INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE AND STRATEGY

The fund seeks to provide long-term capital appreciation by investing in common stocks believed to be undervalued. Income is a secondary objective.

Focus on “bargain” stocks that offer an opportunity for capital appreciation as other investors recognize the company’s real value.

Intensive in-house research identifies undervalued stocks by considering, among other factors, key financial ratios:

- Price/earnings
- Price/book value
- Price/cash flow

BENEFITS AND RISKS

Exposure to the capital appreciation potential of undervalued stocks.

Potential for reduced downside risk relative to the overall market.

Potentially lower price appreciation compared with a growth fund.

Possibility that a stock judged to be undervalued is actually appropriately priced.

CUMULATIVE RETURNS

Growth of $10,000

Definitions

Beta: A measure of market risk of an investment option that shows how responsive the investment is to a given market index, such as the Standard & Poor's 500 Index. By definition, the beta of the benchmark is 1.00. An investment with a beta of 1.10 is expected to perform 10% better than the index in up markets and 10% worse in down markets. Usually, higher betas represent riskier investments. Figures are calculated using monthly data and are net of fees.
