REQUIRED BUSINESS PERFORMANCE® PROBABILITY (RBP®)

RBP® quantifies the probability of whether a stock can perform according to market expectations by measuring the likelihood that the company's management can achieve the Required Business Performance to support its current valuation or if investors' systematic behavioral biases might have caused misalignment between the stock price and management's ability to deliver. RBP® probability cannot guarantee nor does it predict profit, performance, or future stock prices.

Fund Highlights and Applications

- Invests in U.S. large-capitalization companies believed to have a high RBP® probability, while avoiding companies believed to have the most behavioral risk.
- Invests in companies with historically below-average sensitivity to market movements.
- Applies RBP® proprietary methodology within a portfolio construction process optimized to manage active risk and target defensive characteristics.

Index Construction Process

The Guggenheim RBP® Large-Cap Defensive IndexSM selects stocks from the Dow Jones U.S. Large-Cap Total Stock Market IndexSM to maximize the portfolio's RBP® probability, while constraining its market sensitivity to be below average and limiting other unintended risk exposures relative to the benchmark.

Risk Considerations: This fund may not be suitable for all investors. The fund seeks to track a quantitative strategy indexes and, as a result, may have lower returns than other types of index-based strategies. An investment in the Guggenheim RBP® Large-Cap Defensive Fund involves risk, including loss of principal. Since the fund invests in securities comprising an index created by a proprietary model, the fund may have a lower return than if the fund were managed using a fundamental or index-based strategy that did not incorporate quantitative analysis. The fund's return may not match or achieve a high degree of correlation with the return of the index. The large-capitalization companies in which the fund invests may underperform other segments of the equity market or the equity market as a whole. The fund's assets will only be concentrated in an industry or group of industries to the extent that the index concentrates in a particular industry or group of industries. By concentrating its assets in a single industry or group of industries, the fund is subject to the risk that economic, political, or other conditions that have a negative effect on that industry or group of industries will negatively impact the fund to a greater extent than if the fund's assets were invested in a wider variety of industries. The fund is subject to risks related to investments in REITs, including fluctuations in the value of underlying properties, defaults by borrowers or tenants, lack of diversification, heavy cash flow dependency, self-liquidation, and potential failure to qualify for tax-free pass through of income and exemption from registration as an investment company. The fund may also invest in derivative instruments, investments whose values depend on the performance of an underlying security, asset, interest rate, index, or currency and entail potentially higher volatility and risk of loss compared to traditional stock or bond investments. Interest Rate Risk: The fund may invest in fixed-income securities that change in value based on changes in interest rates. If rates increase, the value of these investments generally declines.

Index Definitions: The Guggenheim RBP® Large-Cap Defensive IndexSM consists of 100 stocks in the Dow Jones U.S. Large-Cap Total Stock Market IndexSM that are believed to have below average economic and market sensitivity, below average exposure to market volatility and highest RBP® probabilities. The Dow Jones U.S. Large-Cap Total Stock Market IndexSM is a subset of the Dow Jones U.S. Total Stock Market IndexSM, which measures all U.S. equity securities with readily available prices. It includes stocks among the largest 750.

Terms: Market Cap Current market cap is the sum of the market capitalization of all classes of common stock, in millions. P/E Ratio (Price-to-Earnings Ratio): The price of a stock divided by its historical earnings per share. Beta: A measure of a given stock's volatility in relation to the volatility of a specific market. A stock that is more volatile than the market over time tends to have a beta above 1.0. If a stock is less volatile than the market over time, the stock's beta tends to be less than 1.0. For the purpose of this report, beta is calculated over the prior three years using daily total returns compared to the total returns of the Dow Jones U.S. Total Stock Market IndexSM.
