

OBJECTIVE

To seek to provide capital growth and appreciation.

INVESTMENT APPROACH

Our investment style is based on a blend between bottom-up fundamental stock and sector analysis, coupled with a top-down macroeconomic perspective that we use to guide our selection of industries and sector weightings. The Fund may invest in securities of companies across the valuation spectrum, including securities issued by growth and value companies. We look at a number of factors in selecting securities, including stability and predictability of earnings growth, acceleration of earnings and/or revenue, improvement in profitability and market share, and sustainable generation of cashflows from operations.

Data quoted is past performance and current performance may be lower or higher. Past performance is no guarantee of future results. Investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate, and shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Please visit ivyinvestments.com for the most recent month-end performance. Total returns include share price changes and reinvestment of dividends and capital gains, if any.

1 Performance at net asset value (NAV) does not include the effect of sales charges. Returns for periods less than 1 Year are not annualized. Class A share performance, including sales charges, reflects the maximum applicable front-end sales load of 3.50%. For Class C shares, a 1% CDSC applies to the lesser of amount invested or redemption value of shares redeemed within twelve months after the purchase date. Class I and Class R6 shares are sold without any front-end sales load or contingent deferred sales charges, and both share classes are only available to certain types of investors. The Waddell & Reed Advisors Accumulative Fund did not have Class R6 shares or their equivalent. Accordingly, this share class has a short performance history. 2 The Russell 3000 Growth Index measures the performance of the largest 3,000 U.S. companies representing approximately 98% of the investable U.S. equity market, with higher growth earning potential as defined by Russell's style methodology. It is not possible to invest directly in an index. The Morningstar Large Growth Category compares funds that invest primarily in big US companies that are projected to grow faster than other large-cap stocks. Growth is defined based on fast growth (high growth rates for earnings, sales, book value, and cash flow) and high valuations (high price ratios and low dividend yields). 3 Net expense ratio reflects a contractual waiver of certain fees and/or expense reimbursements through July 31, 2021. Please see the fee table in the Fund's prospectus for more information.

Waddell & Reed Advisors (WRA) Accumulative Fund merged into Ivy Accumulative Fund on Feb. 26, 2018. The returns shown prior to this date reflect the performance of WRA Accumulative Fund, which was inceptioned on Oct. 9, 1940. Ivy Accumulative Fund adopted that performance as the result of a reorganization in which it acquired all assets and liabilities of WRA Accumulative Fund.

Effective July 1, 2021, Class N shares were renamed Class R6 shares. Class R6 Shares have no performance history as of 7/31/2014. Performance prior to that date is the Fund's Class I share class performance restated to reflect the Class R6 (formerly Class N) total annual fund operating expenses as of 7/31/2014. Class R6 (formerly Class N) shares will have substantially similar returns to Class I shares of the Fund, though returns will be different to the extent that expenses differ among the classes. Class R6 (formerly Class N) shares are only available to certain types of investors. Please see the Fund's prospectus for additional information.

<sup>4</sup> Price/Earnings Ratio (P/E (LTM)) measures a company's current share price compared to its per-share earnings over the last twelve months. ROE measures a company's financial performance by dividing net income by shareholders' equity. <sup>5</sup> Alpha is a measure of a fund's actual returns and expected performance, given its level of risk (as measured by Beta). Beta reflects the sensitivity of the fund's return to fluctuations in the market index. Standard Deviation is a measure of how volatile a fund's returns are. Sharpe and Information Ratios are a measure of a fund's risk-adjusted performance. Capture Ratio reflects the annualized product of fund vs. index returns for all months in which the index had a positive return (Upside Capture Ratio) or negative return (Downside Capture Ratio). R-Squared indicates how much of a fund's fluctuations are attributable to movements in the fund's benchmark. <sup>6</sup> Information is subject to change and is not intended to represent any past or future investment recommendations.

Risk Factors: Investing involves risk, including the possible loss of principal. The value of the Fund's shares will change, and you could lose money on your investment. Large-capitalization companies may go in and out of favor based on market and economic conditions. Prices of growth stocks may be more sensitive to changes in current or expected earnings than the prices of other stocks. Growth stocks may be more volatile or not perform as well as value stocks or the stock market in general. The Fund typically holds a limited number of stocks (generally 35 to 50). As a result, the appreciation or depreciation of any one security held by the Fund may have a greater impact on the Fund's net asset value than it would if the Fund invested in a larger number of securities. These and other risks are more fully described in the Fund's prospectus. Not all funds or fund classes may be offered at all broker/dealers.

The disruptions caused by natural disasters, pandemics, or similar events could prevent the Fund from executing advantageous investment decisions in a timely manner and could negatively impact the Fund's ability to achieve its investment objective and the value of the Fund's investments.
