INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE AND STRATEGY

The fund seeks long-term capital growth and current income primarily through investments in non-U.S. stocks.

Focus on companies with favorable prospects for capital appreciation that exhibit value characteristics.

Broadly diversify, primarily among the world's developed countries.

Securities are chosen based on "bottom-up" research.

Country allocation is driven largely by stock selection.

BENEFITS AND RISKS

Broader investment opportunity—the world's best companies are not only in the United States.

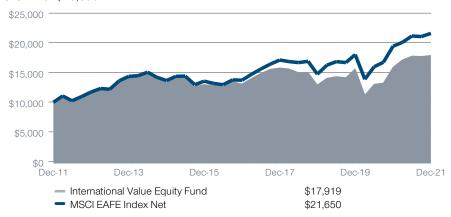

Over long periods, international investing offers diversification benefits relative to an all-U.S. portfolio. Of course, diversification cannot assure a profit or protect against loss in a declining market

Dividend income can help limit downside risk.

Investing internationally involves special risks, including economic and political uncertainty and currency fluctuation.

Definitions

Beta: A measure of market risk of an investment option that shows how responsive the investment is to a given market index, such as the Standard & Poor's 500 Index. By definition, the beta of the benchmark is 1.00. An investment with a beta of 1.10 is expected to perform 10% better than the index in up markets and 10% worse in down markets. Usually, higher betas represent riskier investments. Figures are calculated using monthly data and are net of fees.

Additional Disclosures
