	Phase	Index % Change	DFDPX % Change	Capture	DFDPX Price

Strategic Themes

The Strategic Themes of life sciences and cloud based Software as a Service (SaaS) companies which have been especially well positioned during the pandemic were previously discussed in the Letter to Shareholders. As they represented 20.4% of the Fund and generated 41.6% of the Fund's total year return, these two themes more than carried their weight in their performance. One could also make the case that Amazon, which was #1 contributor to the Fund's performance, and Dollar General were also beneficiaries of the pandemic within the Consumer Discretionary Sector.

Sector Allocation and Attribution

The following bar chart presents the sector weightings of your Fund (DFDPX) versus the sector weightings of the Index as of June 30, 2020:

Source: FactSet

The Index is composed of 11 Sectors excluding Cash. Your Fund outperformed the Index in nine of the 11 Sectors. As was the case one year ago, your Fund did not have holdings as of June 30, 2019 in three Sectors: Consumer Staples, Energy, and Utilities. Not being in these poor performing Sectors contributed to the Fund's performance. Of the eight remaining Sectors, the Fund was under-weighted on June 30, 2020 in four- Information Technology, Consumer Discretionary, Consumer Services, and Financials. It outperformed three of these Sectors but lagged Information Technology. During the fiscal year the Fund had an average weighting greater than the Index's Information Technology's average weighting but trimmed back within this Sector due to its outperformance. The Fund was over-weighted in the four remaining Sectors: Health Care, Industrials, and Real Estate where it out-performed the Index's Sectors, and Materials where it underperformed due to its position in Vulcan Materials.

The performance of the Fund's five largest Sector weightings versus the Index:

Sector	Percent of the Fund	Fund Sector Performance vs. Index
Information Technology	25.4%	+26.46% vs. +35.90%
Health Care	21.9%	+17.10% vs. +11.12%
Industrials	17.2%	+12.96% vs. -9.15%
Financials	8.8%	+17.42% vs. -13.90%
Real Estate	8.2%	+12.27% vs. -1.91%

The Sector weightings remained fairly constant through the year with the exception of Information Technology which was trimmed back as mentioned above and Health Care which was increased from 15.7% one year ago to 21.9% on June 30, 2020. Stock selection in Industrials, Financials, and Real Estate generated good returns versus the Index which experienced negative returns in these Sectors.

Individual Stock Performance

Your Fund held 40 different stocks at fiscal year-end and 45 during the course of the fiscal year. Of the 10 losing stocks which provided a combined loss of -5.31% to the Fund as of June 30, 2020, four were eliminated. Those four were Marriott, Healthcare Services Group, Brooks Automation, and Trimble. Marriott, the greatest loss, is a fine company but the decline in travel and dining due to the pandemic took its toll on the company and its stock price. We have held Markel, the second poorest performing stock, due to its stringent underwriting standards and anticipated firming of insurance markets.

Google, Tyler Technologies and Healthcare Services were poor performers in the prior fiscal year ending June 30, 2019. We held onto Google and Tyler which generated returns of 30.64% and 60.28% respectively in the recent fiscal year. We exited Healthcare Services which performed poorly again this past year. Two strikes and you're out.

Those stocks with the greatest contribution (a combination of price appreciation at weighting) to the Fund are listed later under the Section of Five Best Contributors. The stocks with the best fiscal year individual performance (without regard to portfolio weighting) were:

1. Twilio	+140.96%
2. Okta, Inc.	+ 61.81%
3. Tyler Tech.	+ 60.26%
4. Veeva Systems	+ 55.18%
5. BlackLine	+ 54.68%

These are very highly valued stocks. Twilio, Okta, Tyler, and BlackLine have all been trimmed back due to valuation analysis. Veeva Systems is an initial position and still represented only 0.55% of the Fund on June 30, 2020.

Your Fund has followed a policy of not investing in any derivative securities.

Capital Gains Distribution Policy

Your Fund is required to distribute its net realized capital gains each year. A long-term capital gain of $2.61 per share was distributed in December 2019.

Since inception (July 16, 2001), your Fund has distributed a total of $76,997,321 or $13.11 per share in realized gains. Consequently, an original shareholder on July 16, 2001 who invested $10 a share in the Fund has received $13.11 in capital gain distributions. An investor who elected to receive these capital gain distributions in cash would have accumulated total value of $52.02 as of June 30, 2020 ($13.11 in cash distributions + $38.91 share price).

DF DENT PREMIER GROWTH FUND

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION OF FUND PERFORMANCE (Unaudited)

JUNE 30, 2020

If a shareholder reinvested all the capital gain distributions in additional shares at the time of each capital gain distribution, the original $10 investment would now be worth $62.66 for a 10.16% annual return after fees versus $37.70 and a 7.25% annual return in the Index (before index fund fees). The $10.64 higher return for the investor reinvesting capital gain versus taking cash distributions represents the additional appreciation of the reinvested shares. Therefore, while your Fund's 10.16% annual return versus 7.25% in the Index may not seem like a large amount, 19 years of annual returns at that differential resulted in an additional $24.96 return over the Index on a $10 investment.

Albert Einstein has been quoted as saying, "The power of compound interest is the most powerful force in the universe." Given the source, it's a memorable quote. A corollary might be that "differentials of compound interest are by definition exponentially powerful."

Performance data quoted represents past performance and is no guarantee of future results. Current performance may be lower or higher than the performance data quoted. Investment return and principal value will fluctuate so that shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than original cost. As stated in the Fund's prospectus, the annual operating expense ratio (gross) is 1.19%. However, the Fund's Adviser has contractually agreed to waive its fee and/or reimburse Fund expenses to limit Total Annual Fund Operating Expenses After Fee Waiver and/or Expense Reimbursement (excluding all taxes, interest, portfolio transaction expenses, and extraordinary expenses) to 0.99%, through October 31, 2020 (the "Expense Cap"). The Expense Cap may be raised or eliminated only with the consent of the Board of Trustees. The Adviser may be reimbursed by the Fund for fees waived and expenses reimbursed by the Adviser pursuant to the Expense Cap if such payment is made within three years of the fee waiver or expense reimbursement and does not cause the Total Annual Fund Operating Expenses After Fee Waiver and/or Expense Reimbursement to exceed the lesser of (i) the then-current Expense Cap and (ii) the Expense Cap in place at the time the fees/expenses were waived/reimbursed. Total Annual Fund Operating Expenses After Fee Waiver and/or Expense Reimbursement will increase if exclusions from the Expense Cap apply. During the period, certain fees were waived and/or expenses reimbursed; otherwise, returns would have been lower. The performance table and graph do not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on Fund distributions or the redemption of Fund shares. Returns greater than one year are annualized. For the most recent month-end performance, please call (866) 233-3368.

The gross operating expense ratio for the Fund is 1.13% for Investor Shares and 1.11% for Institutional Shares. Per the Fund's prospectus, your Fund's investment Adviser has contractually agreed to waive a portion of its fees to limit the expense ratio to 0.98% for Investor Shares and 0.85% for Institutional Shares through October 31, 2020.

Top 10 Holdings	06/30/20

Average Position Size of Top 10	4.235%

We believe the concentration in the Fund's top ten positions is appropriate at its current level and has the potential to enhance long-term performance.

Management Ownership of Fund

Portfolio Commentary

When we last wrote to you in July of 2019, none of us could have anticipated or foreseen the events of the past several months. While markets ended 2019 on a high note, and continued to rally into the start of 2020, the emergence of COVID-19 and its devastating effect on humankind have led to incredible market volatility, global economic distress, and a human tragedy unlike any most of us have experienced before. We have all been challenged over the last few months.

DF DENT MIDCAP GROWTH FUND

JUNE 30, 2020

At D.F. Dent, we have continued to focus on delivering results for our clients even in the face of adversity. We are pleased that the Fund has out-performed the Index by over 300 basis points in the past 12 months. Since its inception in 2011, the Fund has returned 14.74% on an annualized basis, which compares to a 12.13% annualized return for the Index. Our process has consistently delivered strong results for our clients, and we thought this would be an opportune time to introduce new clients to our process and firm.

Daniel F. Dent, CFA started D.F. Dent and Company, Inc. in 1976 and the firm has always been 100% management owned. While your Fund was launched in 2011, we have been managing mid-cap accounts that follow a similar strategy since 1986. Since day one, a core belief has been that over time, stock performance is highly correlated with earnings per share growth and real wealth is created by owning successful companies for a long period of time. As a result, our strategy has always been to manage concentrated, low-turnover "quality growth" portfolios.

We invest in companies with three core investment characteristics: best-in-class*, niche-focused businesses; proven business models; and talented and ethical management teams. An extensive due diligence process is the core of our process, and meeting and evaluating management is a critical component of our multi-pronged approach. We have found that a distinctive feature of enduring quality growth companies is the way their "leaders lead." The firm seeks to invest in companies run by "Level 5 Leaders," a concept developed by Jim Collins in his book Good to Great. Level 5 leaders display a powerful and unique mixture of personal humility and indomitable will.

Our investment process is highly collaborative, and many members of the investment team are involved in the research of an idea from start to finish. Your Fund is team managed by four portfolio managers. We believe that the stability and tenure of the portfolio management team is a unique characteristic. The firm does not believe in a "star system" and the culture heavily promotes teamwork, kindness, humility, and integrity. As a result, D.F. Dent has had extremely low professional turnover.

Throughout the firm's history, and the history of the Fund, we have invested across various business cycles, through many types of markets, and amidst a variety of exogenous events. Through those periods, our investment philosophy and our core values have remained the same. It is in times of market turmoil when we lean on what got us here: our people, our philosophy and our process. We have found that at moments like the one we are currently facing, high-quality growth companies with talented management teams often extend their lead relative to competition and emerge stronger than before.

Just as your portfolio companies call upon their experience and expertise in times of crisis, we as an investment firm call upon our past learnings to make changes to your portfolios we think will maximize future returns. We believe it is our job to take advantage of the opportunities presented to us and position your portfolios to thrive in the future. When COVID-19 appeared, the first thing we did was to evaluate how the pandemic would impact the companies in the portfolio. Specifically, for each company, we asked ourselves the following questions:

Is anything permanently impaired?

Are a company's sales lost or deferred?

DF DENT MIDCAP GROWTH FUND

A MESSAGE TO OUR SHAREHOLDERS (Unaudited)

JUNE 30, 2020

How does our thesis change when the business is stress-tested for this never-before-seen situation?

What happens when we stress test the balance sheet?

We focus on owning strong, high-quality companies that will attract investor capital and offer high returns to our clients. When markets retrenched, we sought to be opportunistic and to take advantage of irregularities and dislocations we saw, making some portfolio changes based on the criteria above. Our incremental actions have fallen into two buckets.

First, we have trimmed positions in companies that have held up well and where, in our estimation, future returns have diminished. Proceeds were redeployed into what we view as great companies where we believed the expected return going forward had increased. Second, we have bought positions in extraordinary companies with strong long-term appreciation potential where we wanted to establish initial positions, knowing that it would be difficult to time entry points perfectly. The market pullback offered what we saw as compelling initial entry points.

Our strategy has been to take incremental actions rather than to make huge bets one way or the other. Given the high degree of uncertainty, we think it is a difficult task to know exactly when to make big bets and when to unwind them. We prefer to continue our time-tested approach of having a balanced portfolio of quality long-term holdings. We will continue to stay on top of the situation and adjust our positions accordingly.

The following companies are three of the best contributors to the Fund's performance over the past year. We thought highlighting them would give you a sense of not only why we have invested in them on your behalf, but also why they have outperformed recently.

BlackLine, Inc. (BL) is a leading provider of cloud-based financial and accounting automation software solutions. It is an innovator in financial book closing software as well as several other products with tremendous market potential. The stock has been especially strong since the market bottomed in March. The company reported strong quarterly results that, despite negative impacts from COVID-19, beat guidance set prior to the pandemic. More importantly, the strong results revealed accelerating revenue growth, which is an indication that BL's work over the past two years to optimize its business organization and revamp its marketing strategies is now paying off. We trimmed the stock on strength, but continue to believe that it has very attractive long-term potential.

Moody's Corp. (MCO), a leading provider of credit ratings and related research, data, and analytical tools, saw several strong quarterly results over the past year, driven by a strong issuance environment and a favorable customer mix of infrequent issuers. To most investors' surprise, the strong issuance trend continued into the second quarter of 2020 with corporate investment grade issuance volume almost doubling Y-o-Y. The stock has continued to react positively and recently reached an all-time high despite concerns about a global economic downturn related to the pandemic. We trimmed our position in MCO as the risk-reward became less favorable. We continue to view Moody's ratings business as exceptional, with proven pricing power and high barriers to entry.

A MESSAGE TO OUR SHAREHOLDERS (Unaudited)

JUNE 30, 2020

ANSYS, Inc. (ANSS), a developer and marketer of simulation software and services to engineers and product designers, has performed very well operationally over the last year. Deeper relationships with ANSS's largest enterprise customers has resulted in larger deal sizes and impressive revenue growth and bookings numbers. While the company has faced some uncertainty related to COVID-19, we remain confident in ANSS's long-term growth opportunities and secular tailwinds. We believe that its EPS growth - driven by strong organic revenue growth, some margin expansion, and acquisition activity - will support above-market stock price appreciation over the long term.

Attribution Analysis

In the fiscal year ending June 30, 2020, most of your Fund's outperformance can be attributed to stock selection, not sector allocation.

Your Fund was over-weighted versus the Index benchmark in the Financials, Industrials, Materials, and Real Estate sectors. In Materials and Real Estate, both the over-weighting and stock selection detracted from performance. In Financials and Industrials, the over-weighting detracted slightly from performance, but stock selection contributed to performance.

Your Fund was under-weighted versus the Index in the Communication Services, Consumer Discretionary, Energy, Health Care, and Information Technology sectors. In Health Care, the under-weighting neither contributed to nor detracted from performance, but stock selection contributed to performance. In Energy, Communication Services, and Consumer Discretionary, both the under-weighting and stock selection contributed to performance. In Information Technology, the under-weighting detracted slightly from performance while stock selection contributed to performance. Your Fund did not hold any positions in the Consumer Staples, Telecommunication Services, and Utilities sectors, which contributed slightly to performance compared to the Index.

Sector Weights

The following chart presents the sector weighting of your Fund versus the sector weightings of the Index as of June 30, 2020 (where the only difference is the communication services, which relates to average weightings as opposed to year-end weightings):

A MESSAGE TO OUR SHAREHOLDERS (Unaudited)

JUNE 30, 2020

* The determination of "best-in-class" is solely the opinion of the Fund's Adviser, and such opinion is subject to change. Those companies that hold leading market share positions, strong growth potential, historically good profitability, and management teams known for integrity and good corporate governance are generally considered to be "best-in-class."

IMPORTANT INFORMATION:

Investing involves risks, including the possible loss of principal. The Fund invests in small- and medium- size companies, which carry greater risk than is customarily associated with larger, more established companies. With non-diversification risk, the Fund will typically invest in securities of fewer issuers, which exposes the Fund to greater market risk. Investing in American Depositary Receipts (ADRs) carries risks of political and financial instability, less liquidity and greater volatility, as well as risks associated with the lack of reliable accounting and financial information. The Fund is also subject to other risks, such as the risk associated with investing in Real Estate Investment Trusts (REITs) like possible real estate market declines, which are detailed in the Fund's prospectus.

The Russell Midcap Growth Index measures the performance of the mid-cap growth segment of the U.S. equity universe. It includes those Russell Midcap Index companies with higher price-to-book ratios and higher forecasted growth values. One cannot invest directly in an index. Price-to-earnings ("P/E") ratio is the valuation of a company's current share price relative to company earnings. Earnings-per-share ("EPS") is the portion of a company's profit allocated to each outstanding share of common stock.

The views in this report contained herein were those of the Fund's Adviser as of June 30, 2020, and may not reflect the Adviser's views on the date this report is first published or anytime thereafter. This report may contain discussions about certain investments, both held and not held, in the portfolio as of the report date. Portfolio Commentary

When we last wrote to you in July of 2019, none of us could have anticipated or foreseen the events of the past several months. While markets ended 2019 on a high note, and continued to rally into the start of 2020, the emergence of COVID-19 and its devastating effect on humankind have led to incredible market volatility, global economic distress, and a human tragedy unlike any most of us have experienced before. We have all been challenged over the last few months.

At D.F. Dent, we have continued to focus on delivering results for our clients even in the face of adversity. We are pleased that the Fund has outperformed the Index by over 500 basis points in the past 12 months. Throughout types of markets, and amidst a variety of exogenous events. Through those periods, our investment philosophy and our core values have remained the same. It is in times of market turmoil when we lean on what got us here: our people, our philosophy and our process. We invest in companies with three core investment characteristics:

best-in-class*, niche-focused businesses, advantaged business models, and talented and ethical management teams. When markets are volatile, management team quality can be a significant differentiator. We have found that at moments like this, high-quality growth companies with talented management teams often extend their lead relative to competition and emerge stronger than before.

Just as your portfolio companies call upon their experience and expertise in times of crisis, we as an investment firm call upon our past learnings to make changes to your portfolios we think will maximize future returns. We believe it is our job to take advantage of the opportunities presented to us and position your portfolios to thrive in the future. When COVID-19 appeared, the first thing we did was to evaluate how the pandemic would impact the companies in the portfolio. Specifically, for each company, we asked ourselves the following questions:

Is anything permanently impaired?

Are a company's sales lost or deferred?

How does our thesis change when the business is stress-tested for this never-before-seen situation?

What happens when we stress test the balance sheet?

We focus on owning strong, high-quality companies that will attract investor capital and offer high returns to our clients. When markets retrenched, we sought to be opportunistic and to take advantage of irregularities and dislocations we saw, making some portfolio changes based on the criteria above. Our incremental actions have fallen into two buckets.

First, we have trimmed positions in companies that have held up well and where, in our estimation, future returns have diminished. Proceeds were redeployed into what we viewed as great companies where we believed the expected return going forward had increased. Second, we have bought positions in extraordinary companies with strong long-term appreciation potential where we wanted to establish initial positions, knowing that it would be difficult to time entry points perfectly. The market pullback offered what we saw as compelling initial entry points.

Our strategy has been to take incremental actions rather than to make huge bets one way or the other. Given the high degree of uncertainty, we think it is a difficult task to know exactly when to make big bets and when to unwind them. We prefer to continue our time-tested approach of having a balanced portfolio of quality long-term holdings. We will continue to stay on top of the situation and adjust our positions accordingly.

The following companies are three of the best contributors to the Fund's performance over the past year. We thought highlighting them would give you a sense of not only why we have invested in them on your behalf, but also why they have outperformed recently.

JUNE 30, 2020

Tyler Technologies, Inc. (TYL) is a leading provider of software systems to state and local governments. TYL had a very strong second half of 2019, reporting record quarterly bookings in 3Q. At the same time, TYL signed the two largest software-as-a-service (SaaS) contracts in its history and reiterated its prior guidance, calling for a meaningful organic revenue growth acceleration in the second half of 2019. The company continued to perform well in 2020, despite the challenges brought on by COVID-19. We trimmed the stock on strength over the course of the year; however, we continue to believe TYL's excellent management, high recurring revenue, and strong business model - selling mission-critical software to highly risk-averse clients - makes it an attractive long-term growth story.

SiteOne Landscape Supply, Inc. (SITE), the leading national distributor of landscaping products, had a strong end to 2019 after reporting solid 3Q earnings that combined strong organic growth, margin expansion, debt reduction and a very active acquisition pipeline. However, the company came under significant pressure during the COVID-19 market sell-off in March amidst fears over how the pandemic would affect its various end markets. We used the stock weakness to add to the position, as we believe the company has a dominant market position and is a compounder that will outperform the market over the long-term. The stock has returned more than 80% off of its early-April lows.

BlackLine , Inc. (BL) is a leading provider of cloud-based financial and accounting automation software solutions. It is an innovator in financial book closing software as well as several other products with tremendous market potential. The stock has been especially strong since the market bottomed in March. The company reported strong quarterly results that, despite negative impacts from COVID-19, still beat guidance set prior to the pandemic. More importantly, the strong results revealed accelerating revenue growth, which is an indication that BL's work over the past two years to optimize its business organization and revamp its marketing strategies is now paying off.

In Communication Services, the over-weighting contributed to performance but stock selection detracted from performance. In Consumer Staples, over-weighting contributed to performance but stock selection detracted from performance.

Your Fund was under-weighted versus the Index in the Consumer Discretionary, Financials, and Health Care sectors. In Consumer Discretionary, the under-weighting contributed to performance but stock selection detracted from performance. In Financials, both the under-weighting and stock selection contributed to performance. In Health Care, both the under-weighting and stock selection detracted from performance. Your Fund did not hold any positions in the Energy, Materials, Real Estate and Utilities sectors which contributed to its performance compared to the Index.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION:

Investing involves risks, including the possible loss of principal. The Fund invests in small- and medium-size companies, which carry greater risk than typically more established companies. With more diversification risk, the Fund may be more associated with larger issuers, which exposes the Fund to greater market risk. Investing in American Depositary Receipts (ADRs) carries risks of political and financial instability, less liquidity and greater volatility, as well as risks associated with the lack of reliable accounting and financial information. The Fund is also subject to other risks, such as the risk associated with Real Estate Investment Trusts (REITs) like possible real estate market declines, which are detailed in the Fund's prospectus.

The Russell 2000 Growth Index measures the performance of the small-cap growth segment of the U.S. equity universe. One cannot invest directly in an index.

The views in this report contained herein were those of the Fund's Adviser as of June 30, 2020, and may not reflect the Adviser's views on the date this report is first published or anytime thereafter.  NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
 JUNE 30, 2020

Organization

DF Dent Premier Growth Fund, DF Dent Midcap Growth Fund, and DF Dent Small Cap Growth Fund (individually, a "Fund", and collectively, the "Funds") are diversified portfolios of Forum Funds (the "Trust"). The Trust is a Delaware statutory trust that is registered as an open-end management investment company under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the "Act"). Under its Trust Instrument, the Trust is authorized to issue an unlimited number of each Fund's shares of beneficial interest without par value. DF Dent Premier Growth Fund commenced operations on July 16, 2001. DF Dent Midcap Growth Fund's Investor Shares and Institutional Shares commenced operations on July 1, 2011 and November 29, 2017, respectively. DF Dent Small Cap Growth Fund's Investor Shares and Institutional Shares commenced operations on November 1, 2013 and November 20, 2017, respectively. The Funds seek long-term capital appreciation.

Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

The Funds are investment companies and follow accounting and reporting guidance under Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") Accounting Standards Codification ("ASC") Topic 946, "Financial Services – Investment Companies." These financial statements are prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP"), which require management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosure of contingent liabilities at the date of the financial statements, and the reported amounts of increases and decreases in net assets from operations during the fiscal year. Actual amounts could differ from those estimates. The following summarizes the significant accounting policies of each Fund:

Security Valuation – Securities are valued at market prices using the last quoted trade or official closing price from the principal exchange where the security is traded, as provided by independent pricing services on each Fund business day. In the absence of a last trade, securities are valued at the mean of the last bid and ask price provided by the pricing service. Shares of non-exchange traded open-end mutual funds are valued at net asset value ("NAV"). Short-term investments that mature in sixty days or less may be valued at amortized cost.

Each Fund values its investments at fair value pursuant to procedures adopted by the Trust's Board of Trustees (the "Board") if (1) market quotations are not readily available or (2) the Adviser, as defined in Note 4, believes that the values available are unreliable. The Trust's Valuation Committee, as defined in each Fund's registration statement, performs certain functions, as they relate to the administration and oversight of each Fund's valuation procedures. Under these procedures, the Valuation Committee convenes on a regular and ad hoc basis to review such investments and considers a number of factors, including valuation methodologies and significant unobservable inputs, when arriving at fair value.

The Valuation Committee may work with the Adviser to provide valuation inputs. In determining fair valuations, inputs may include market-based analytics that may consider related or comparable assets or liabilities, recent transactions, market multiples, book values and other relevant investment information. Adviser inputs may include an income-based approach in which the anticipated future cash flows of the investment are discounted in determining fair value. Discounts may also be applied based on the nature or duration of any restrictions on the disposition of the investments. The Valuation Committee performs regular reviews of valuation methodologies, key inputs and assumptions, disposition analysis and market activity.

Fair value is based on subjective factors and the price at which the asset may be sold. Fair value may differ from the security's market price and may not be the price at which the asset may be sold. Fair value may differ result in a different NAV than a NAV determined by using market quotes.

GAAP has a three-tier fair value hierarchy. The basis of the tiers is dependent upon the various "inputs" used to determine the value of each Fund's investments. These inputs are summarized in the three broad levels listed below:

Level 1 - Quoted prices in active markets for identical assets and liabilities.

Level 2 - Prices determined using significant other observable inputs (including quoted prices for similar securities, interest rates, prepayment speeds, credit risk, etc.). Short-term securities with maturities of sixty days or less are valued at amortized cost, which approximates market value, and are categorized as Level 2 in the hierarchy. Municipal securities, long-term U.S. government obligations and corporate debt securities are valued in accordance with the evaluated price supplied by a pricing service and generally categorized as Level 2 in the hierarchy. Other securities that are categorized as Level 2 in the hierarchy include, but are not limited to, warrants that do not trade on an exchange, securities valued at the mean between the last reported bid and ask quotation, and international equity securities valued by an independent third party with adjustments for changes in value between the time of the securities' respective local market closes and the close of the U.S. market.

Level 3 - Significant unobservable inputs (including each Fund's own assumptions in determining the fair value of investments).

The aggregate value by input level, as of June 30, 2020, for each Fund's investments is included at the end of each Fund's Schedule of Investments.

Security Transactions, Investment Income and Realized Gain and Loss – Investment transactions are accounted for on the trade date. Dividend income is recorded on the ex-dividend date. Foreign dividend income is recorded on the ex-dividend date or as soon as possible after determining the existence of a dividend declaration after exercising reasonable due diligence. Income and capital gains on some foreign securities may be subject to foreign withholding taxes, which are accrued as applicable. Interest income is recorded on an accrual basis. Premium is amortized to the next call date above par and discount is accreted to maturity using the effective interest method. Identified cost of investments sold is used to determine the gain and loss for both financial statement and federal income tax purposes.

Distributions to Shareholders – Each Fund declares any dividends from net investment income and pays them annually. Any net capital gains realized by the Funds are distributed at least annually. Distributions to shareholders are recorded on the ex-dividend date. Distributions are based on amounts calculated in accordance with applicable federal income tax regulations, which may differ from GAAP. These differences are due primarily to differing treatments of income and gain on various investment securities held by each Fund, timing differences and differing characterizations of distributions made by each Fund.

JUNE 30, 2020

Federal Taxes

Each Fund intends to continue to qualify each year as a regulated investment company, under Subchapter M of Chapter 1, subtitle A, of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended ("Code"), and to distribute all of their taxable income to shareholders. In addition, by distributing in each calendar year substantially all of their net investment income and capital gains, if any, the Funds will not be subject to a federal excise tax. Therefore, no federal income or excise tax provision is required. Each Fund files a U.S. federal income and excise tax return as required. Each Fund's federal income tax returns are subject to examination by the Internal Revenue Service for a period of three fiscal years after they are filed. As of June 30, 2020, there are no uncertain tax positions that would require financial statement recognition, de-recognition or disclosure.

Income and Expense Allocation – The Trust accounts separately for the assets, liabilities and operations of each of its investment portfolios. Expenses that are directly attributable to more than one investment portfolio are allocated among the respective investment portfolios in an equitable manner.

The DF Dent Midcap Growth Fund's and DF Dent Small Cap Growth Fund's class-specific expenses are charged to the operations of that class of shares. Income and expenses (other than expenses attributable to a specific class) and realized and unrealized gains or losses on investments are allocated to each class of shares based on the class' respective net assets to the total net assets of each Fund.

Redemption Fees – A shareholder who redeems shares of DF Dent Midcap Growth Fund and DF Dent Small Cap Growth Fund within 60 days of purchase may incur a redemption fee of 2.00% of the current net asset value of shares redeemed, subject to certain limitations. The fee is charged for the benefit of the remaining shareholders and will be paid to each Fund to help offset transaction costs. The fee is accounted for as an addition to paid-in capital. Each Fund reserves the right to modify the terms of or terminate the fee at any time. There are limited exceptions to the imposition of the redemption fee. Redemption fees incurred for each Fund, if any, are reflected on the Statements of Changes in Net Assets.

Commitments and Contingencies – In the normal course of business, each Fund enters into contracts that provide general indemnifications by each Fund to the counterparty to the contract. Each Fund's maximum exposure under these arrangements is dependent on future claims that may be made against each Fund and, therefore, cannot be estimated; however, based on experience, the risk of loss from such claims is considered remote. Each Fund has determined that none of these arrangements requires disclosure on each Fund's balance sheet.

Cash – Concentration in Uninsured Account

For cash management purposes, each Fund may concentrate cash with each Fund's custodian. This typically results in cash balances exceeding the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation ("FDIC") insurance limits. As of June 30, 2020, DF Dent Premier Growth Fund, DF Dent Midcap Growth Fund, and DF Dent Small Cap Growth Fund had $63,507, $16,315,689, and $18,979, respectively, at MUFG Union Bank, N.A. that exceeded the FDIC insurance limit.

The Adviser compensates the Distributor directly for its services. The Distributor is not affiliated with the Adviser or Atlantic Fund Administration, LLC, a wholly owned subsidiary of Apex US Holdings, LLC (d/b/a Apex Fund Services) (“Apex”) or their affiliates.

Other Service Providers – Apex provides fund accounting, fund administration, compliance and transfer agency services to each Fund. The fees related to these services are included in Fund services fees within the Statements of Operations. The Trustees and Chairman may receive additional fees for special Board meetings. Each Trustee is also reimbursed for all reasonable out-of-pocket expenses incurred in connection with his or her duties as a Trustee, including travel and related expenses incurred in attending Board meetings. The amount of Trustees’ fees attributable to each Fund is disclosed in the Statements of Operations. Certain officers of the Trust are also officers or employees of the above named service providers, and during their terms of office received no compensation from each Fund.

As of June 30, 2020, $582,261 and $320,530 are subject to recoupment by the Adviser for the DF Dent Premier Growth Fund and DF Dent Small Cap Growth Fund, respectively. Investment Advisory Agreement Approval

At the June 23, 2020 Board meeting, the Board, including all of the Independent Trustees, considered the approval of the continuance of the investment advisory agreement between the Adviser and the Trust, pertaining to the Funds (the "Advisory Agreement"). In preparation for its deliberations, the Board requested written responses from the Adviser to a due diligence questionnaire circulated on the Board's behalf concerning the services provided by the Adviser. The Board also discussed the materials with Fund counsel and, as necessary, with the Trust's administrator, Apex Fund Services. During its deliberations, the Board received an oral presentation from the Adviser, and was assisted by the advice of Trustee counsel.

At the meeting, the Board reviewed, among other matters: (1) the nature, extent and quality of the services provided to the Funds by the Adviser, including information on the investment performance of the Funds; (2) the costs of the services provided and profitability to the Adviser with respect to its relationship with each Fund; (3) information concerning the advisory fee and total expense ratio of each Fund, including a comparison to the fees and expenses of a relevant peer group of funds; (4) the extent to which economies of scale may be realized as each Fund grows and whether the advisory fee enables investors to share in the benefits of economies of scale; and (5) other benefits received by the Adviser from its relationship with the Funds. The Board recognized that the evaluation process with respect to the Adviser was an ongoing one and, in this regard, the Board considered information provided by the Adviser at regularly scheduled meetings during the past year.

Nature, Extent and Quality of Services

Based on written materials received, a presentation from senior representatives of the Adviser and a discussion with the Adviser about the Adviser's personnel, operations and financial condition, the Board considered the quality of services provided by the Adviser under the Advisory Agreement. In this regard, the Board considered information regarding the experience, qualifications and professional background of the portfolio managers and other personnel at the Adviser with principal responsibility for the Funds, as well as the investment philosophy and decision-making process of the Adviser and the capability and integrity of the Adviser's senior management and staff.

The Board considered also the adequacy of the Adviser's resources. The Board noted the Adviser's representation that the firm is in stable financial condition, that the firm is able to meet its expense reimbursement obligations to the Funds, and that the firm has the operational capability and necessary staffing and experience to continue providing high quality investment advisory services to the Funds. Based on the presentation and the materials provided by the Adviser in connection with the Board's consideration of the renewal of the Advisory Agreement, the Board concluded that, overall, it was satisfied with the nature, extent and quality of services provided to the Funds under the Advisory Agreement.

Performance

In connection with a presentation by the Adviser regarding its approach to managing the Funds, the Board reviewed the performance of each Fund compared to its respective benchmark and to a peer group of funds.

DF DENT GROWTH FUNDS

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION (Unaudited)

JUNE 30, 2020

The Board observed that the DF Dent Premier Growth Fund outperformed its primary benchmark index, the S&P 500 Index, for the one-, three-, five-, and 10-year periods ended March 31, 2020, and for the period since the DF Dent Premier Growth Fund's inception on July 16, 2001. The Board also considered the DF Dent Premier Growth

Fund's performance relative to an independent peer group of funds identified by Broadridge Financial Solutions, Inc. ("Broadridge") as having characteristics similar to those of the DF Dent Premier Growth Fund. The Board observed that, based on information provided by Broadridge, the DF Dent Premier Growth Fund outperformed the median of its Broadridge peer group for the one-, three-, and five-year periods ended March 31, 2020.

The Board observed that the DF Dent Midcap Growth Fund outperformed its primary benchmark index, the Russell Midcap Growth Index, for the one-, three-, and five-year periods ended March 31, 2020, and for the period since the DF Dent Midcap Growth Fund's inception on July 1, 2011. The Board observed that the DF Dent Midcap Growth Fund also outperformed the median of its Broadridge peer group for the one-, three-, and five-year periods ended March 31, 2020.

The Board observed that the DF Dent Small Cap Growth Fund outperformed its primary benchmark index, the Russell 2000 Growth Index, for the one-, three-, and five-year periods ended March 31, 2020, and for the period since the DF Dent Small Cap Growth Fund's inception on November 1, 2013. The Board observed that the DF Dent Small Cap Growth Fund also outperformed the median of its Broadridge peer group over the one-, three-, and five-year periods ended March 31, 2020.

In light of the foregoing and other relevant factors, the Board concluded that the performance of each Fund was reasonable and that each Fund could benefit from the Adviser's continued management.

Compensation

The Board evaluated the Adviser's compensation for providing advisory services to each of the Funds and analyzed comparative information on actual advisory fee rates and actual total expenses of the Funds' respective Broadridge peer groups. The Board noted that the actual advisory fee rate for the DF Dent Premier Growth Fund was higher than the median of its Broadridge peer group but the total expense ratio for the DF Dent Premier Growth Fund was less than the median of its Broadridge peers.

The Board noted that each of the Adviser's actual advisory fee rate and the Funds' total expense ratios for each of the DF Dent Midcap Growth Fund and DF Dent Small Cap Growth Fund were lower than the median of their respective Broadridge peer groups.

Based on the foregoing and other relevant factors, the Board concluded that the Adviser's current advisory fee rates charged to each of the Funds were reasonable.

Cost of Services and Profitability

The Board considered information provided by the Adviser regarding the costs of services and its profitability with respect to the Funds. In this regard, the Board considered the Adviser's operating expenses and other resources devoted to the Funds, as well as the information provided by the Adviser regarding costs and overall profitability.

DF DENT GROWTH FUNDS

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION (Unaudited)

JUNE 30, 2020

The Board noted that the Adviser had in place a contractual expense waiver to ensure the expense ratios for the Funds remained at reasonable levels and that the Adviser had recently lowered the expense cap for the DF Dent Premier Growth Fund, effective November 1, 2019. The Board also noted that the Adviser had committed to extending the expense cap arrangements for all of the Funds through at least the duration of the current Advisory Agreement Renewal period. The Board further noted the Adviser's representation that the Funds were less profitable to the Adviser than the Adviser's overall investment management business because, although the Funds represented a relatively small percentage of the Adviser's total assets under management, the Funds represented a relatively high percentage of the Adviser's overall administrative, reporting, and compliance expenses. Based on these and other applicable considerations, the Board concluded that the Adviser's profits attributable to management of the Funds were reasonable.

Economies of Scale

The Board evaluated whether the Funds would benefit from any economies of scale. In this respect, the Board considered each Fund's fee structure, asset size, and net expense ratio, giving effect to the Fund's expense cap. The Board also considered the Adviser's representation that the DF Dent Small Cap Growth and DF Dent Midcap Growth Funds were not currently operating at asset levels that produced economies of scale and observed that the Adviser had recently lowered the expense cap for the DF Dent Premier Growth Fund, resulting in a lower expense ratio for the DF Dent Premier Growth Fund and its shareholders. The Trustees concluded that, although there were no advisory fee breakpoints, the asset level of each Fund was either not consistent with the existence of economies of scale, or that any existing economies of scale were reflected in the expense cap structure of the Fund for the benefit of Fund shareholders.

Other Benefits

The Board noted the Adviser's representation that, aside from its contractual advisory fees, it does not benefit in a material way from its relationship with the Funds. Based on the foregoing representation, the Board concluded that other benefits received by the Adviser from its relationship with the Funds were not a material factor to consider in approving the continuation of the Advisory Agreement.

Conclusion

The Board did not identify any single factor as being of paramount importance, and different Trustees may have given different weight to different factors. The Board reviewed a memorandum from Fund counsel discussing the legal standards applicable to its consideration of the Advisory Agreement. Based on its review, including consideration of each of the factors referenced above, and its consideration of information received throughout the year from the Adviser, the Board determined, in the exercise of its business judgment, that the advisory arrangement, as outlined in the Advisory Agreement, was fair and reasonable in light of the services performed or to be performed, expenses incurred or to be incurred and such other matters as the Board considered relevant.

Shareholder Expense Example

As a shareholder of the Funds, you incur two types of costs: (1) transaction costs, including redemption fees, and (2) ongoing costs, including management fees and other Fund expenses. This example is intended to help you understand your ongoing costs (in dollars) of investing in the Funds, and to compare these costs with the ongoing costs of investing in other mutual funds.

The example is based on an investment of $1,000, invested at the beginning of the period and held for the entire period from January 1, 2020 through June 30, 2020.

Actual Expenses – The first line of the table below provides information about actual account values and actual expenses. You may use the information in this line together with the amount $1,000 invested to estimate the account value divided by $1,000 = 8.6), then multiply the result by the number in the first line under the heading entitled "Expenses Paid During Period" to estimate the expenses you paid on your account during the period.

Hypothetical Example for Comparison Purposes – The second line of the table below provides information about hypothetical account values and hypothetical expenses based on each Fund's actual expense ratio and an assumed rate of return of 5% per year before expenses, which is not each Fund's actual return. The hypothetical account values and expenses may not be used to estimate the actual ending account balance or expenses you paid for the period. You may use this information to compare the ongoing costs of investing in each Fund and other funds. To do so, compare this 5% hypothetical example with the 5% hypothetical examples that appear in the shareholder reports of other funds.

Please note that the expenses shown in the table are meant to highlight your ongoing costs only and do not reflect any transactional costs, such as redemption fees. Therefore, the second line of the table is useful in comparing ongoing costs only and will not help you determine the relative total costs of owning different funds. In addition, if these transactional costs were included, your costs would have been higher.
