About the fund

ProShares Online Retail ETF (ONLN) lets investors tap into the potential growth of online retail by pinpointing retailers that principally sell online or through other non-store channels, and then zeroing in on the companies reshaping the retail space, like Amazon and Alibaba.

- Online retail is soaring: Online retail has fundamentally disrupted the sector, putting pressure on traditional stores and the changing retail landscape.
- It may only be the beginning: Just under 60% of the world's population is currently online. But mobile devices are proliferating, especially in developing markets, potentially creating new e-commerce consumers.
- Not all online retailers are created equal: Iconic companies in online retail, like Amazon and Alibaba, are reshaping the retail world. ONLN's modified market-cap weighting puts emphasis on these leaders, while also providing industry diversification.

The performance quoted represents past performance and does not guarantee future results. Investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when sold or redeemed, may be worth more or less than the original cost. Shares are bought and sold at market price (not NAV) and are not individually redeemed from the fund. Market price returns are based upon the midpoint of the bid/ask spread at 4:00 p.m. ET (when NAV is normally determined for most funds) and do not represent the returns you would receive if you traded shares at other times. Brokerage commissions will reduce returns. Index performance does not reflect any management fees, transaction costs or expenses. Indexes are unmanaged and one cannot invest directly in any index. Small- and mid-cap companies may lack the financial and personnel resources to handle economic or industry-wide setbacks and, as a result, such setbacks could have a greater effect on small- and mid-cap security prices.  See prospectus For additional risks, please read the prospectus carefully.

Sources: ProShares, We Are Social, DataReportal, Hootsuite, January 2021 <sup>3</sup>Volatility is measured by standard deviation, a statistical measure of the variability of a portfolio's returns over a period of time. A higher standard deviation implies more risk. Here, standard deviation is annualized. <sup>4</sup>Constituents are subject to change. <sup>5</sup>Sum of weightings may not equal 100% due to rounding; weightings may fluctuate between monthly rebalances.
