Mutual fund investing involves risk; Principal loss is possible. A non-diversified fund, one that may concentrate its assets in fewer holdings than a diversified fund, is more exposed to individual stock volatility than a diversified fund. Small and medium-sized companies may have more limited liquidity and greater price volatility than larger companies. Investments in foreign securities may involve political, economic, and currency risk, greater volatility, and differences in accounting method. Funds concentrated in one or more industry sectors may be subject to a higher degree of market risk.

Each Morningstar category average represents a universe of funds with similar objectives.

The Russell 3000® Index is an unmanaged index commonly used to measure the performance of U.S. stocks. The Russell Midcap® Growth Index is an unmanaged index commonly used to measure the performance of U.S. medium-capitalization growth stocks. One cannot invest directly in an index.

Alpha measures the fund's excess return relative to the return of the benchmark. Beta measures the volatility of the fund compared to that of the benchmark. The beta of the benchmark is 1.00. Capture ratios measure the fund's overall performance in up markets (positive return periods) and down markets (negative return periods). Price/Earnings measures a stock's price per share compared to earnings. Price/Book measures a stock's price per share to book value. Active Share is a measure of the percentage of stock holdings in a portfolio that differ from the benchmark index.
