Beginning on January 1, 2021, as permitted by regulations adopted by the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission, paper copies of each Fund's annual and semi-annual shareholder reports, like this annual report, will no longer be sent by mail, unless you specifically request paper copies of the reports. Instead, the reports will be made available on the Voya funds' website (www.voyainvestments.com/literature), and you will be notified by mail each time a report is posted and provided with a website link to access the report.

If you already elected to receive shareholder reports electronically, you will not be affected by this change and you need not take any action. You may elect to receive shareholder reports and other communications from a Fund electronically anytime by contacting your financial intermediary (such as a broker-dealer or bank) or, if you are a direct investor, by calling 1-800-992-0180 or by sending an e-mail request to Voyaim\_literature@voya.com.

You may elect to receive all future reports in paper free of charge. If you received this document in the mail, please follow the instructions to elect to continue receiving paper copies of your shareholder reports. If you received this document through a financial intermediary, you can contact your financial intermediary to request that you continue to receive paper copies of your shareholder reports. If you invest directly with us, you can call 1-800-992-0180 or send an email request to Voyaim\_literature@voya.com to let each Fund know you wish to continue receiving paper copies of your shareholder reports. Your election to receive reports in paper will apply to all funds held in your account if you invest through your financial intermediary or all funds held with the Voya funds complex if you invest directly with the funds.

This report is submitted for general information to shareholders of the Voya mutual funds. It is not authorized for distribution to prospective shareholders unless accompanied or preceded by a prospectus which includes details regarding the funds' investment objectives, risks, charges, expenses and other information. This information should be read carefully.

PRESIDENT'S LETTER

Markets Advance Despite Headwinds

Dear Shareholder,

During the one-year fiscal period of this report, the financial markets have shown us a wide range of potential conditions. They were on the upswing in the first half of the fiscal year, pushed by the tailwinds of easing trade tensions and supportive central bank policies. Then, in the second fiscal half came the headwind of the Covid-19 pandemic — measures taken to curtail the spread of the virus stalled the global economy and put the financial markets into a tailspin. In our opinion, the response from global policy makers was swift and massive, particularly from the U.S. Federal Reserve Board (“Fed”) and Congress; those actions have alleviated some of the pain during the contraction, and hopefully will foster recovery once the lockdowns are lifted.

In our view, the massive global policy response to the coronavirus crisis has created a wide divergence between asset prices and the real economy. The financial markets have resurged on expectations that the Fed will continue its support, that the pandemic eventually will subside and that the economy will quickly rebound once restraints are lifted. While policy alone is not sufficient, we believe it is creating the conditions for a robust recovery and markets have been quick to factor in such a scenario. We believe investors are discounting current conditions to focus on corporate earnings potential one to two years ahead.

Only time will tell if that is a wise approach; in the meantime, we still expect to face heightened economic and market uncertainty. Nonetheless, we believe the basics of investing remain intact: in our view, the best approach is to diversify one's portfolio as broadly as possible, and avoid the temptation to time market entries and exits, seeking to capture gains or sidestep losses. The risk-return tradeoffs your advisor built into your portfolio are intended to achieve long-term investment goals; they should not be undone for any shorter-term considerations. In our view, even severe market disruptions such as the coronavirus pandemic should not distract investors from focusing on their long-term objectives.

While we are humble and realistic in the face of the challenges ahead, we are well prepared for and fully committed to serving our clients without disruption. We appreciate your continued confidence in us, and we look forward to serving your investment needs in the future.

Sincerely,

Dina Santoro

PORTFOLIO MANAGERS' REPORT

VOYA LARGE-CAP GROWTH FUND

Voya Large-Cap Growth Fund (the "Fund") seeks long-term capital appreciation. The Fund is managed by Jeffrey Bianchi, CFA, Michael Pytosh, and Kristy Finnegan, CFA, Portfolio Managers*, of Voya Investment Management Co. LLC — the Sub-Adviser.

Sector Diversification
as of May 31, 2020
(as a percentage of net assets)

Performance: For the year ended May 31, 2020, the Fund's Class A shares, excluding sales charges, provided a total return of 21.30% compared to the Russell 1000® Growth Index (the "Index" or "Russell 1000® Growth"), which returned 26.25% for the same period.

Portfolio Specifics: For the reporting period the Fund underperformed the Index, primarily due to unfavorable stock selection. On the sector level, stock selection within the information technology sector, and to a lesser extent, the consumer discretionary sector detracted the most from performance. An allocation to cash, while within the typical range, was also a headwind during the period. At the individual stock level, key detractors included overweight positions in Apple Inc. and UnitedHealth Group Incorporated, and not owning NVIDIA Corporation. By contrast, stock selection within the real estate and communication services sectors contributed the most to performance. Key individual stock contributors included overweight positions in Humana Inc., DexCom, Inc. and Vertex Pharmaceuticals Incorporated.

Portfolio holdings are subject to change daily.

Current Strategy and Outlook: In our view, equity markets have rebounded from the lows in March, though we expect continued volatility as concerns ebb and flow regarding the economic shock from the coronavirus fallout. As it becomes increasingly clear to us that a prolonged shutdown would be unsustainable, the focus has shifted to how to reopen the economy in a safe and sustainable way. We continue to evaluate companies that we believe may benefit from a rebound as we emerge from this crisis, as well as those companies that we believe may capitalize on a shift in consumer and business patterns such as working remotely.

While correlations were high during the market sell-off, we see the opportunity for differentiation amidst a shift to a new normal, which we believe presents an opportunity for active managers to outperform going forward. We are adjusting the Fund's portfolio based upon fundamental views to seek to take advantage of market dislocations and believe it is well-balanced. While in our opinion there continues to be a great deal of uncertainty, our team continuously monitors developments and remains focused on making well-informed investment decisions for our clients. As a disciplined manager, we remain true to our investment process regardless of the unpredictable market environment, investing in companies with what we believe to be strong fundamentals and attractive relative valuations. In addition, in this environment — where declining business activity creates an enormous burden for companies with little liquidity (small and medium businesses) — we believe owning companies with robust balance sheets is paramount.

* Effective August 1, 2019, Kristy Finnegan was added as a portfolio manager to the Fund.

The outlook for this Fund may differ from that presented for other Voya mutual funds. This report contains statements that may be "forward-looking" statements. Actual results may differ materially from those projected in the "forward-looking" statements. The Fund's performance returns shown reflect applicable fee waivers and/or expense limits in effect during this period. Absent such fee waivers/expense limitations, if any, performance would have been lower. Performance for the different classes of shares will vary based on differences in fees associated with each class. An index has no cash in its portfolio and imposes no sales charges. ## PORTFOLIO MANAGERS' REPORT

VOYA LARGE CAP VALUE FUND

Voya Large Cap Value Fund (the "Fund") seeks long-term growth of capital and current income. The Fund is managed by Vincent Costa, CFA, and James Dorment, CFA, Portfolio Managers*, of Voya Investment Management Co. LLC — the Sub-Adviser.

Performance: For the year ended May 31, 2020, the Fund's Class A shares, excluding sales charges, provided a total return of -2.79% compared to the Russell 1000® Value Index (the "Index" or "Russell 1000® Value"), which returned -1.64% for the same period.

Portfolio Specifics: For the reporting period, the Fund underperformed the Index due to unfavorable security selection. On the sector level, stock selection within consumer discretionary and health care sectors had the largest negative impact on performance. At the individual stock level, key detractors included underweight positions in Verizon Communication Inc., a communication services company, Intel Corporation, an information technology company, and an overweight to consumer discretionary stock MGM Resorts International. By contrast, stock selection within the industrials and financials sectors had the largest positive impact on relative performance. Key contributors included overweight positions in AT&T Inc., a communication services company, and Old Dominion Freight Line, Inc., an industrials company operating in the trucking industry. In addition, not owning Wells Fargo & Company within the financials sector contributed to returns.

VOYA MULTI-MANAGER MID CAP VALUE FUND

Voya Multi-Manager Mid Cap Value Fund (the "Fund") seeks long-term capital appreciation. The Fund's assets are managed by three sub-advisers* — Hahn Capital Management, LLC ("Hahn Capital Management"), LSV Asset Management ("LSV") and Voya Investment Management Co. LLC ("VIM") (each a "Sub-Adviser" and collectively, the "Sub-Advisers"). Each Sub-Adviser manages a portion of the Fund's assets (each a "Sleeve") that is allocated to each Sub-Adviser. The following individuals are primarily responsible for the day-to-day management of their respective Sleeve: John D. Schaeffer and Michael Whitfield, CFA, Portfolio Managers of Hahn Capital Management; Josef Lakonishok, Ph.D., Menno Vermeulen, CFA, Guy Lakonishok, CFA, Greg Sleight and Puneet Mansharamani, CFA, Portfolio Managers of LSV; and Steve Wetter and Kai Yee Wong, Portfolio Managers of VIM.

Performance: For the year ended May, 31 2020, the Fund's Class I shares provided a total return of -6.73% compared to the Russell Midcap® Value Index (the "Index" or "Russell Midcap® Value"), which returned -6.91%, for the same period.

Portfolio Specifics: Hahn Capital Management Sleeve — The Sleeve outperformed the Russell Midcap® Value by approximately 316 basis points (3.16%) for the year ended May 31, 2020. During the period, the Sleeve's performance benefited from its relative overweight to the industrials, information technology and health care sectors and to its relative underweight in the energy sector. The primary sector detractors were utilities, consumer staples, materials and real estate. The best stock performance came from Keysight Technologies, Equinix, Agilent Technologies and Jacobs Engineering.

a very difficult period for the Sleeve as value stocks and smaller stocks significantly lagged in the market decline, while large growth stocks outperformed. Within the Index, sector returns varied widely for the annual period. The energy sector suffered a significant double-digit loss while the health care sector posted a strong double-digit gain. Additionally, the consumer discretionary, financials and real estate sectors underperformed as technology, materials and consumer staples outperformed in the period.

While value stocks trailed the broader midcap market, deeper value stocks that are cheap on earnings and cash flow measures significantly lagged within the Index. This had a sizeable negative impact on performance as the Sleeve emphasizes deep value stocks based on earnings and cash flow valuation measures. Given this unfavorable environment, the Sleeve underperformed the Index across several sectors particularly within the materials, industrials, consumer discretionary, financials and real estate sectors. The Sleeve's sector positioning, which is a residual of our model's bottom-up stock selection process, had a positive effect overall, largely due to the underweight in energy and overweight to technology.

Wellington Sleeve ("Wellington") — June 1, 2019 — November 8, 2019* — The Sleeve outperformed the Russell Midcap® Value by an estimated 483 basis points (4.83%) for the period beginning June 1, 2019 through November 8, 2019. Both sector allocation and security selection contributed to relative performance for the period. Selection within the information technology, materials and industrials sectors contributed most to relative returns. These effects were only partially offset by unfavorable selection in the communication

The leading detractors from performance were Hexcel ("HXL"), Euronet Worldwide ("EEFT"), PVH Corp ("PVH") and CIT Group ("CIT"). More generally, the outperformers reflected company-specific factors as well as certain secular themes, while the underperformers reflected changing industry dynamics and resulting operational performance. To be sure, COVID-19 had a significant impact on the underperformer: HXL, as related to air travel and future aircraft orders; EEFT, as related to European travel and tourism; PVH, as related to mandated closure of retail outlets; and CIT, as related to a falling rate environment in addition to its mid-market customer base's exposure to COVID-19-related closures and supply chain interruptions. We continue to believe investment in high-quality companies is the appropriate strategy regardless of the environment.

LSV Sleeve — The Sleeve underperformed the Russell Midcap® Value by approximately 768 basis points (-7.68%) for the year ended May 31, 2020. Although the Sleeve benefited from a market rotation out of expensive defensive names in the first half of the period, the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic led to increased market volatility and sell-off in the first quarter of 2020. This proved to be services, utilities, and financials sectors. Sector allocation, a residual of the bottom-up stock selection process, also contributed to results during the period. In particular, an underweight allocation to utilities and overweight exposure in information technology, industrials, and materials contributed most to relative returns, while an underweight exposure to consumer discretionary detracted.

Top contributors included Lumentum Holdings, Milacron Holdings, and Reliance Steel & Aluminum. Top detractors from relative performance included UGI, Diamondback Energy, and an out-of-benchmark holding in Millicom International Cellular.

VIM Sleeve — November 15, 2019 — May 31, 2020* — The Sleeve outperformed the Russell Midcap® Value by approximately 477 basis points (4.77%) for the period beginning November 15, 2019 through May 31, 2020. The Sleeve also outperformed its internal benchmark, the Russell Midcap® Select Factor Index ("RMID Index"), by approximately 33 basis (0.33%). The Sleeve employs a "passive management" approach designed to track the performance of the RMID Index. For the reporting period, the Sleeve generally tracked the RMID Index, but diverged from it somewhat by holding shares of an exchange-traded fund ("ETF") and a modest, operational cash position. Due to bouts of extreme market volatility during the reporting period, the cash exposure became a key contributor to relative results. Other contributors included the Sleeve's modest underweight of utilities and its non-index position in the iShares Russell Midcap ETF, as well as index-like positions in Xcel Energy Inc. and Dollar General Corporation. The most significant detractors included slight underweights of the consumer discretionary and communications services sectors; also, index-like positions in Zayo Group Holdings, Inc., PulteGroup, Inc. and Cummins Inc.

Current Strategy & Outlook: Hahn Capital Management Sleeve — The markets faced a dramatic shift with the onset of the global spread of COVID-19 as the global economy hunkered down. As we shift from panic and shelter-in-place to an economic re-opening, we believe that the markets seem to have largely brushed off the down draft that dominated the late February to mid-March timeframe. Regardless of the market's more recent rebound, we believe significant uncertainty lies ahead. We remain cautious on consumer discretionary spending and certain areas of real estate as we find it difficult to project the impact of the termination of extended unemployment benefits that expire late July 2020 and what (un)employment may look like over the coming months. Relative employment levels tend to have a high correlation to both housing activity and healthcare procedures. The 2020 election cycle creates additional uncertainty as candidates push various initiatives, even if for only the headlines. As a result, we would expect another round of volatility in the coming months and look to seek out opportunities created thereby with our high-quality, risk-centric approach.

LSV Sleeve — The Sleeve remains diversified across sectors and continues to trade at a significant discount to the overall market as well as to the Index. Sleeve valuations are 16.0 times forward earnings estimates and 6.1 times trailing cash flow compared to 19.6 times earnings and 10.1 times cash flow for the benchmark. The Sleeve also has a dividend yield of 2.9% compared to 2.5% for the Index. We continue to believe that holding portfolios of deeply discounted stocks pays off well in the long-run and in the short-run is not necessarily highly correlated with market direction.

VIM Sleeve — Voya IM employs a "passive management" approach designed to track the performance of the RMID Index.

* On September 12, 2019, the Board of Trustees of the Fund approved the sub-adviser replacement of Wellington with VIM.

In conjunction with the sub-adviser replacement, effective November 8, 2019 Steve Wetter and Kai Yee Wong were added as portfolio managers of the Fund and Gregory J. Garabedian was removed as a portfolio manager of the Fund.

Beginning on the close of business on November 8, 2019, through the close of business on November 15, 2019, the Fund was in a transition period during which time the Fund's assets managed by Wellington were allocated among Hahn, LSV and VIM.

VOYA SMALLCAP OPPORTUNITIES FUND

PORTFOLIO MANAGERS' REPORT

Voya SmallCap Opportunities Fund (the "Fund") seeks capital appreciation. The Fund is managed by James Hasso and Joseph Basset, CFA, Portfolio Managers, of Voya Investment Management Co. LLC — the Sub-Adviser.

Performance: For the year ended May 31, 2020 the Fund's Class A shares, excluding sales charges, provided a total return of 4.37% compared to the Russell 2000® Growth Index and the Russell 2000® Index, which returned 7.32% and -3.44%, respectively, for the same period.

Portfolio Specifics: For the reporting period, the Fund underperformed the Russell 2000® Growth Index due to allocation effects, most notably, an underweight allocation to the pharmaceutical and biotechnology sector. While stock selection contributed to performance in aggregate, on the sector level, stock selection within the banks and communication services sectors also detracted from performance. On an individual stock level basis, key detractors included overweight positions in Welbilt Inc. and Brink's Company, and owning a non-benchmark position in Cinemark Holdings, Inc. By contrast, stock selection within the retail and real estate sectors generated positive results. On an individual stock level basis, key contributors included overweight positions in Trex Company, Inc., Amedisys, Inc. and Quidel Corporation.

Current Strategy and Outlook: In our view, equity markets have rebounded from the lows in March, though we expect continued volatility as concerns ebb and flow regarding the economic shock from the coronavirus fallout. As it becomes increasingly clear to us that a prolonged shutdown would be unsustainable, the focus has shifted to how to reopen the economy in a safe and sustainable way. We continue to evaluate companies that we believe may benefit from a rebound as we emerge from this crisis, as well as those companies that we believe may capitalize on a shift in consumer and business patterns such as working remotely.

While correlations were high during the market sell-off, we see the opportunity for differentiation amidst a shift to a new normal, which we believe presents an opportunity for active managers to outperform going forward. We are adjusting the Fund's portfolio based upon fundamental views to seek to take advantage of market dislocations and believe it is well-balanced. While in our opinion there continues to be a great deal of uncertainty, our team continuously monitors developments and remains focused on making well-informed investment decisions for our clients. As a disciplined manager, we remain true to our investment process regardless of the unpredictable market environment, investing in companies with what we believe to be strong fundamentals and attractive relative valuations. ## VOYA U.S. HIGH DIVIDEND LOW VOLATILITY FUND

Voya U.S. High Dividend Low Volatility Fund (the "Fund") seeks to maximize total return. The Fund is managed by Vincent Costa, CFA, Steve Wetter, Peg DiOrio, CFA, and Kai Yee Wong, Portfolio Managers, of Voya Investment Management Co. LLC — the Sub-Adviser.

Performance: For the year ended May 31, 2020 the Fund's Class A shares, excluding sales charges, provided a total return of 1.29% compared to the Russell 1000® Index (the "Index" or "Russell 1000®"), which returned 12.54% for the same period.

Portfolio Specifics: For the reporting period, the Fund underperformed the Index. In terms of the Fund's performance, low beta was a significant tailwind for the strategy, while dividend yield and the smaller market capitalization detracted from results. The stock ranking model had a positive impact on performance. On the sector level, Fund holdings within the information technology and consumer discretionary sectors detracted the most value. By contrast, Fund holdings within the energy and industrials sectors had the largest positive impact on performance. At the individual stock level, key detractors were an underweight position in Apple Inc., and not owning Amazon.com, Inc. and NVIDIA Corporation. Key contributors included not owning Boeing Company and Berkshire Hathaway Inc., as well as an underweight position in Exxon Mobil Corporation.

Current Strategy and Outlook: This is an actively managed investment strategy that seeks to generate higher dividend income and total returns, with lower volatility and better downside capture, than the Index. We believe the investment process seeks to create a universe of sustainable dividend-paying stocks, and utilizes fundamentally driven sector-specific alpha models to identify the most attractive stocks within each sector. The Fund is then optimized to achieve its dividend, maximize prospective alpha and volatility objectives.

The Fund's performance is shown both with and without the imposition of sales charges.

The performance graph and table do not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder will pay on Fund distributions or the redemption of Fund shares.

The performance shown includes, if applicable, the effect of fee waivers and/or expense reimbursements by the Investment Adviser and/or other service providers, which have the effect of increasing total return. Had all fees and expenses been considered, the total returns would have been lower.

Performance data represents past performance and is no assurance of future results. Investment return and principal value of an investment in the Fund will fluctuate. Shares, when sold, may be worth more or less than their original cost. The Fund's current performance may be lower or higher than the performance data shown. Please log on to www.voyainvestments.com or call (800) 992-0180 to get performance through the most recent month end.

SHAREHOLDER EXPENSE EXAMPLES (UNAUDITED)

As a shareholder of a Fund, you incur two types of costs: (1) transaction costs, including sales charges (loads) on purchase payments, redemption fees, and exchange fees; and (2) ongoing costs, including management fees, distribution and/or service (12b-1) fees, and other Fund expenses. These Examples are intended to help you understand your ongoing costs (in dollars) of investing in a Fund and to compare these costs with the ongoing costs of investing in other mutual funds.

The Examples are based on an investment of $1,000 invested at the beginning of the period and held for the entire period from December 1, 2019 to May 31, 2020. Each Fund's expenses are shown without the imposition of any sales charges or fees. Expenses would have been higher if such charges were included.

Actual Expenses

The left section of the table shown below, "Actual Fund Return," provides information about actual account values and actual expenses. You may use the information in this section, together with the amount you invested, to estimate the expenses that you paid over the period. Simply divide your account value by $1,000 (for example, an $8,600 account value divided by $1,000 = 8.6), then multiply the result by the number in the first section under the heading entitled "Expenses Paid During the Period" to estimate the expenses you paid on your account during this period.

Hypothetical Example for Comparison Purposes

The right section of the table shown below, "Hypothetical (5% return before expenses)," provides information about hypothetical account values and hypothetical expenses based on a Fund's actual expense ratio and an assumed rate of return of 5% per year before expenses, which is not the Fund's actual return. The hypothetical account values and expenses may not be used to estimate the actual ending account balance or expenses you paid for the period. You may use this information to compare the ongoing costs of investing in each Fund and other mutual funds. To do so, compare this 5% hypothetical example with the 5% hypothetical examples that appear in the shareholder reports of the other mutual funds.

Please note that the expenses shown in the table are meant to highlight your ongoing costs only and do not reflect any transactional costs, such as sales charges (loads), redemption fees, or exchange fees. Therefore, the hypothetical section of the table is useful in comparing ongoing costs only, and will not help you determine the relative total costs of owning different mutual funds. In addition, if these transactional costs were included, your costs would have been higher.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

To the Shareholders of Voya Large-Cap Growth Fund, Voya Large Cap Value Fund, Voya MidCap Opportunities Fund, Voya Multi-Manager Mid Cap Value Fund, Voya SmallCap Opportunities Fund, and Voya U.S. High Dividend Low Volatility Fund and the Board of Trustees of Voya Equity Trust:

Opinion on the Financial Statements

We have audited the accompanying statement of assets and liabilities of Voya Large-Cap Growth Fund, Voya Large Cap Value Fund, Voya MidCap Opportunities Fund, Voya Multi-Manager Mid Cap Value Fund, Voya SmallCap Opportunities Fund, and Voya U.S. High Dividend Low Volatility Fund (collectively referred to as the "Funds"), (six of the funds constituting Voya Equity Trust (the "Trust")), including the portfolio of investments and summary portfolio of investments, as applicable, as of May 31, 2020, and the related statements of operations and changes in net assets and the financial highlights for the year then ended and the related notes (collectively referred to as the "financial statements"). In our opinion, the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Funds (six of the funds constituting Voya Equity Trust) at May 31, 2020, the results of their operations, the changes in their net assets and their financial highlights for the year then ended, in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

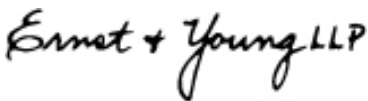

The statement of changes in net assets for the year ended May 31, 2019, and the financial highlights for each of the periods in the four-year period then ended, were audited by another independent registered public accounting firm whose report, dated July 25, 2019, expressed an unqualified opinion on that statement of changes in net assets and those financial highlights.

Basis for Opinion

These financial statements are the responsibility of the Trust's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Funds' financial statements based on our audits. We are a public accounting firm registered with the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) ("PCAOB") and are required to be independent with respect to the Trust in accordance with the U.S. federal securities laws and the applicable rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission and the PCAOB.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the PCAOB. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audits to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement, whether due to error or fraud. The Trust is not required to have, nor were we engaged to perform, an audit of the Trust's internal control over financial reporting. As part of our audits, we are required to obtain an understanding of internal control over financial reporting, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Trust's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion.

Our audits included performing procedures to assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to error or fraud, and performing procedures that respond to those risks. Such procedures included examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Our procedures included confirmation of securities owned as of May 31, 2020, by correspondence with the custodian and others or by other appropriate auditing procedures where replies from others were not received. Our audits also included evaluating the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

- (1) Total return is calculated assuming reinvestment of all dividends, capital gain distributions and return of capital distributions, if any, at net asset value and excluding the deduction of sales charges or contingent deferred sales charges, if applicable. Total return for periods less than one year is not annualized.
- (2) Annualized for periods less than one year.
- (3) Ratios reflect operating expenses of a Fund. Expenses before reductions/additions do not reflect amounts reimbursed or recouped by the Investment Adviser and/or Distributor or reductions from brokerage service arrangements or other expense offset arrangements and do not represent the amount paid by a Fund during periods when reimbursements or reductions occur. Expenses net of fee waivers reflect expenses after reimbursement by the Investment Adviser and/or Distributor or recoupment of previously reimbursed fees by the Investment Adviser, but prior to reductions from brokerage service arrangements or other expense offset arrangements. Expenses net of all reductions/additions represent the net expenses paid by a Fund. Net investment income (loss) is net of all such additions or reductions.
- (4) Commencement of operations.
- Calculated using average number of shares outstanding throughout the year or period.
  - * Amount is less than $0.005 or 0.005% or more than $(0.005) or (0.005)%.

NOTE 1 — ORGANIZATION

Voya Equity Trust (the "Trust") is a Massachusetts business trust and is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended ("1940 Act"), as an open-end investment management company. The Trust was organized on June 12, 1998 and consists of ten separate active investment series. This report is for: Voya Large-Cap Growth Fund ("Large-Cap Growth"), Voya Large Cap Value Fund ("Large Cap Value"), Voya MidCap Opportunities Fund ("MidCap Opportunities"), Voya Multi-Manager Mid Cap Value Fund ("Multi-Manager Mid Cap Value"), Voya SmallCap Opportunities Fund ("SmallCap Opportunities"), and Voya U.S. High Dividend Low Volatility Fund ("U.S. High Dividend Low Volatility") (each, a "Fund" and collectively, the "Funds"). Each Fund is a diversified series of the Trust.

Each Fund offers at least one or more of the following classes of shares: Class A, Class C, Class I, Class P, Class P3, Class R, Class R6, and Class W. At the close of business on November 22, 2019, all outstanding Class O shares of Large Cap Value and MidCap Opportunities were converted to Class A shares of the same Fund. The separate classes of shares differ principally in the applicable sales charges (if any), distribution fees (if any), shareholder servicing fees (if any) and transfer agency fees. Generally, shareholders of each class also bear certain expenses that pertain to that particular class. All shareholders are allocated the common expenses of a fund and earn income and realized gains/losses from a fund pro rata based on the daily ending net assets of each class, without distinction between share classes. Expenses that are specific to a fund or a class are charged directly to that fund or class. Other operating expenses shared by several funds are generally allocated among those funds based on average net assets. Distributions are determined separately for each class based on income and expenses allocated to each class. Realized gain distributions are allocated to each class pro rata based on the shares outstanding of each class on the date of distribution. Differences in per share dividend rates generally result from differences in separate class expenses, including distribution and shareholder servicing fees, if applicable.

Beginning on January 2, 2020, Class C shares, along with their pro rata reinvested dividend shares, automatically convert to Class A shares ten years after purchase.

Voya Investments, LLC ("Voya Investments" or the "Investment Adviser"), an Arizona limited liability company, serves as the Investment Adviser to the Funds. Voya Investments has engaged Voya Investment Management Co. LLC ("Voya IM"), a Delaware limited liability company, to serve as sub-adviser to certain of the Funds. Voya Investments Distributor, LLC ("VID" or the "Distributor"), a Delaware limited liability company, serves as the principal underwriter to the Funds.

NOTE 2 — SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The following significant accounting policies are consistently followed by the Funds in the preparation of their financial statements. Each Fund is considered an investment company under U.S. generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP") and follows the accounting and reporting guidance applicable to investment companies.

A. Security Valuation. Each Fund is open for business every day the New York Stock Exchange ("NYSE") opens for regular trading (each such day, a "Business Day"). The net asset value ("NAV") per share for each class of each Fund is determined each Business Day as of the close of the regular trading session ("Market Close"), as determined by the Consolidated Tape Association ("CTA"), the central distributor of transaction prices for exchange-traded securities (normally 4:00 p.m. Eastern time unless otherwise designated by the CTA). The data reflected on the consolidated tape provided by the CTA is generated by various market centers, including all securities exchanges, electronic communications networks, and third-market broker-dealers. The NAV per share of each class of each Fund is calculated by taking the value of the Fund's assets attributable to that class, subtracting the Fund's liabilities attributable to that class, and dividing by the number of shares of that class that are outstanding. On days when a Fund is closed for business, Fund shares will not be priced and a Fund does not transact purchase and redemption orders. To the extent a Fund's assets are traded in other markets on days when a Fund does not price its shares, the value of a Fund's assets will likely change and you will not be able to purchase or redeem shares of a Fund.

Assets for which market quotations are readily available are valued at market value. A security listed or traded on an exchange is valued at its last sales price or official closing price as of the close of the regular trading session on the exchange where the security is principally traded or, if such price is not available, at the last sale price as of the Market Close for such security provided by the CTA. Bank loans are valued at the average of the averages of the bid and ask prices provided to an independent loan pricing service by brokers. Futures contracts are valued at the final settlement price set by an exchange on which they are principally traded. Listed options are valued at the mean between the last bid and ask prices from the exchange on which they are principally traded. Investments in open-end registered investment companies that do not trade on an exchange are valued at the end of day NAV per share.

Investments in registered investment companies that trade on an exchange are valued at the last sales price or official closing price as of the close of the regular trading session on the exchange where the security is principally traded.

When a market quotation is not readily available or is deemed unreliable, each Fund will determine a fair value for the relevant asset in accordance with procedures adopted by the Funds' Board of Trustees ("Board"). Such procedures provide, for example, that: (a) Exchange-traded securities are valued at the mean of the closing bid and ask; (b) Debt obligations are valued using an evaluated price provided by an independent pricing service. Evaluated prices provided by the pricing service may be determined without exclusive reliance on quoted prices, and may reflect factors such as institution-size trading in similar groups of securities, developments related to specific securities, benchmark yield, quality, type of issue, coupon rate, maturity, individual trading characteristics and other market data; (c) Securities traded in the over-the-counter ("OTC") market are valued based on prices provided by independent pricing services or market makers; (d) Options not listed on an exchange are valued by an independent source using an industry accepted model, such as Black-Scholes; (e) Centrally cleared swap agreements are valued using a price provided by the central counterparty clearinghouse; (f) OTC swap agreements are valued using a price provided by an independent pricing service; (g) Forward foreign currency exchange contracts are valued utilizing current and forward rates obtained from an independent pricing service. Such prices from the third party pricing service are for specific settlement periods and each Fund's forward foreign currency exchange contracts are valued at an interpolated rate between the closest preceding and subsequent period reported by the independent pricing service; and (h) Securities for which market prices are not provided by any of the above methods may be valued based upon quotes furnished by brokers.

The prospectuses of the open-end registered investment companies in which each Fund may invest explain the circumstances under which they will use fair value pricing and the effects of using fair value pricing.

Foreign securities' (including forward foreign currency exchange contracts) prices are converted into U.S. dollar amounts using the applicable exchange rates as of Market Close. If market quotations are available and believed to be reliable for foreign exchange-traded equity securities, the securities will be valued at the market quotations. Because trading hours for certain foreign securities end before Market Close, closing market quotations may become unreliable. An independent pricing service determines the degree of certainty, based on historical data, that the closing price in the principal market where a foreign security trades is not the current value as of Market Close. Foreign securities' prices meeting the approved degree of certainty that the price is not reflective of current value will be valued by the independent pricing service using pricing models designed to estimate likely changes in the values of those securities between the times in which the trading in those securities is substantially completed and Market Close. Multiple factors may be considered by the independent pricing service in determining the value of such securities and may include information relating to sector indices, American Depository Receipts and domestic and foreign index futures.

All other assets for which market quotations are not readily available or became unreliable (or if the above fair valuation methods are unavailable or determined to be unreliable) are valued at fair value as determined in good faith by or under the supervision of the Board following procedures approved by the Board. The Board has delegated to the Investment Adviser responsibility for overseeing the implementation of the Funds' valuation procedures; a "Pricing Committee" comprised of employees of the Investment Adviser or its affiliates has responsibility for applying the fair valuation methods set forth in the procedures and, if a fair valuation cannot be determined pursuant to the fair valuation methods, determining the fair value of assets held by the Funds. Issuer specific events, transaction price, position size, nature and duration of restrictions on disposition of the security, market trends, bid/ask quotes of brokers and other market data may be reviewed in the course of making a good faith determination of a security's fair value. Valuations change in response to many factors including the historical and prospective earnings of the issuer, the value of the issuer's assets, general economic conditions, interest rates, investor perceptions and market liquidity. Because of the inherent uncertainties of fair valuation, the values used to determine each Fund's NAV may materially differ from the value received upon actual sale of those investments. Thus, fair valuation may have an unintended dilutive or accretive effect on the value of shareholders' investments in each Fund.

Each investment asset or liability of a Fund is assigned a level at measurement date based on the significance and source of the inputs to its valuation. Quoted prices in active markets for identical securities are classified as "Level 1," inputs other than quoted prices for an asset or liability that are observable are classified as "Level 2" and significant unobservable inputs, including the sub-adviser's or Pricing Committee's judgment about the assumptions that a market participant would use in pricing an asset or liability

are classified as “Level 3.” The inputs used for valuing securities are not necessarily an indication of the risks associated with investing in those securities. Short-term securities of sufficient credit quality are generally considered to be Level 2 securities under applicable accounting rules. A table summarizing each Fund’s investments under these levels of classification is included within the Portfolios of Investments.

GAAP requires a reconciliation of the beginning to ending balances for reported fair values that presents changes attributable to total realized and unrealized gains or losses, purchases and sales, and transfers in or out of the Level 3 category during the period. A reconciliation of Level 3 investments within the Portfolio of Investments is presented only when a Fund has a significant amount of Level 3 investments.

B. Securities Transactions and Revenue Recognition.

Securities transactions are accounted for on the trade date. Realized gains and losses are reported on the basis of identified cost of securities sold. Interest income is recorded on an accrual basis. Dividend income is recorded on the ex-dividend date, or for certain foreign securities, when the information becomes available to the Funds. Premium amortization and discount accretion are determined by the effective yield method.

C. Foreign Currency Translation. The books and records of the Funds are maintained in U.S. dollars.

Any foreign currency amounts are translated into U.S. dollars on the following basis:

- (1) Market value of investment securities, other assets and liabilities — at the exchange rates prevailing at Market Close.
- (2) Purchases and sales of investment securities, income and expenses — at the exchange rates prevailing on the respective dates of such transactions.

Although the net assets and the market values are presented at the foreign exchange rates at Market Close, the Funds do not isolate the portion of the results of operations resulting from changes in foreign exchange rates on investments from the fluctuations arising from changes in market prices of securities held. Such fluctuations are included with the net realized and unrealized gains or losses from investments. For securities which are subject to foreign withholding tax upon disposition, liabilities are recorded on the Statements of Assets and Liabilities for the estimated tax withholding based on the securities’ current market value. Upon disposition, realized gains or losses on such securities are recorded net of foreign withholding tax.

Reported net realized foreign exchange gains or losses arise from sales of foreign currencies, currency gains or losses realized between the trade and settlement dates on securities transactions, the difference between the amounts of dividends, interest, and foreign withholding tax reclaims recorded on each Fund’s books, and the U.S. dollar equivalent of the amounts actually received or paid. Net unrealized foreign exchange gains and losses arise from changes in the value of assets and liabilities other than investments in securities, resulting from changes in the exchange rate. Foreign security and currency transactions may involve certain considerations and risks not typically associated with investing in U.S. companies and U.S. government securities. These risks include, but are not limited to, revaluation of currencies and future adverse political and economic developments which could cause securities and their markets to be less liquid and prices more volatile than those of comparable U.S. companies and U.S. government securities. The foregoing risks are even greater with respect to securities of issuers in emerging markets.

D. Risk Exposures and the Use of Derivative Instruments.

The Funds’ investment strategies permit them to enter into various types of derivatives contracts, including, but not limited to, futures contracts, forward foreign currency exchange contracts, credit default swaps, interest rate swaps, total return swaps, and purchased and written options. In doing so, the Funds will employ strategies in differing combinations to permit them to increase or decrease the level of risk, or change the level or types of exposure to risk factors. This may allow the Funds to pursue their objectives more quickly, and efficiently than if they were to make direct purchases or sales of securities capable of affecting a similar response to market or credit factors.

In pursuit of its investment objectives, a Fund may seek to increase or decrease its exposure to the following market or credit risk factors:

Credit Risk. The price of a bond or other debt instrument is likely to fall if the issuer’s actual or perceived financial health deteriorates, whether because of broad economic or issuer-specific reasons. In certain cases, the issuer could be late in paying interest or principal, or could fail to pay its financial obligations altogether.

Equity Risk. Stock prices may be volatile or have reduced liquidity in response to real or perceived impacts of factors including, but not limited to, economic conditions, changes in market interest rates, and political events. Stock markets

tend to be cyclical, with periods when stock prices generally rise and periods when stock prices generally decline. Any given stock market segment may remain out of favor with investors for a short or long period of time, and stocks as an asset class may underperform bonds or other asset classes during some periods. Additionally, legislative, regulatory or tax policies or developments in these areas may adversely impact the investment techniques available to a manager, add to costs and impair the ability of a Fund to achieve its investment objectives.

Foreign Exchange Rate Risk. To the extent that a Fund invests directly in foreign (non-U.S.) currencies or in securities denominated in, or that trade in, foreign (non-U.S.) currencies, it is subject to the risk that those foreign (non-U.S.) currencies will decline in value relative to the U.S. dollar or, in the case of hedging positions, that the U.S. dollar will decline in value relative to the currency being hedged by a Fund through foreign currency exchange transactions.

Currency rates may fluctuate significantly over short periods of time. Currency rates may be affected by changes in market interest rates, intervention (or the failure to intervene) by U.S. or foreign governments, central banks or supranational entities such as the International Monetary Fund, by the imposition of currency controls, or other political or economic developments in the United States or abroad.

Interest Rate Risk. With bonds and other fixed rate debt instruments, a rise in market interest rates generally causes values to fall; conversely, values generally rise as market interest rates fall. The higher the credit quality of the instrument, and the longer its maturity or duration, the more sensitive it is likely to be to interest rate risk. In the case of inverse securities, the interest rate paid by the securities is a floating rate, which generally will decrease when the market rate of interest to which the inverse security is indexed increases and will increase when the market rate of interest to which the inverse security is indexed decreases. As of the date of this report, the United States experiences a low interest rate environment, which may increase a Fund's exposure to risks associated with rising market interest rates. Rising market interest rates could have unpredictable effects on the markets and may expose fixed-income and related markets to heightened volatility. For a fund that invests in fixed-income securities, an increase in market interest rates may lead to increased redemptions and increased portfolio turnover, which could reduce liquidity for certain investments, adversely affect values, and increase costs. If dealer capacity in fixed-income markets is insufficient for market conditions, it may further inhibit liquidity and increase volatility in the fixed-income markets. Further, recent and potential changes in government policy may affect interest rates.

Risks of Investing in Derivatives. The Funds' use of derivatives can result in losses due to unanticipated changes in the market or credit risk factors and the overall market. In instances where the Funds are using derivatives to decrease, or hedge, exposures to market or credit risk factors for securities held by the Funds, there are also risks that those derivatives may not perform as expected resulting in losses for the combined or hedged positions.

Derivative instruments are subject to a number of risks, including the risk of changes in the market price of the underlying securities, credit risk with respect to the counterparty, risk of loss due to changes in market interest rates and liquidity and volatility risk. The amounts required to purchase certain derivatives may be small relative to the magnitude of exposure assumed by a Fund. Therefore, the purchase of certain derivatives may have an economic leveraging effect on a Fund and exaggerate any increase or decrease in the NAV. Derivatives may not perform as expected, so a Fund may not realize the intended benefits. When used for hedging purposes, the change in value of a derivative may not correlate as expected with the currency, security or other risk being hedged. When used as an alternative or substitute for direct cash investments, the return provided by the derivative may not provide the same return as direct cash investment. In addition, given their complexity, derivatives expose a Fund to the risk of improper valuation.

Generally, derivatives are sophisticated financial instruments whose performance is derived, at least in part, from the performance of an underlying asset or assets. Derivatives include, among other things, swap agreements, options, forwards and futures. Investments in derivatives are generally negotiated OTC with a single counterparty and as a result are subject to credit risks related to the counterparty's ability or willingness to perform its obligations; any deterioration in the counterparty's creditworthiness could adversely affect the value of the derivative. In addition, derivatives and their underlying securities may experience periods of illiquidity which could cause a Fund to hold a security it might otherwise sell, or to sell a security it otherwise might hold at inopportune times or at an unanticipated price. A manager might imperfectly judge the direction of the market. For instance, if a derivative is used as a hedge to offset investment risk in another security, the hedge might not correlate to the market's movements and may have unexpected or undesired results such as a loss or a reduction in gains.

Counterparty Credit Risk and Credit Related Contingent Features. Certain derivative positions are subject to counterparty credit risk, which is the risk that the counterparty will not fulfill its obligation to the Funds. The Funds' derivative counterparties are financial institutions who are subject to market conditions that may weaken their financial position. The Funds intend to enter into financial transactions with counterparties that they believe to be creditworthy at the time of the transaction. To reduce this risk, the Funds generally enter into master netting arrangements, established within the Funds' International Swap and Derivatives Association, Inc. ("ISDA") Master Agreements ("Master Agreements"). These agreements are with select counterparties and they govern transactions, including certain OTC derivative and forward foreign currency contracts, entered into by the Funds and the counterparty. The Master Agreements maintain provisions for general obligations, representations, agreements, collateral, and events of default or termination. The occurrence of a specified event of termination may give a counterparty the right to terminate all of its contracts and affect settlement of all outstanding transactions under the applicable Master Agreement.

The Funds may also enter into collateral agreements with certain counterparties to further mitigate credit risk associated with OTC derivative and forward foreign currency contracts. Subject to established minimum levels, collateral is generally determined based on the net aggregate unrealized gain or loss on contracts with a certain counterparty. Collateral pledged to or from the Funds is held in a segregated account by a third-party agent and can be in the form of cash or debt securities issued by the U.S. government or related agencies.

The Funds have credit related contingent features that if triggered would allow its derivatives counterparties to close out and demand payment or additional collateral to cover their exposure from the Funds. Credit related contingent features are established between the Funds and their derivatives counterparties to reduce the risk that the Funds will not fulfill their payment obligations to their counterparties. These triggering features include, but are not limited to, a percentage decrease in a Fund's net assets and/or a percentage decrease in a Fund's NAV, which could cause a Fund to accelerate payment of any net liability owed to the counterparty. The contingent features are established within the Funds' Master Agreements.

There were no open OTC derivatives for any Fund as of May 31, 2020.

E. Forward Foreign Currency Transactions and Futures Contracts. Each Fund may enter into forward foreign currency exchange transactions to convert to and from different foreign currencies and to and from the U.S. dollar, generally in connection with the planned purchases or sales of securities. The Funds either enter into these transactions on a spot basis at the spot rate prevailing in the foreign currency exchange market or may use forward foreign currency contracts to purchase or sell foreign currencies. When the contract is fulfilled or closed, gains or losses are realized. Until then, the gain or loss is included in unrealized appreciation or depreciation. Risks may arise upon entering into forward contracts from the potential inability of counterparties to meet the terms of their forward contracts and from unanticipated movements in the value of foreign currencies relative to the U.S. dollar.

There were no open forward contracts for any Fund at May 31, 2020.

Each Fund may enter into futures contracts involving foreign currency, interest rates, securities and securities indices. Each Fund intends to limit its use of futures contracts and futures options to "bona fide hedging" transactions, as such term is defined in applicable regulations, interpretations and practice. A futures contract obligates the seller of the contract to deliver and the purchaser of the contract to take delivery of the type of foreign currency, financial instrument or security called for in the contract at a specified future time for a specified price. Upon entering into such a contract, a Fund is required to deposit and maintain as collateral such initial margin as required by the exchange on which the contract is traded. Pursuant to the contract, a Fund agrees to receive from or pay to the broker an amount equal to the daily fluctuations in the value of the contract. Such receipts or payments are known as variation margin and are recorded as unrealized gains or losses by the Fund. When the contract is closed, the Fund records a realized gain or loss equal to the difference between the value of the contract at the time it was opened and the value at the time it was closed.

Futures contracts are exposed to the market risk factor of the underlying financial instrument. Futures contracts are purchased to provide immediate market exposure proportionate to the size of the Fund's respective cash flows and residual cash balances in order to decrease potential tracking error if the cash remained uninvested in the market. Additional associated risks of entering into futures contracts include the possibility that there may be an illiquid market where the Fund is unable to liquidate the contract or enter into an offsetting position and, if used for hedging purposes, the risk that the price of the contract will correlate imperfectly with the prices of the Fund's securities. With futures, there is minimal counterparty credit risk to the Fund since futures are exchange traded and the exchange's clearinghouse, as counterparty to all exchange traded futures, guarantees the futures against default.

There were no open futures contracts for any Fund at May 31, 2020.

F. Distributions to Shareholders. The Funds record distributions to their shareholders on the ex-dividend date. Each Fund declares and pays dividends, if any, as follows:

Annually	Quarterly
Large-Cap Growth	Large Cap Value
MidCap Opportunities	U.S. High Dividend Low Volatility
Multi-Manager Mid Cap Value
SmallCap Opportunities

Each Fund distributes capital gains, if any, annually. The Funds may make distributions on a more frequent basis to comply with the distribution requirements of the Internal Revenue Code. The characteristics of income and gains to be distributed are determined in accordance with income tax regulations, which may differ from GAAP for investment companies.

G. Federal Income Taxes. It is the policy of each Fund to comply with the requirements of subchapter M of the Internal Revenue Code that are applicable to regulated investment companies and to distribute substantially all of its net investment income and any net realized capital gains to its shareholders. Therefore, a federal income tax or excise tax provision is not required. Management has considered the sustainability of the Funds' tax positions taken on federal income tax returns for all open tax years in making this determination. No capital gain distributions shall be made until the capital loss carryforwards have been fully utilized.

The Funds may utilize equalization accounting for tax purposes, whereby a portion of redemption payments are treated as distributions of income or gain for income tax purposes.

H. Use of Estimates. The preparation of financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of increases and decreases in net assets from operations during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

I. Securities Lending. Each Fund has the option to temporarily loan securities representing up to 33⅓% of its total assets (except Large-Cap Growth which may temporarily lend up to 30% of its total assets) to brokers, dealers or other financial institutions in exchange for a negotiated lender's fee. Securities lending involves two primary risks: "investment risk" and "borrower default risk." When lending securities, the Funds will receive cash or U.S. government securities as collateral. Investment risk is the risk that the Funds will lose money from the investment of the cash collateral received from the borrower. Borrower default risk is the risk that the Funds will lose money due to the failure of a borrower to return a borrowed security. Loans are subject to termination at the option of the borrower or the Funds. Securities lending may result in leverage. The use of leverage may exaggerate any increase or decrease in the NAV, causing the Funds to be more volatile. The use of leverage may increase expenses and increase the impact of the Funds' other risks.

J. Restricted Securities. Each Fund may invest in restricted securities which include those sold under Rule 144A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended ("1933 Act") or securities offered pursuant to Section 4(a) (2) of the 1933 Act, and/or are subject to legal or contractual restrictions on resale and may not be publicly sold without registration under the 1933 Act. Restricted securities are fair valued using market quotations when readily available. In the absence of market quotations, the securities are valued based upon their fair value determined in good faith under procedures approved by the Board.

Securities that are not registered for sale to the public under the 1933 Act are referred to as "restricted securities." These securities may be sold in private placement transactions between issuers and their purchasers and may be neither listed on an exchange nor traded in other established markets. Many times these securities are subject to legal or contractual restrictions on resale. As a result of the absence of a public trading market, the prices of these securities may be more volatile, less liquid and more difficult to value than publicly traded securities. The price realized from the sale of these securities could be less than the amount originally paid or less than their fair value if they are resold in privately negotiated transactions. In addition, these securities may not be subject to disclosure and other investment protection requirements that are afforded to publicly traded securities. Certain investments may include investment in smaller, less seasoned issuers, which may involve greater risk.

K. Indemnifications. In the normal course of business, the Trust may enter into contracts that provide certain indemnifications. The Trust's maximum exposure under these arrangements is dependent on future claims that may be made against the Funds and, therefore, cannot be estimated; however, based on experience, management considers the risk of loss from such claims remote.

NOTE 3 — INVESTMENT TRANSACTIONS

For the year ended May 31, 2020, the cost of purchases and the proceeds from the sales of securities, excluding short-term securities, were as follows:

	Purchases	Sales
Large-Cap Growth	$ 884,567,541	$ 957,937,749
Large Cap Value	1,098,319,493	1,178,818,864
MidCap Opportunities	982,828,871	1,349,696,018
Multi-Manager Mid Cap Value	73,758,282	71,391,465
SmallCap Opportunities	687,246,903	1,131,911,801
U.S. High Dividend Low Volatility	175,962,012	284,447,063

NOTE 4 — INVESTMENT MANAGEMENT FEES

The Funds have entered into an investment management agreement (“Management Agreement”) with the Investment Adviser. The Investment Adviser has overall responsibility for the management of the Funds. The Investment Adviser oversees all investment advisory and portfolio management services for the Funds and assists in managing and supervising all aspects of the general day-to-day business activities and operations of the Funds, including custodial, transfer agency, dividend disbursing, accounting, auditing, compliance and related services. The Board approved a change to reflect that Voya Investments, the Investment Adviser to Multi-Manager Mid Cap Value, may, from time to time, directly manage a portion of the Fund’s investment portfolio. The Management Agreement compensates the Investment Adviser with a management fee, computed daily and payable monthly, based on the average daily net assets of each Fund, at the following annual rates. The Investment Adviser is contractually obligated to waive the management fee for Class P shares of Multi-Manager Mid Cap Value. This waiver is not eligible for recoupment. Termination or modification of this obligation requires approval by the Board.

Large-Cap Growth	0.51% on all assets
Large Cap Value	0.75% on the first $1 billion; 0.725% on the next $1 billion; 0.70% on the next $1 billion; 0.675% on the next $1 billion; and 0.65% thereafter

Fund	As a Percentage of Average Daily Net Assets
MidCap Opportunities	0.85% on the first $500 million; 0.80% on the next $400 million; 0.75% on the next $450 million; and 0.70% thereafter
Multi-Manager Mid Cap Value <sup>(1)(2)</sup>	Direct Investments 0.80% Passively Managed Assets 0.40%
SmallCap Opportunities	1.00% on first $250 million; 0.90% on next $250 million; 0.85% on next $250 million; and 0.82% thereafter
U.S. High Dividend Low Volatility	0.45% on all assets

(1) Prior to the close of business on November 15, 2019, the management fee was 0.80% on all assets.

(2) Prior to the close of business on November 15, 2019, the Investment Adviser had contractually agreed to waive 0.02% of the management fee for Multi-Manager Mid Cap Value. Any fees waived or reimbursed were not eligible for recoupment. Termination of this obligation was approved by the Board.

The Investment Adviser has entered into a sub-advisory agreement with each respective sub-adviser. These sub-advisers provide investment advice for certain Funds and are paid by the Investment Adviser based on the average daily net assets of the respective Funds. Subject to such policies as the Board or the Investment Adviser may determine, each sub-adviser manages each respective Fund’s assets in accordance with that Fund’s investment objectives, policies, and limitations. The sub-adviser of each Fund is as follows (*denotes an affiliated sub-adviser):

Fund	Sub-Adviser
Large-Cap Growth	Voya IM*
Large Cap Value	Voya IM*
MidCap Opportunities	Voya IM*
Multi-Manager Mid Cap Value <sup>(1)</sup>	Hahn Capital Management, LLC, LSV Asset Management and Voya IM*
SmallCap Opportunities	Voya IM*
U.S High Dividend Low Volatility	Voya IM*

(1) Effective at the close of business on November 15, 2019, Wellington Management Company LLP was removed as a sub-adviser and Voya IM was added as a sub-adviser to the Fund.

NOTE 5 — DISTRIBUTION AND SERVICE FEES

Each share class of the Funds (except as noted below) has a plan (each a “Plan” and collectively, the “Plans”), whereby the Distributor is reimbursed or compensated (depending on the class of shares) by the Funds for expenses incurred in the distribution of each Fund’s shares (“Distribution Fees”). Pursuant to the Plans, the Distributor is entitled to a payment each month to reimburse or compensate expenses incurred in the distribution and promotion of each Fund’s shares, including expenses incurred in printing prospectuses and reports used for sales purposes, expenses incurred in preparing and printing sales literature and other such distribution related expenses, including any distribution or shareholder servicing fees ("Service Fees") paid to securities dealers who have executed a distribution agreement with the Distributor. Under the Plans, each class of shares of the Funds, with the exception of Class I, Class P, Class P3, Class R6, and Class W, pays the Distributor Distribution Fees and/or Service Fees based on average daily net assets at the following rates:

Large Cap Value	0.25%	1.00%	0.50% <sup>(2)</sup>
MidCap Opportunities	0.25%	1.00%	0.50%
SmallCap Opportunities	0.25%	1.00%	0.50%
U.S. High Dividend Low Volatility	0.25%	N/A	N/A

<sup>(2)</sup> The Distributor has agreed to waive 0.05% of the distribution fee. Termination or modification of this obligation requires approval by the Board.

The Distributor may also retain the proceeds of the initial sales charge paid by shareholders upon the purchase of Class A shares, and the contingent deferred sales charge paid by shareholders upon certain redemptions for Class A and Class C shares. For the year ended May 31, 2020, the Distributor retained the following amounts in sales charges from the following Funds:

Under the 1940 Act, the direct or indirect beneficial owner of more than 25% of the voting securities of a company (including a fund) is presumed to control such company. Companies under common control (e.g., companies with a common owner of greater than 25% of their respective voting securities) are affiliates under the 1940 Act.

The Investment Adviser may direct the Funds' sub-advisers to use their best efforts (subject to obtaining best execution of each transaction) to allocate a Fund's equity security transactions through certain designated broker-dealers. The designated broker-dealer, in turn, will reimburse a portion of the brokerage commissions to pay certain expenses of that Fund. Any amounts credited to the Funds are reflected as brokerage commission recapture in the accompanying Statements of Operations.

The Funds have adopted a deferred compensation plan (the "DC Plan"), which allows eligible independent trustees, as described in the DC Plan, to defer the receipt of all or a portion of the trustees' fees that they are entitled to receive from the Funds. For purposes of determining the amount owed to the trustee under the DC Plan, the amounts deferred are invested in shares of the funds selected by the trustee (the "Notional Funds"). The Funds purchase shares of the Notional Funds, which are all advised by Voya Investments, in amounts equal to the trustees' deferred fees, resulting in a Fund asset equal to the deferred compensation liability. Such assets, if applicable, are included as a component of "Other assets" on the accompanying Statements of Assets and Liabilities. Deferral of trustees' fees under the DC Plan will not affect net assets of the Funds, and will not materially affect the Funds' assets, liabilities or net investment income per share. Amounts will be deferred until distributed in accordance with the DC Plan.

Effective January 1, 2020, the Funds may pay per account fees to affiliates of Voya Investments for recordkeeping services provided on certain assets. For the year ended May 31, 2020, the per account fees for affiliated recordkeeping services paid by each Fund were as follows:

Fund	Amount
Large-Cap Growth	$1,000
Large Cap Value	9,844
MidCap Opportunities	7,391
Multi-Manager Mid Cap Value	—
SmallCap Opportunities	948
U.S. High Dividend Low Volatility	—

NOTE 7 — LICENSING FEE

Effective on the close of business November 15, 2019, Multi-Manager Mid Cap Value pays an annual licensing fee to Frank Russell Company.

NOTE 8 — EXPENSE LIMITATION AGREEMENTS

The Investment Adviser has entered into a written expense limitation agreement ("Expense Limitation Agreement") with each Fund whereby the Investment Adviser has agreed to limit expenses, excluding interest, taxes, investment-related costs, leverage expenses, extraordinary expenses and acquired fund fees and expenses to the levels listed below:

	Class A	Class C	Class I	Class P	Class P3	Class R	Class R6	Class W
Large-Cap Growth	1.15%	1.90%	0.90%	N/A	0.00%	1.40%	0.80%	0.90%

U.S. High Dividend Low Volatility	0.80%	N/A	0.55%	N/A	0.00%	N/A	0.52%	N/A <sup>(1)</sup> Prior to the close of business on November 15, 2019, the expense limit for Multi-Manager Mid Cap Value was 0.90% for Class I.

Pursuant to side letter agreements, through October 1, 2020 (except for MidCap Opportunities and SmallCap Opportunities, which are through October 1, 2021), the Investment Adviser has further lowered the expense limits for the following Funds. If the Investment Adviser elects not to renew a side letter agreement, the expense limits will revert to the limits listed in the table above. There is no guarantee that these side letter agreements will continue. Termination or modification of these obligations requires approval by the Board.

With the exception of the non-recoupable Class P management fee waiver for Multi-Manager Mid Cap Value and unless otherwise specified above, the Investment Adviser may at a later date recoup from a Fund for class specific fees waived and/or other expenses reimbursed by the Investment Adviser during the previous 36 months, but only if, after such recoupment, a Fund's expense ratio does not exceed the percentage described above. Waived and reimbursed fees net of any recoupment by the Investment Adviser of such waived and reimbursed fees are reflected on the accompanying Statements of Operations. Amounts payable by the Investment Adviser are reflected on the accompanying Statements of Assets and Liabilities.

As of May 31, 2020, the amounts of waived and/or reimbursed fees that are subject to possible recoupment by the Investment Adviser, and the related expiration dates are as follows:

	May 31,			Total

NOTE 8 — EXPENSE LIMITATION AGREEMENTS (continued)

In addition to the above waived and/or reimbursed fees, the amount of class specific fees waived or reimbursed that are subject to possible recoupment by the Investment Adviser, and the related expiration dates, as of May 31, 2020, are as follows:

	May 31,			Total
	2021	2022	2023
Large-Cap Growth Class I	$172,502	$ —	$ —	$172,502

The expense limitation agreements are contractual through October 1, 2020 (except for Multi-Manager Mid Cap Value, which is through October 1, 2021) and shall renew automatically for one-year terms. Termination or modification of these obligations requires approval by the Board.

NOTE 9 — LINE OF CREDIT

Effective May 15, 2020, each Fund, in addition to certain other funds managed by the Investment Adviser, has entered into a 364-day unsecured committed revolving line of credit agreement (the "Credit Agreement") with The Bank of New York Mellon ("BNY") for an aggregate amount of $400,000,000 through May 14, 2021. The proceeds may be used only to finance temporarily: (1) the purchase or sale of investment securities; or (2) the repurchase or redemption of shares of a Fund or certain other funds managed by the Investment Adviser. The funds to which the line of credit is available pay a commitment fee equal to 0.15% per annum on the daily unused portion of the committed line amount payable quarterly in arrears. Prior to May 15, 2020, the predecessor line of credit was for an aggregate amount of $400,000,000 and paid a commitment fee equal to 0.15% per annum on the daily unused portion of the committed line amount through May 15, 2020.

Borrowings under the Credit Agreement accrue interest at the federal funds rate plus a specified margin. Repayments generally must be made within 60 days after the date of a revolving credit advance.

The following Funds utilized the line of credit during the year ended May 31, 2020:

Fund	Days Utilized	Approximate Average Daily Balance For Days Utilized	Approximate Weighted Average Interest Rate For Days Utilized

NOTE 11 — SECURITIES LENDING

Under a Master Securities Lending Agreement (the "Agreement") with BNY, the Funds can lend their securities to approved brokers, dealers and other financial institutions. Loans are collateralized by cash and U.S. government securities. The collateral is equal to at least 105% of the market value of non-U.S. securities loaned and 102% of the market value of U.S. securities loaned. The market value of the loaned securities is determined at the Market Close of the Funds at their last sale price or official closing price on the principal exchange or system on which they are traded and any additional collateral is delivered to the Funds on the next business day. The cash collateral received is invested in approved investments as defined in the Agreement with BNY. The Funds bear the risk of loss with respect to the investment of collateral with the following exception: BNY provides the Funds indemnification from loss with respect to the investment of collateral to the extent the cash collateral is invested in overnight repurchase agreements.

Cash collateral received in connection with securities lending is invested in cash equivalents, money market funds, repurchase agreements with maturities of not more than 99 days that are collateralized with U.S. Government securities, or certain short-term investments that have a remaining maturity of 190 days or less ("Permitted Investments"). Short-term investments include: securities, units, shares or other participations in short-term investment funds, pools or trusts; commercial paper, notes, bonds or other debt obligations, certificates of deposit, time deposits and other bank obligations and asset-backed commercial paper backed by diversified receivables and repurchase-backed programs. Permitted Investments are subject to certain guidelines established by the Adviser regarding liquidity, diversification, credit quality and average credit life/duration requirements. The securities purchased with cash collateral received are reflected in the Portfolio of Investments under Short-Term Investments.

Generally, in the event of counterparty default, the Funds have the right to use the collateral to offset losses incurred. The Agreement contains certain guarantees by BNY in the event of counterparty default and/or a borrower's failure to return a loaned security; however, there would be a potential loss to the Funds in the event the Funds are delayed or prevented from exercising their right to dispose of the collateral. Engaging in securities lending could have a leveraging effect, which may intensify the credit, market and other risks associated with investing in a fund.

The following table represents a summary of the Fund's securities lending agreements by counterparty which are subject to offset under the Agreement as of May 31, 2020:

NOTE 13 — LITIGATION

On September 24, 2012, certain Voya mutual funds, including Large Cap Value (the "Subject Fund"), were officially served and included as shareholder defendants in the matter of Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors of the Tribune Company v. FitzSimons, et al. (the "FitzSimons Action"). The FitzSimons Action arises from the Tribune Company ("Tribune") Chapter 11 bankruptcy proceedings before the United States Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware (the "Bankruptcy Court").

In the FitzSimons Action, the plaintiff (a litigation trustee appointed by the Bankruptcy Court, the "Trustee") alleges that Tribune acted with actual intent to defraud its creditors when it redeemed its shares from shareholders as part of a leveraged buy-out ("LBO") of Tribune through which it converted to a privately-held company in 2007, and that those share transfers must now be unwound. To succeed on this claim, the Trustee must prove that Tribune—not the Subject Fund—acted with actual fraudulent intent when Tribune redeemed its shares. With regard to the Subject Fund, the Trustee need only show that the Subject Fund tendered its shares as part of the LBO and not on the open market. The Subject Fund's lack of fraudulent intent in tendering its shares is not a defense to the Trustee's actual fraud claim.

In addition to the FitzSimons Action, various additional actions, which also included the Subject Fund as a defendant, stemming from the same facts and circumstances underlying the FitzSimons Action, were filed in multiple U.S. District Courts (collectively, the "State Law Constructive Fraudulent Transfer Cases"). The plaintiffs in the State Law Constructive Fraudulent Transfer Cases (former creditors of Tribune) allege that these same share redemptions that were part of the LBO were constructively, as opposed to actually, fraudulent. Specifically, those suits assert that the LBO rendered Tribune insolvent, that there was not reasonably equivalent value for the redemptions, and therefore the redemptions are voidable under constructive fraudulent transfer law.

Procedural History of the State Law Constructive Fraudulent Transfer Cases

A motion was filed with the Multidistrict Litigation ("MDL") Panel to consolidate the State Law Constructive Fraudulent Transfer Cases for purposes of all pretrial proceedings. On December 19, 2011, the MDL Panel ordered the State Law Constructive Fraudulent Transfer Cases to be transferred to the Southern District of New York (the "District Court").

On September 23, 2013, the District Court dismissed the claims against the shareholder defendants, holding that the plaintiffs lacked standing to pursue the claims so long as the Trustee in the FitzSimons Action maintained the actual fraudulent transfer claims in the FitzSimons case against the same shareholders.

On December 20, 2013, the plaintiffs appealed the decision to the Second Circuit Court of Appeals (the "Second Circuit"). The Second Circuit affirmed the dismissal on March 24, 2016. The Second Circuit held that Section 546(e) of the Bankruptcy Code barred the state-law fraudulent constructive transfer claims, finding that the claims were preempted because they conflict with the purpose of Section 546(e). On April 12, 2016, the plaintiffs moved for rehearing en banc in the Second Circuit; the motion was subsequently denied. The plaintiffs filed a petition for a writ of certiorari in the United States Supreme Court on September 9, 2016. The shareholder defendants filed their opposition on October 24, 2016, to which the plaintiffs filed a reply on November 4, 2016.

On February 27, 2018, the Supreme Court issued its decision in Merit Management Group v. FTI Consulting ("Merit Management"), a case that, like Tribune, deals with the appropriate scope of section 546(e) of the Bankruptcy Code. On April 3, 2018, the Supreme Court issued a "statement" from two justices announcing that consideration of plaintiffs' certiorari petition would be deferred for an undetermined period of time to "allow" the Second Circuit or the District Court to consider, among other things, whether the Second Circuit's March 2016 decision should be vacated in light of Merit Management. On April 10, 2018, the plaintiffs asked the Second Circuit to vacate its prior decision and remand to the District Court for further proceedings. The shareholder defendants filed an opposition on April 20, 2018. On May 15, 2018, the Second Circuit entered an order recalling the mandate "in anticipation of further panel review." The order did not provide any specific timing for, or guidance on, next steps.

Following the Second Circuit's recall of its prior mandate in light of the Supreme Court's decision in Merit Management, on December 19, 2019, the Second Circuit issued an amended opinion which vacated its prior March 24, 2016 opinion. This amended opinion once again affirmed the dismissal of the case—affirming the Circuit's prior ruling regarding preemption, and holding that Tribune qualified as a "financial institution." A new mandate was also issued. The plaintiffs once again moved for rehearing en banc in connection with this ruling on January 2, 2020, but this request was denied by the Second Circuit on February 6, 2020. On July 6, 2020, the plaintiffs filed a petition for writ of certiorari appealing the Second Circuit's decision up to the Supreme Court.

Procedural History of the FitzSimons Action

Similar to the State Law Constructive Fraudulent Transfer Cases, the FitzSimons Action was transferred to the District Court for pre-trial purposes. On November 20, 2013, the District Court entered an order stating that the FitzSimons Action would remain with the District Court. On January 6, 2017, the District Court dismissed the actual fraudulent transfer claims against the shareholder defendants without leave to replead. Because the January 6 decision did not fully dispose of all claims asserted in the complaint, the Trustee could not automatically appeal the decision. On February 1, 2017, the Trustee sought leave to file a motion for certification of the Motion to Dismiss. On February 23, 2017, the District Court issued an order stating that it intended to delay certification of the Motion to Dismiss until certain other pending motions to dismiss (not involving the shareholder defendants) were resolved.

On July 18, 2017, the Trustee sought permission from the District Court to file a motion seeking leave to amend its complaint to include a constructive fraudulent transfer claim based on the anticipated ruling in Merit Management. On August 24, 2017, the District Court denied the request without prejudice, but noted that affirmance of Merit Management would give the Trustee a strong argument that he should be allowed to amend his complaint. On March 8, 2018, the Trustee renewed his request to amend his complaint to add a constructive fraudulent transfer claim in light of the Merit Management decision. On March 13, 2018, counsel for a number of shareholder defendants (including counsel for the Subject Fund) filed an opposition.

On June 18, 2018, the District Court entered an order staying any decision on the Trustee's request on the grounds that it would be preferable to hold off until the Second Circuit issued a further ruling in the State Law Constructive Fraudulent Transfer Cases. The District Court also instructed the parties to file a joint letter indicating their views on proceeding with efforts to seek to achieve a global resolution of the case. On July 9, 2018, the parties submitted a joint letter that voiced general support for a broad based mediation effort.

On November 30, 2018, Judge Sullivan granted motions to dismiss brought by certain Tribune directors and officers.

This decision did not directly impact the shareholder defendants, and because it did not resolve all of the pending motions to dismiss, it did not facilitate an appeal of the dismissal of claims against the shareholder defendants (which had been dismissed almost two years prior). On December 1, 2018, the FitzSimons Action (along with all other Tribune cases still pending in the District Court) were reassigned from Judge Sullivan to Judge Denise Cote. On December 17, 2018, the Trustee filed a motion for reconsideration of Judge Sullivan's November 30, 2018 decision. On February 12, 2019, Judge Cote denied the Trustee's motion for reconsideration in its entirety.

On March 27, 2019, Judge Cote lifted the stay previously imposed by Judge Sullivan and allowed the Trustee to move to amend the complaint to assert a constructive fraudulent transfer claim. The Trustee filed his motion on April 4, 2019. The shareholder defendants' opposition was filed on April 12, 2019. On April 23, 2019, Judge Cote denied the Trustee's motion. Significantly, Judge Cote held that Tribune qualifies as a "financial institution" under section 546(e) of the Bankruptcy Code.

In mid-July 2019, the Trustee filed a notice of appeal from, among other things, the District Court's order dismissing the intentional fraudulent transfer claims against the shareholder defendants as well as the order denying the Trustee's request to amend the complaint to include constructive fraudulent transfer claims against the shareholder defendants. The Trustee filed his opening brief in early January 2020. The defendants' brief was filed on April 27, 2020 and the Trustee filed a reply brief on May 18, 2020. Oral argument has now been scheduled for August 24, 2020. The Second Circuit has directed that this appeal be heard in tandem with the appeal of the separate suit pursued by the Trustee against financial advisors Citigroup and Merrill Lynch, which has been fully briefed to the Second Circuit and is awaiting oral argument.

Potential Exposure

For the Subject Fund, if the plaintiffs obtain further review of the dismissal of the FitzSimons Action or the State Law Constructive Fraudulent Transfer Cases, and the decision to dismiss these cases is ultimately overturned, the potential exposure of the Subject Fund is the value of all shares sold in conjunction with the LBO transaction (i.e., $1,258,340), plus any pre-judgement interest granted by the court. The Subject Fund believes the claims raised in these actions are without merit and intends to vigorously defend against them.

NOTE 14 — LONDON INTERBANK OFFERED RATE (“LIBOR”)

The U.K. Financial Conduct Authority has announced that it intends to stop persuading or compelling banks to submit LIBOR rates after 2021, and it remains unclear whether LIBOR will continue to exist after that date and, if so, in what form. Actions by regulators have resulted in the establishment of alternative reference rates to LIBOR in many major currencies. The U.S. Federal Reserve Board, based on the recommendations of the New York Federal Reserve’s Alternative Reference Rate Committee (comprised of major derivative market participants and their regulators), has begun publishing a Secured Overnight Funding Rate (“SOFR”) that is intended to replace U.S. dollar LIBOR. Proposals for alternative reference rates for other currencies have also been announced or have already begun publication.

Discontinuance of LIBOR and adoption/implementation of alternative rates pose a number of risks, including among others whether any substitute rate will experience the market participation and liquidity necessary to provide a workable substitute for LIBOR; the effect on parties’ existing contractual arrangements, hedging transactions, and investment strategies generally from a conversion from LIBOR to alternative rates; the effect on a Fund’s existing investments (including, for example, fixed-income investments; senior loans; CLOs and CDOs; and derivatives transactions), including the possibility that some of those investments may terminate or their terms may be adjusted to the disadvantage of a Fund; and the risk of general market disruption during the period of the conversion. It is difficult to predict at this time the likely impact of the transition away from LIBOR on a Fund.

NOTE 15 — LIQUIDITY

Consistent with Rule 22e-4 under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended, the Funds have established a liquidity risk management program to govern their approach to managing liquidity risk (the “Program”). The Board has approved the designation of the Funds’ Adviser, Voya Investments, LLC, as the program administrator (the “Program Administrator”). The Program Administrator is responsible for implementing and monitoring the Program and has formed a Liquidity Risk Management Committee (the “Committee”) to assess and review, on an ongoing basis, each Fund’s liquidity risk.

The Program includes a number of elements that support the management and assessment of liquidity risk, including an annual assessment of liquidity risk factors and the periodic classification (or re-classification, as necessary) of a Fund’s investments into buckets (highly liquid, moderately liquid, less liquid and illiquid) that reflect the Committee’s assessment of the investments’ liquidity under current market conditions. The Committee also utilizes Fund-specific data, including information regarding a Fund’s shareholder base, characteristics of its investments, access to borrowing arrangements and historical redemptions to determine whether a Fund will be able to meet its redemption obligations in a timely manner.

During the period covered by the report, December 1, 2018 through December 31, 2019, the Program supported the Funds’ ability to honor redemption requests timely and the Program Administrator’s management of each Fund’s liquidity risk, including during any periods of market volatility and net redemptions.

There can be no assurance that the Program will achieve its objectives under all circumstances in the future. Please refer to each Fund’s prospectus for more information regarding each Fund’s exposure to liquidity risk and other risks.

NOTE 16 — MARKET DISRUPTION

A Fund is subject to the risk that geopolitical events will disrupt securities markets and adversely affect global economies and markets. Due to the increasing interdependence among global economies and markets, conditions in one country, market, or region might adversely impact markets, issuers and/or foreign exchange rates in other countries, including the United States. War, terrorism, global health crises and pandemics, and other geopolitical events have led, and in the future may lead, to increased market volatility and may have adverse short- or long-term effects on U.S. and world economies and markets generally. For example, the recent COVID-19 pandemic has resulted, and may continue to result, in significant market volatility, exchange trading suspensions and closures, declines in global financial markets, higher default rates, and a substantial economic downturn in economies throughout the world. Natural and environmental disasters and systemic market dislocations are also highly disruptive to economies and markets. Those events as well as other changes in non-U.S. and domestic economic, social, and political conditions also could adversely affect individual issuers or related groups of issuers, securities markets, interest rates, credit ratings, inflation, investor sentiment, and other factors affecting the value of the investments of the portfolio and of the Funds. Any of these occurrences could disrupt the operations of a Fund and of the Funds’ service providers.

NOTE 17 — OTHER ACCOUNTING PRONOUNCEMENTS

The Funds have made a change in accounting principle and adopted the provisions of Financial Accounting

Standards Board (“FASB”) Accounting Standards Update 2017-08 (“ASU 2017-08”), Premium Amortization on Purchased Callable Debt Securities. ASU 2017-08 shortens the amortization period for certain callable debt securities held at a premium; specifically, requiring the premium to be amortized to the earliest call date. Prior to ASU 2017-08, premiums on callable debt securities were generally amortized to maturity date. ASU 2017-08 is intended to more closely align the amortization period with the expectations incorporated into the market pricing on the underlying security. ASU 2017-08 does not require an accounting change for securities held at a discount; the discount continues to be amortized to maturity date. Upon evaluation, the Funds have concluded that the adoption of the new accounting principle does not materially impact the financial statement amounts and is not applicable given the Funds do not hold callable debt securities.

Also, in August 2018, the FASB issued Accounting Standards Update 2018-13, Fair Value Measurement (Topic 820): Disclosure Framework — Changes to the Disclosure Requirements for Fair Value Measurement (“ASU 2018-13”). The update provides guidance that eliminates, adds and modifies certain disclosure requirements for fair value measurements. ASU 2018-13 will be effective for annual periods beginning after December 15, 2019 and interim periods within those annual periods. At this time, the Funds have elected to early adopt the amendments that allow for removal of disclosure requirements related to transfers between Level 1 and Level 2 of the fair value hierarchy and the timing of transfers between levels of the fair value hierarchy. These changes did not have a material impact on the Funds’ financial statements. The Funds plan to adopt the amendments that require additional fair value measurement disclosures for annual periods beginning after December 15, 2019, and interim periods within those annual periods. The Funds are currently evaluating the impact of these changes on the financial statements.
